THE EVENING TELEGRAM, LIMITED, PROPRIETORS.

St. John's, Newfoundland, May 16, 1924.

Poverty or Prosperity? Your Choice!

We have been for several years struggling against poverty, poverty which has been sapping the life-blood from the veins of our sturdy people and crushing that spirit of independence which has ever been our proudest boast. What has been the remedy applied, and what has been the result? Mismanagement and greed killed the industries and in place of the strangled occupations which produced something of benefit to the whole country, relief work was substituted. THAT WAS THE

What was the result? Repressed by poverty, disheartened by the impossibility of making an honest living in the regular way, the result of the dole or the relief work was to create discontent and undermine the moral tone of the people. To weaken them still further, the leech was applied in the form of the grafter, to satisfy whose greed millions of the people's money were required, and this was extorted by adding to the burden of taxa-

Is it any wonder that the affairs of the country stagnated? The wheels of industry were at a standstill, but the mill which ground further taxes out of the people continued its deadly work

The one thing that surprises the world is that under such conditions Newfoundland survived, or that a spark of vitality was left in her people. Then came the climax which brought about the necessity for an election. Who saw his opportunity and made the moves which would make him master of the situation? THE CZAR OF THE NORTH, and for a time he dominated the public stage.

The effect upon the people was startling in its suddenness. In the Union of Coaker, the maker of the Fish Regulations, and A. E. Hickman, the merchant prince who was formerly his bitterest opponent, the game was exposed. In the line-up of the Government forces with Coaker's satellites occupying the chief posts of command, the people saw his design. At once the spark of life that remained in them kindled into a flame, and from one end of the country to the other came the demand for a Leader who possessed the courage and ability to meet the threatening danger and avert it.

THE CALL WAS NOT MADE IN VAIN!

In the days of 1783, England was on the verge of collapse owing to the continued blunders and tyranny of Lord North, and Thought to be when he formed the unnatural coalition with Fox, the situation looked desperate, but the occasion produced a Man in the younger Pitt, who not only averted the danger, but paved the way to a period of prosperity and power greater than England had ever experienced or even anticipated.

beriod of prosperity and power greater than England had ever berienced or even anticipated.

In the hour of peril, Newfoundland too has produced the in the person of W. S. MONROE. Proclaimed by the People in the person of W. S. MONROE. Proclaimed by the People in the matters the Crown deems it not advisable to have the cases pending brought up during the election contest. Man in the person of W. S. MONROE. Proclaimed by the People, supporters have flocked to his standard, and to-day he has in the field men who have sworn to give him loyal service in the test. campaign which he has undertaken.

The picture of Newfoundland in her darkest hour was full of forboding. The picture of Newfoundland governed as MON-ROE is determined that it SHALL BE GOVERNED is one of HOPE. With an end first to corruption and extravagance and a virile, business-like administration in control, the day is not far off when this stricken land will again become the home of a control to the imperial oil co. has arrived in prosperous, happy, and industrious people.
