ORGANIZE JUNIOR C. OF C. IN LONDON IN FORM OF CLUB

Round Table Club Hold First Meeting With Forty Present.

HEAR ABOUT BANKING

With an attendance of forty members and under the most auspicious circumstances, the "Round Table Club," a younger brother of the London Chamber of Commerce, was launched last night on the sea of progress and membership in the companionship of young men's clubs in the city.

Organized by a few of the directors of the chamber with the definite idea of an appeal to the younger businessmen of the city for greater interest and knowledge in the affairs of national, provincial and civic happenings, it is essentially an analytical club, in which, through discussion, the subjects on which addresses are to be given during the winter by men who are recognized as particularly well qualified to speak will be better and more fully understood by members.

Speaks on Banking.
With E. V. Buchanan, in the chair, Gerald Pearson, manager of the market branch of the Bank of Mon-real in London, had the honor of being the first speaker to address the new club. Taking as his subject "Functions of the Bank in Modern Business," Mr. Pearson in a very complete and concise narrative outlined the history of banking in Canada, the present banking act, its strength and protection for the depositor, provided the management of the bank is in the hands of honest men, and the general tenor of the country by Canadian bankers.

He upheld both the working system of banking in Canada, whereby sixteen chartered banks with numerous branches were in operation, as compared to the American system with its 30,000 separate banking institutions, and the Canadian system of training men, moving them from one position to another and from one city to another, so that they have a cosmopolitan experience which must stand them in good stead when they become in turn managers of banks.

Discussion Follows.
Professor E. H. Morrow, speaking during the discussion, congratulated the speaker on the thoroughness of his treatment of the subject. He added that if not holders of banks were to be protected absolutely by the government it was only fair that depositors should also be safeguarded. This was the general tenor of the discussion, though there was a distinct repugnance expressed all round to any form of government inspection, chiefly on the ground of expense and because it was realized that the granting of huge and insecure loans was performed by the headquarters of banks in all banks and the smaller branches were not in need of more supervision than was present in force. Frank White, M.P., who was a guest, took part in the discussion.

The next meeting of the club will be held on December 23, the place and the subject of discussion yet to be decided. A committee consisting of Fred St. Lawrence, R. J. Webster, Major W. H. Kippen, M. F. For-restal, Arthur Ford, C. H. Beard and Professor E. H. Morrow was formed to make arrangements for the election of officers in the near future.
The committee of members of the Chamber of Commerce responsible for the inception and formation of the Round Table Club consists of J.
M. Watt, W. R. Jarman, C. R. Mc-Kenzie, F. St. Lawrence, R. J. Webster, G. G. Wesley, Major W. H. Kippen, M. F. Forrestal, Ed. Hayden, Arthur Ford, Col. W. J. Brown, Professor E.
H. Morrow, C. H. Beard and R. M.
Burns.

BOTHWELL

Special to The Advertiser.

Bothwell, Dec. 14.—Milford Smith, A.M.C. Master Divinity student, has been given a call to the Bothwell Baptist circuit until spring. Mr.
Smith has accepted and will commence his duties on Sunday next.

Two local oil men left this week for Brazil, S.A. They are James Mc-Hattie and Sam Brown. They will be gone three years. Mr. McHattie was recently stationed at Fort Mc-Kenzie, the new oil field in the Arctic circle, and Mr. Brown is returning to Brazil after being home for three months. Another Bothwell oil man is already in Brazil, Mr. John Mc-Leod, wife and two sons left during the summer.

ANNUAL MEETING SCENE OF ATTACK ON FARMERS' SUN

Shareholders Bitterly Criticized Conduct of Paper—Question Its Reliability.

FEAR U. F. O. INFLUENCE

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Dec. 14.—But few of the shareholders of the Farmers' Sun Publishing Company attended their annual meeting this afternoon with Col. J. Z. Fraser presiding. H. Macdonald, was in a critical mood, and voiced entire dissatisfaction with the reliability of the publication. "This paper was started to give us reliable information," he stated, "and it has failed miserably, particularly of late.
We should let the U. F. O. take over the paper if it is to be the U. F. O. organ, otherwise we should run it as an independent journal."

G. N. Kornaghan of Huron County supported Mr. Macdonald, clashing during his remarks with Gordon Waldron, the U. F. O. solicitor, when the latter interrupted him.

It was moved to divorce the publishing company from the U. F. O. on the charge that the present directorate had failed to give satisfaction.
The chairman demanded specific cases of inaccuracies, and Mr. Macdonald referred to one matter that had been taken up with the editor, and to another which J. G. Whitmer took up with Mr. Amos. The breeze finally blew over.

Among those in attendance were Gordon Waldron, U. F. O. solicitor, W. C. Good, M.P., W. A. Amos, president of the U. F. O., and J. J. Morrison.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT CHRI- ST CHURCH, PORT STANLEY

Christmas festivity found successful expression in the "Birthday" party held by Christ Church, Port Stanley. Together with the first birthday party to be held in the recently constructed parish hall in the basement of the church, was held the annual bazaar, and at this the proceeds ranked well toward the $500 mark, a sum far in excess of that realized on any previous occasion.

Members and friends of the parish received by mail an invitation to the birthday party, and a request that, in the tiny bag inclosed, each one present the amount of his or her age, and the generous response to this, as well as the results of the bazaar sales, form a contribution toward the parish building fund, for which sincere gratitude is being expressed.

A huge birthday cake, properly "iced," and decked with holly and mistletoe, was at the door to receive the contributions, and each booth was gayly festooned in the red and green, emblematic of the season. At the end of the hall was the tearoom, the table prettily arranged with Christmas fruits, bright candles, sprays of berberry and huge scarlet poinsettias glowing against the snowy cloth. The mistletoe-decked aprons and caps of the pretty young assistants added effectively to the Christmas atmosphere.

Miss Kate Ellison, the president of the Guild, was the general convener.

and in charge of the various departments were the following:

Tearoom: Mrs. Short, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. L. Cromwell, Mrs. Gagg, Mrs. J. Bartholemew, and Miss Vicie.
Social committee: Mrs. Going, Mrs. C.
Brown, Mrs. W. Oliver, Miss Meek.
Reception committee: Rev. J. R. Bythell and Mrs. Bythell, Mrs. Bosbury, Mrs. H. Cromwell and Mrs. "F. C." Bartholemew. Fancy work booth—Mrs. H. Ellison, Mrs. B. Drinkwater, Country stores, Mrs. Bythell, Mrs.
Hogg, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. York, Mrs.
Kirk, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. J. McIntyre, Misses Daisy and Violet Taylor and Misses Daisy and Flossie Yorke. Useful articles, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Mair, Mrs. Simmonds.

There were numerous visitors from St. Thomas and London, many of whom are regular attendants at Christ Church during the summer months. To the attractive tearoom, Miss C. Raynor and Mrs. Mothersill invited, and Mrs. McDonald and Mrs.
Berry poured tea.

Miss Marjorie Hawkins and Miss Alma Hogg, wearing in their hand bands of the same bright coloring as their wares, attended to the orange tree.

An informal program in the evening was provided by Miss Nellie Bentley, who gave delightful readings, and Mrs. Beckman, who sang two well-loved songs, "Gleesome Alanna" and "We'd Better Bide a Wee."
