FUTURE TRADE PROSPECTS.

It is in the face of all this, that it is not to be denied that the United States is unwilling to concede to us that which all admit would probably be of advantage to Canada as a whole.

CABINET MINISTERS SPEAK

WHAT THEY HAVE TO SAY REGARDING THE MCKINLEY BILL.

Mr. John Thompson said at a public meeting on Thursday last, when both spoke at length on the probable effect that would follow the passing of the McKinley Bill.

The weather was unfavorable for an outdoor demonstration and accordingly a meeting was held in the Music hall that evening.

Mr. Thompson said that the McKinley Bill was not a tariff but a trade agreement between the two countries.
