Memory of King Humbert Insuited and Government Refuses to Give Satisfaction.

Berne, Switzerland, April 10 .- Diplomatic relations between Switzerland action arises from the refusal of Switzerland to give satisfaction regarding an article published in Geneva insulting the memory of the murdered King

The Bundesrath has sent the follow ing communication to Parliament :-Regrettable misunderstandings have occurred between us and Signer Silvestrelli, the Italian Minister. We have felt constrained to request the Italian government, in the interests of the good relations of the two counthe good relations of the two countries, to recall Signor Silvestrelli. The Italian government having refused to do so, we broke off relations with Sig-nor Silvestrelli, whereupon the Italian government, on its part, has now broken off relations with our Minister at Rome. We shall publish the documents relating to this conflict."

The article which led to the differ ences appeared in an Anarchist sheet published in Geneva. Signor Silves-trelli demanded that the authorities prosecute the paper, but the Swiss Government replied that it could not act without a complaint being formally lodged by the Italian Government Italy declined to adopt this course and the correspondence became acrimonious, leading finally to the rup ture of diplomatic relations.

poor little two weeks' old baby was left on the door step of the residence of William Cameron, King street east, last evening. The police as yet have no clue to the heartless person who left the child there. It was wrapped up in fairly good clothes but there was no mark on the linen by which the child would be identified. It is a girl baby, evidently the child of a colored mother.

About nine o'clock last evening Botha, Steyn, DeWet, Delarey, Chas, Waggoner, who boards with Mr. Cameron, and during the day drives J. P. Taylor's delivery wagon, discovered the baby on the front steps. He at once notified Mrs. Cameron and the little foundling was taken inside and cared for. The fellow and one of the girls were good runners and got away, but the two girls were captured. They proved, however, not to be the ones wanted and were let go. The two couldn't go away, nevertheless, as the fellow had the tickets and be never came back. Just who and he never came back. Just who this quartet were and why they ran is not known, and the police refuse to divulge anything.

Chas. Waggoner, the lad who found the baby, is a bright young fellow of eighteen years. Judge Houston asked the boy this morning if the baby was black or white and Waggoner replied that he thought it was "a little of both."

The police are having lots of fun suggesting that James Dodson adopt the child as his own, as he has no

COMMITTED TO ITS ROCK TOMB

A Heartless Parent Sought to The Body of Cecil Rhodes Laid Away in the Matoppo

> Procession Five Miles in Length Through Hills and Gorges Witnesses Ceremony.

Buluwayo, Matabeleland, April 10-To-day, amid an immense throng of soldiers, civilians and natives, the body of Cecil Rhodes was committed to its rock tomb in the Matoppo Hills. The coffin was shrouded in a Union Jack, and the wreath sent by Queen Alexandra was laid upon it as it was lowered into the grave. The funeral party started from Fuller's Hotel early this morning. The procession was five miles long, as it wound through the hills and gorges. Every sort of conveyance was made use of. Some were on foot, others were on horseback or on bicycles, while still others were in wagons and carriages. When sure, but looking very pale. Presthe procession was a mile from the grave everybody dismounted and con-Chief of Police were notified and the cluded the journey on foot. Twelve oxen hauled the coffin to the almost where the Chiefs, Shombli, Faku and Umgala and two thousand natives had assembled to witness the Christian burial rites, which they afterwards supplemented in their own fashion, by the sacrifice of 15 oxen to the shade of the great dead chief. Thousands of white persons congregated around the wind-swept hill. The grave was encircled by six boulders. The internent was extremely impressive. The Dead March echoed through the hills and the natives stood like statues. Tears were in the eyes of many of the onlookers.

The Bishop of Mashonaland, who conducted the burial service, said:— "I consecrate this place forever. Here he thought, here he lived and died for the Empire."

When the coffin was lowered into the tomb chiselled in the solid rock, all those present sang "Old Hundredth" and "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er." The remainder of the funeral service was chanted and the band played "the Dead March in Saul," The tomb Dead March in Saul." was covered with wreaths.

At the close of the ceremony, those present slowly inspected the spot where Mr. Rhodes is buried, and threw flowers upon his grave. James, Col. Francis Rhodes, and all of the other mourners, left Buluwayo tonight on a special train.

MURDERED CANADIANS

Special to The Planet.

Ottawa, April 10 .- The Governor-General has received a cable from the Casualty Department at Cape Town, stating that Lord Kitchener has confirmed the death of Corporal Wm. A. Knisley, of Selkirk, Ont., and R. B. Day, of Shallow Lake, Ont., who, he says, were shot on April 2nd, between Boschhult and Klerksdorp. This statement would seem to indicate that the men were shot by the Boers after being taken prisoners. They were first reported dead by released prisoners, and as they were not shot until two days after the battle at Kleinhardt's River, it is evident that they must have suffered death at the hands of the Boers.

The mud being taken off William street is being used to fill up a well back of Park Bros. foundry. One of the carters, named Isaac Groat, was backing his cart up to unload it when it became too heavy at the back and threw him over. He landed astride of the well, having a very narrow es-most shocking murders in Michigan police annals occurred in Detroit last night, the victim being Miss Annie Jennet, a young woman, aged 22 years, a daughter of Jas. R. Jennet, a cabinet-maker. Her murderer broke her neck, crushed her skull with a club, stabbed and cut her a dozen times about the neck and face with a knife, and then finished his awful work by nearly severing her head from her body with an axe or cleaver. In five months the girl would have

For the past three years Miller had given Miss Jennet music lessons, and the police believe there is now every evidence that he was her betrayer, as well as murderer; that he committed one crime in the desperate hope of hiding another. A chain of incriminating circumstances wound itself about him in a surprisingly short time this morning, and at Grand River Ave. po-lice station Miller turned pale, reeled, and would have fallen to the floor had not a sergeant caught him in his

he was the murderer. Miller was found at his home about nine o'clock this morning by Detective Baker, and when questioned as to when he had last seen Miss Jennet, evinced such nervousness and hesita-tion in answering questions that he was taken to headquarters. Up to this time there was no clue fastening the crime even remotely upon the music teacher.
