NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

1873.

Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives to be first of all and preeminently a news paper. France a Republic—Italy and Germany gradually permeated with Republican ideas—Spain swaying in the nerveless grasp of a ruler too good for a King and too weak for a Republican, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico, and equally unable to give it up—the German-speaking peoples agitated by a new Protestantism, separating from the See of Rome on the stigma of Papal Infallibility and assuming to recognize the "Old Catholics"—the whole Continent pervaded by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophical, theological, material, and the advance of physical Science—Russia and Great Britain running a race for the final gains that shall determine Asiatic supremacy—China seeming ready to abandon her advances and reclose her half opened gates—Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to irradiate Western commerce to enrich her long hidden empire—such are phases of the news from abroad which the mails over all Continents and the wires under all Seas are daily bearing to us. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost, to lay before its readers the most prompt, complete, and popular presentation of these diverse and conflicting movements, through all of which we fondly trust the tolling masses are evermore struggling up toward larger recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for freedom seems over. The last slave has long been a citizen; the last opposition to emancipation, enfranchisement, equal civil rights, has formally been abandoned. No party, North or South, longer disputes the result of the War for the Union; all declare that these results must never be undone; and, with a whole people thus united on the grand platform of All Rights for All, whereto our bloody struggle, and the prolonged civil contests that followed, have led us, the Republic closes a chapter of the bitter, hateful past and turns peacefully, hopefully, to the less alarming because less vital problems of the future. To what, ever may elucidate the general discussion or action on these, THE TRIBUNE gives amplest space and most impartial record. Whatever parties may propose, whatever political leaders may say, whether they are in, or fairly set down in its columns, whether they help or hinder its own views. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts, and this they always get.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now more than thirty years old, has endeavored to keep up with the progress of the age in improvement and enterprise. It devotes a large share of its columns to Agriculture as the most essential and general of human pursuits. It employs the ablest and most successful cultivators to set forth in brief, clear essays their practical views of the Farmer's work. It reports public discussions and lectures also classifies them; it is fair to every source of agricultural news, the reports of the latest experiments and the stories of the latest successes and failures, and whatever may tend to advance better Agriculture, and to commend it as the first and most important of progressive Art, based on natural science.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE appeals also to Teachers, Students, and persons of inquiring minds, by the character of its literary contents, which include reviews of all the works proceeding from the master minds of the old or of the New World, with liberal extracts from those of especial interest. Imaginative Literature also claims attention; but in a subordinate degree. "Home Interests" are discussed weekly by a lady especially qualified to instruct and interest her own sex, and the younger portion of the other. No column is more eagerly sought or read with greater average profit than hers. The News of the Day, condensed by brief comments, is so condensed that no reader can deem it diffuse, while given sufficiently in detail to satisfy the wants of the average reader. Selections are regularly made from the extensive correspondence of THE DAILY TRIBUNE from every country, and its editorials of more permanent value are here reprinted. In short, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE commands itself to Millions, by ministering to their intellectual wants more fully than they are met by any other journal, while its regular reports of the Cattle, Country Produce, and other Markets, will, of themselves, save the farmer who regularly notes them far more than his journal's price.

For the family circle of the educated farmer or artisan, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has no superior, as is proved by the hundred of thousands who, having read it from childhood, still cherish and enjoy it in the prime and on the down hill of life. We respectfully urge those who know its worth to commend THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE to their friends and neighbors, and we propose it to each at a price which barely pay the cost of paper and press-work.

GOOD THINGS

FOR THE YOUNG OF ALL AGES.

EDITED BY GEORGE MACDONALD,

AND ILLUSTRATED BY THE BEST ARTISTS.

This Magazine has hitherto been issued under the title of "GOOD WORDS FOR THE YOUNG." To mark the important changes and improvements which have been introduced, it has been thought well to alter the name to the simpler and purer one given above. "GOOD THINGS" will address itself to the young of all ages, from the little beginner, who can just read a picture, to the big boys and girls who study at the desk or about in the playground; and so onwards up to the veterans who, after all their learning, turn to the children for a fresher wisdom, and after all their work, sit in the shady corner and play the old games over again in their heads. "GOOD THINGS" hopes, as a periodical, to have its margins well thumbed and dog-eared; and when the Editor has trimmed hose and made it fit for the library, the volume will try for a fixed place there in good company. The flavors of a multitude of assorted "goodies" cannot be put into a prospectus; but the

NOVEMBER PART,

which is now ready,

WILL SPEAK FOR ITSELF.
