grouped. This is meant to cheer him up. Washington flourished before parties were known. Jefferson invented the Democrats; Abraham Lincoln invented the Republicans. The medallions remind the third party man that all parties are like his in their beginnings. They have to be fusion parties before they became regular ones. Yet another third party sign is the anthem he sings. The refrain is: "We'll Hang the Grand Old Party on a Sour Apple Lord Montagu Writes on the before they became regular ones. Yet another third party sign is the anthem Tree," and the tune is "John Brown's Body." THIRD PARTY A RELIGION.

. This anthem is sung ever and anon in moments of great emotion, which occur quite often at an American political convention. The word "anthem" occur quite often at an American politics. It is a religion. When BUT FORESEES DISASTER the convention passes a resolution to hear Theodore Roosevelt speak, it is more than mere parliamentary procedure—it is an act of worship.

SPIRITUAL SIGNS.

The inward and more spiritual signs of the third party man are many. There is faith on his brow, hope in his eyes, determination on his chin. Also there is a glad light in his face because he has what others have not. He believes the third party has been likened to a frog sitting by a pond. You don't know which way it is going to jump when you prod it, but the chances methods of Canadian farming, from are ten to one it will jump into the water. What if it does, says the third who recently visited the Dominion. are ten to one it will jump into the water. What it it does, says the third party man? It's the other side we want to swim to. Nobody has license to laugh at the third party. These are they who have passed through the fire, having been fired, so to speak, from both parties.

SOME TEETH MISSING.

Looking over the Coliseum, one notices that the bull moose has lost several of his front teeth. The Roosevelt teeth are a household word. The public wan, Manitoba and Ontario, lies the Consequently, the colored brother has been, as you in ght say, extracted. The credentials com-mittee has pulled him out of the convention. He can sit there, but no can't vote. This corkserew compromise is the best the "square deal" can do for the colored brother. He suffers for the cause. If he feels like a pulled tooth with an ingrowing root, he can reflect that he is a martyr, and there must be martyrs or there would be no progress, and if there were no progress there would be no National Progresthe colored brother. Outside of that his zeal for the movement is entirely disinterested.

Over 1,000 yards of Beautiful Cotton Voites and Dress Muslins have been measured and are ready for sale on Wednesday morning. Our entire stock of present season, amongst which are many pretty colorings in French printed designs, the majority of which are priced at just half, in order to clear quickly and make room for new fall stocks.

At the end of the season it is our custom to clear all Summer Dress Muslins rather than carry any over to another season. This season we are giving you a little advantage by bringing this sale on a little earlier than usual, so that many, who, owing to the cool summer so far, have put off having a new muslin or voile dress, may take advantage of this sale and save the half and still have half the present summer to wear it. Many are in pretty styles for party dresses for winter wear, and scores of women wait for this sale annually for their muslin supply. We cannot describe the different lines in this assortment; the prices are the main issue in a clearance of this kind. But we might say that the choicest styles and colorings for ladies' summer and evening dresses are all grouped in these prices, both light and dark grounds; some bordered pieces, as stated above, 5¢, 10¢ and 25¢, worth regular 10c to 50c vard.

Be on hand early for the choice, as many of the pretty colorings are in one or two dress lengths only. The 5c and 10c lots will go in a hurry, and are excellent qualities and colorings for sacques and dresses. Sale begins at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

The Good Old-Fashioned Make of Black and Colored Dress Silks Here

Sometimes we hear the statement that Silks of today do not stand like those of years ago You can buy just as good Silks now. But when you consider the vast amount of Silk used today, even for ordinary wear, and also the changing styles from season to season, it is only reasonable that customers demand a Silk that will at least outwear the style. But, again, there are many who want a good Silk where quality alone stands out pre-eminently, and these same good old-fashioned makes will be much in vogue the coming season. Afready we are showing a good variety for fall season, 1912. To know the real value of these, you should handle them in the piece.
