"is the collection of sustain" "A most important part of our system," he said, "is the collection of customs revenue, but take the collectorship of Toronto, a most important point. It has now, been open for two years. What can the reason be? Is there no one on the other side of the Horise capable of fill-ing the position and willing to sucrifice him-self for a good round consideration or is the right honorable gentleman sfraid to open a constituency, or is the Minister of Customs of astidious that he cannot, find anyone at all suitable to fill the office? That it is vacant cannot be for reasons of economy, or it would be applied to all other ports as well." Turning from the collectorship, Mr. Laurier toku pu the Senate vacancies, and twitted the Government upon these being left un-filled. He thoucht the ornige the had not been of late as ucky as usual and that if the expression might be allowed every time he had taken a step he had put his foot in it. Mr. Laurier next turned his attention to the trade question and advocated reciprotity with the Unite i States rather than attemps to open up trade with distant countries. He eccused the Government of jartly stealing the clothes of the Opposition on this recipro-rity question, and invited them the next time they put their bands into the Opposition they attent they put the readiness as leader he said, "is the collection of customs sips put it down to Their Exceller ies being
