INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT SALMON

Mr. Alexander Mowat Visits Kedgwick for Parent Fish for Hatchery.

Mr. Alexander Mowat, Dominion Fishery Officer has just returned from the Kedgwick River, where he has been collecting some breeding salmon in order to supplement the supply of eggs gathered at the New Mills retaining Pond.

Mr. Mowat reports the fish very plentiful in the upper pools of the rivers. He took 105 very large salmon in one draw of the seine and 200 in all for the supply of the hatchery. All these fish were taken from one pool near the Junction of the Kedgwick and Restigouche. The fish are retained in a wire inclosure in the river for a few weeks, when their eggs will be collected and transferred to the hatchery at Flat Lands.

The parent fish are marked with silver tags before being liberated, the length and weight of the fish are taken, with the date and number of tag which are all recorded. This method of marking is leading to wonderful information as to the movements migrated and growth of the salmon. Also a few scales are taken from some of the fish and forwarded to certain professors at Ottawa and in the United States, who have made a life study of the habits of the various fishes. There appears to be no question of doubt but what the age, and movements of a salmon can be determined from a scientific examination of the scales, that is the annual growth of the fish, how long it has remained in the ocean before migrating into the rivers and how many years before it has reached maturity and so forth and so forth.

At least one of the marked hatchery salmon supposed to belong to one of the rivers on the North Shore below Quebec, was caught this season in Bay Chaleur. Another off the coast of Newfoundland, so that the information along these lines is becoming interesting.

Mr. Mowat reports that big game on the Kedgwick and Upper Country are very plentiful, where the poacher has been unable to reach. He thinks the Government are deserving of great deal of credit for the manner in which they are protecting the game and administering the lumber regulations. The two great assets of the province but much remain to be done, especially in the protection of the game and the setting apart of another game reserve in the County of Restigouche.

W. J. APPLETON DIED SUDDENLY

Passed Away at Home Friday Night—Funeral Monday.

Citizens generally were grieved on Saturday morning to learn of the sudden passing away of Mr. Walter J. Appleton which occurred about midnight Friday night.

The deceased gentleman, who was a retired railway mechanic for upwards of thirty years a faithful employee at the shops here and being superintendent in charge when he retired under the pension act about two years ago. Friday evening he with Mrs. Appleton attended a church meeting at the Methodist Parsonage, later going over to "The Fair" where he was apparently in his usual good health. Upon returning home he suffered for a time then retired. Shortly after Mrs. Appleton heard him stirring and gasping and receiving no reply to her calls, was alarmed and seeing that he was unconscious immediately summoned medical aid, but he had passed away before a doctor arrived.

In the Methodist church, Sunday School and C. S. E. T. work he took a very active part and he will be greatly missed. His example was always an inspiration to those less zealous in the work. As a citizen he was always willing to do his share for the uplift of the community.

He is survived by his wife and three daughters: Mrs. Harold V. Shaw, Montreal; Mrs. Sterling Bachan, Port Arthur; and Miss Georgie at home, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended in this their very sudden and sad bereavement.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from his late residence on Andrew St. and was very largely attended. The services at the home were conducted by Rev. J. F. Rowley, assisted by Rev. H. Miller while the service at the grave were conducted by Rev. J. F. Rowley. The floral offerings were many and beautiful testifying to the high regard in which deceased was held.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR

Campbellton's First Fair Most Successful—Good Prices Realized.

Campbellton's first Fair came to a close last Friday night after three very successful days.

The amount of produce, fancy work and miscellaneous articles on exhibition was remarkable considering that this was really the first exhibition of its kind in the town. The fair was a success in every way. The various attractions were all patronized and every day the big risk was crowded.

The Baby Show Thursday afternoon was quite an attraction and there were nearly thirty entries. Mr. Murray and Nurse Jettie Gray, assisted by Miss Tossie Lingley, acted as judges, and carried out their duties in a most scientific manner.

Prizes were awarded as follows:—
Under One Year:—
1st—Mrs. Allan Millock.
2nd—Mrs. Williams.
3rd—Mrs. Jettie Duncan.
One Year to a Year and a Half:—
Mrs. A. H. English's.
Mrs. Henry Sanson's.
Over One Year to two years of age:—
Mrs. R. K. Shick's.
Mrs. Irvin Connolly's.

Ribbons were given to those who were considered worthy, measuring up to the required standard. In each category, but of the thirty-five babies exhibited it was difficult to judge as all were worthy of honorable mention, there being few exceptions to the standard set, and in many cases the children would merit the prize in one respect while in another they did not, in all it was a very creditable showing.

The judging of the exhibits was carried on Wednesday and Thursday, and the awards will be classified and published in a later issue of the Graphic.

Some produce was sold by private sale and what was left Friday morning was auctioned off by Auctioneer E. M. Anderson, and brought good prices.

So far as could be traced up to Sunday evening, the gross receipts were $428.00, but more has since been received and the amount will reach $1,500.00.

The undertaking was a big one, but the ladies in charge, the Ladies Aid of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital have demonstrated that they can handle such an enterprise with success, and deserve great credit for their successful handling of the project.
