The Great War.

An authorized edition of the speech of the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, on the war, delivered in Queen's Hall, London, on Sept. 19th, 1914, has been published for distribution among the schools of the Empire, to be "kept on file in each school room." Some schools have not received it, and we publish it in this week's Monitor, with the hope that it will find its way into families and schools which might not otherwise have the opportunity of reading it. Although published so shortly after the beginning of the war, no speech or pamphlet which has followed it, and there have been very many on the same subject, presents more concisely and vividly the causes of the war, the motives and methods of Germany, and the philanthropic spirit by which Great Britain was actuated when she determined to join her forces to those of Belgium and France in order to drive back the ruthless invader and maintain the sacredness of treaties and international law.

German Submarines.

When Germany declared the waters around Great Britain and Ireland a war zone, Admiral Von Tirpitz said to a representative of the American Press: "Great Britain wants to starve us. We can play the same game, and torpedo every British or allied ship that approaches English or Scottish ports, and thereby cut off the greater part of Great Britain's imports of foodstuffs."

These high hopes have not been realized. The German public is reported to be showing great annoyance at the unsatisfactory results of the submarine war. This feeling has been expressed in the press by letters from Captain Persus of the German Navy. He attributes the comparative failure chiefly to two causes. The first is the splendid seamanship of the British. They have very soon devised means for the protection of ships approaching their coast. Not more than ten out of a thousand have been destroyed or even injured. Torpedo destroyers and other methods of defence make it more and more difficult for a submarine to get near enough to a ship to launch its torpedoes. "Almost fabulous skill is required," he says, "to avoid the pitfalls." And very great tension of both the mental and physical powers of the men on the submarines leads to exhaustion and prepares the way for accidents and failures.

The other cause of failure can best be expressed in his own words as given in the Times: "The submarine presents a combination of the most minute and complicated paraphernalia, everything on board has to be set up with the utmost precision in the smallest space, and it is, therefore, clear that the period for the construction of a U boat cannot be quite so short as one could wish. There exists no more complicated fighting instrument than the U boat, which means that the task of commanding and managing it is not simple and easily learned, and that considerable time must elapse before the commander and crew are familiar with the boat."

At any rate, while the German submarines have occasioned great destruction of life and property, they have failed to realize the hopes of Admiral Tirpitz, and if we may judge from the published reports of the number which have recently been destroyed, their depredations will be more and more curtailed. Indeed, it comes to us on good authority, that despite their habits of passive obedience, the crews of the German submarines of late refuse to go abroad, and the government is forced to appeal for volunteers.

What's in a Name?

In a United States court, the clerk cried in a shrill voice, "John D. Rockefeller to the bar." Every one present was surprised to hear the well-known name, and more surprised to see a negro of the real ebony type step up to the bar. "Is your name John D. Rockefeller?" asked the judge. The reply was, "It is sure, your honor. Dat name has been a great burden to my life." Many a George Washington and many a John Wesley have been seen in places and charged with misdemeanors which reflect no credit upon the original owners of the names. Not long ago John Wesley was in the Police Court of St. John for misdemeanor.

RIVERSIDE CEMETERY

Riverside Cemetery is at present particularly beautiful, and well repays a visit to those interested in the resting place of our dead.

The annuals are now in full bloom, and with the neatly trimmed lawns, lots, and terraces, reflects great credit to the Superintendent, Mr. Lester, and those under whose care the work is carried on. On Sunday and the last few days, visitors all declare this portion of our town never looked better. We also learn that quite recently the Perpetual Care Fund was augmented by the generous gift of $100 from a former resident and friend of our town, Mr. James E. Hillis of Halifax. While it is nearly forty years since Mr. Hillis moved away from Bridgetown, he has made almost annual visits here and always manifested great interest in Bridgetown and its growth and improvements. While here this year he was particularly pleased with the improvements made in the Cemetery and has manifested this pleasure in this practical manner.

It will be remembered that L. S. Morse, Esq., of Digby, School Inspector, gave a similar sum last fall, and this Spring a like amount was donated by Mr. DeWitt of Florida. All of these generous donors were former residents of our town, and their gifts have been invested in good securities, and the annual interest from the same will be applied toward the perpetual care of the cemetery.

The marked improvements made and continued here has enlisted the deserving sympathy of a great many former residents or natives of Bridgetown, who have shown their appreciation of what has been done by very generous contributions. Amongst these may be mentioned that of Mr. H. J. Crowe of Toronto, who gave $100 toward the current expenses of last season. Dr. Walter Chipman of Montreal, whose continuous giving toward the various needs of the cemetery now amounts to about $300. Many others, now absent, have also assisted most generously, and with the united effort of our own citizens has made this "City of the dead" a beauty spot that compares most favorably with any in the Province.

AUTUMN EXCURSIONS TO MONTREAL

Montreal is always a city of interest and especially so in the early autumn, when its citizens have returned from the summer resorts to their town homes, the many stores crowded with fashionable shoppers and the places of amusement in full swing.

The annual fall excursions via Intercolonial Railway will be run this year, Sept. 16, 17, and 18, tickets being good for return October 4th. The rate from Halifax to Montreal and return on these dates will be reduced to $19.45. From Moncton and St. John $15.30, and proportionately low fares will prevail from all points in the Maritime Provinces.

Travellers from the Maritime Provinces have the choice of two excellent trains, the "Ocean Limited" and the "Maritime Express", both noted for the high standard of their sleeping and dining car service. A good piece of advice is to reserve your berth early.

ANNAPOLIS DISTRICT MEETING

The Financial meeting of the Annapolis District was held at Sandy Cove, Digby Neck, on Friday, Sept. 3rd. The Rev. W. H. Langille, District Chairman, presided and all the ministerial members of the District were present with one exception. The Rev. James Allen of Toronto, General Secretary of the Board of Missions, was present, and addressed the District at its first session and also spoke at Centreville on Thursday evening and at Sandy Cove on Friday evening, where public meetings in the interests of missions were held. The other speakers at these meetings were Revs. Robt. McArthur and H. J. Indoe. The regular business sessions of the District were held on Friday morning and afternoon, and disposed of many important matters of the church. The Financial meeting plans the work of the District for the Conference year, and methods for a vigorous and successful campaign in each department of the work were adopted.

REV. GILBERT BENT PASSES AWAY

The death is reported of Rev. Gilbert Bent, which occurred at his home in Lynn, Mass., on Sunday, Sept. 5th. The deceased was a minister of the American Methodist Episcopal Church and a native of Granville, this county. He was a son of the late Warren Bent and is survived by one brother, Mr. J. F. Bent of Paradise; and two sisters, Mrs. (Capt.) Jacob Bent of Granville Ferry, and Mrs. Israel Miller of Swampscott, Mass.

Digby Courier.—It is reported that a representative of the Post Office Department, Ottawa, has been sent over Digby Neck this week in reference to establishing a rural mail delivery throughout that section.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS AT LOWER GRANVILLE

ELLIS—MORRISON

The marriage of Mr. Ernest C. Ellis of Bay View, Digby County, and Miss Hilda Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Morrison, Thorne's Cove, took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Wednesday eve, 8th inst. Rev. Mr. Indoe officiated, and the service was a very impressive one. The bride was handsomely gowned in white satin, wore the conventional veil, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. An unusual feature was the insertion in her veil of a cluster of apple blossoms just plucked from a Gravenstein tree in the orchard of Albert Parker. After a splendid collation the evening was spent in pleasant conversation and music by the large number present. The happy couple took a trip to St. John next day returning on Saturday. We wish them a most happy future.

ADAMS—SNOW

The next morning a large party of invited guests assembled at the residence of Capt. John A. Snow, Port Wade, to witness the marriage of his daughter Minnie L. to Mr. Fred Adams of the Life Saving Station, Bay View, Digby County. Rev. Mr. Indoe again was in evidence and tied the nuptial knot most impressively. The bride was dressed in white silk voile, and wore the usual bridal veil and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. After a sumptuous collation the happy couple left for Annapolis in Capt. Kean's auto amidst showers of rice and confetti for Halifax. On their return they will reside at Bay View, near neighbors of the bride couple of the evening before. We extend congratulations and wish them a long and happy life. Both young ladies were very popular in the neighborhood and will be much missed in social and church circles.
