CAFE DES GOURMETS. ACKERMANN BROS.

It is a well-known fact that Coffee roasted in the ordinary manner and not placed in air-tight receptacles, is greatly deteriorated by evaporation of the aromatic particles, and as this process goes on for months afterwards, the result is apparent to every one.

WHAT IS CLAIMED FOR IT.

Being roasted and ground in a Patent Apparatus, packed in Glass Jars while hot and then hermetically sealed; by this process not a particle of the Aroma is lost.
It is much stronger, for the reason that it is roasted higher, after the manner of the French. They put no water with it while in the process of roasting, as is universally done to save weight.
It is more economical, as two-thirds of this is equivalent to one pound of the other Coffee.
It is clarified, has a beautiful colour, the flavour is delicious, wholesome and invigorating.

From The Canada Educational Monthly, Toronto.—And just here comes in the contrast of the position of the Englishman with that of his kinsman on this side of the Atlantic. He has no "Webster;" no book of an all-satisfying requirement, no one reference work in which he will find all that he may be in quest of, no single quarry that will yield him every one his demands require the inspection of—such as he may find in the mammoth "Unabridged Webster." Having regard to its issues, its thoroughness, its compactness, and its price, it is an amazing product of literary skill and mechanical workmanship.

There should not be a school in the Dominion, where access cannot readily and constantly be had to it. No teacher, and we might add, no reader of the language, can afford to be without it, for it is a monumental work, a noble tribute to our grand old mother-tongue.

From London Quarterly Review.—On the whole, as it stands, it is most respectable, and certainly the best PRACTICAL ENGLISH DICTIONARY BY EXISTANT.

"A necessity to every educated man."—Lord Brougham.

"Every scholar knows its value."—W. H.
Preacott, the Historian.

"The book has become indispensable to every student of the English language."—Morison R. Waite, Chief Justice U. S.
