

The Ranger Enquiry

The secretary sitting of the Court Enquiry, one witness was called, Engineer John Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, cross-examined by the counsel, was asked to state whether or not he was at the boiler when the explosion took place.

His work entails taking the engine apart and supervising the work. Last year the boiler of the ship was shipped and sealed inside the boiler.

The firemen were at the boiler when the explosion took place. The boiler was thoroughly checked and sealed.

Witness was in the boiler last summer and he examined it. He never saw anything wrong with it.

He was satisfied to go to sea. He does not know how the boiler was sealed.

Witness had been in the boiler when the explosion took place. He was not at the boiler when the explosion took place.

They are a Most Wonderful Medicine

So Says Ontario Lady of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Miss M. Austin suffered from Kidney trouble and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Guelph, Ont., May 8.—(Special).—The sterling value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a kidney remedy is again shown by the following statement from Miss M. Austin, a resident here.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful medicine. I suffered with kidney trouble and they could not have benefited anyone more. They were most satisfactory."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They have become a family remedy all over the world because people have tried and found them good. They are purely and simply a Kidney remedy. They help Rheumatism, Lumbago, Diabetes, Lame Back, Heart Disease and Urinary troubles because all of these are either Kidney diseases, or are caused by the kidneys failing to do their work.

"Oh, To Be In England—"

By VILDA SAUVAGE OWENS.

"Oh, to be in England, now that April's there."

The little lanes of England, From Cumberland to Kew, Are dressing up in Spring.

In the April dew, Kingcups, daffodils, Tall yellow broom, Will mark the road to London in a blaze of bloom.

Oh, the red cliffs of Devon, And the white cliffs of Kent! And the wild, sweet scent—Of thyme in the rain.

When the wind blows over From the Wolds to the Weald, on its Way to Dover!

There's a wild briar-rose And a blue harebell In a little green lane By Robin Hood's Well.

And down by the pool Is a pink hedgerow. There'll be poppies through the corn, When the Buttercups go.

Oh, it's wild on the moor, Where the swift Dart flows. And it's bare on the hills, And a bleak wind blows. But the April fairies (And the elves, of course) Are making coats of heather and Gowns of gorse.

Dove Nest, Watersmeet, Canterbury Town, God's Hill, Fairy Cross, Little's Berry Down—Dear names of melody, Soft as a prayer.

There's love in the English lanes, and—April's there!

As Little Jack Rabbit and the Yellow Dog Tramp hurried through the Shady Forest, the bunny boy holding tight to the old dog's silky ear for fear that Old Man Weasel might suddenly dart out from behind a stone, they met the Circus Elephant. The big, lumbering fellow carried a small red flag in his trunk—big pardon, I mean the little finger at the end of trunk held a red flag.

"Hello, there's my dear old circus friend," cried the little rabbit, forgetting all about his troubles and his narrow escape in the last story from Old Man Weasel. Isn't it lucky, Little Reader, that when we are young we so easily forget troubles. Sometimes we forget other things, too. An errand for Mother, maybe. That's why we should always listen quietly when she asks us to do something for her.

"Well, well, well. Here's my little bunny and the good Yellow Dog Tramp," exclaimed the Circus Elephant. "Our show is coming to Rabbittown next week. I was just on my way to leave some tickets at the dear old Bramble Patch."

"Come with us," cried the happy little rabbit. "Mother will be glad to see you."

"All right," answered the big beast, and he trotted after them down the Shady Forest Trail until, by and by, not so very long nor so very far, they came to the Old Lady Fence that ran all around the Sunny Meadow, on which Mrs. Cow was eating the green grass.

"Wait a minute till I take down the bars," said the Circus Elephant. "I'm too big to crawl through and too clumsy to jump over," and with his strong trunk he easily set aside the long rails that fitted so nicely into the post holes and walked onto the meadow.

"Goodness me, what do I see," exclaimed Granddaddy Bullfrog, looking up from his log in the Old Duck Pond. "Is a procession coming down the Old Cow Path? Circus must be coming to town. I wonder where is the funny clown?"

"Look who's here," shouted Timmie Meadowmouse. "Our circus friend with the Yellow Dog Tramp and bunny boy."

By this time the three friends had reached the tiny gate in the white picket fence around the dear Old Bramble Patch.

"Don't be gone too long, I say. I can't wait out here all day. Here are tickets for the show. Hope sweet Lady Love will go."

"Of course Mother will," shouted back the little rabbit as he and the Yellow Dog Tramp ran up the winding path through the bushes to the little white house in the middle of the little white house in the middle of the meadow.

And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.
