

5.9 Media	69
5.10 Bilateral and Multilateral Human Rights Assistance Donors	71
5.11 Local National Human Rights Partners	73
5.12 Human Rights Coordination	75
□ Chapter 6 Staffing and Standby Arrangements	79
6.1 Staffing: Recruitment and Personnel Management	79
6.2 Standby Arrangements: rapid skills, and rapid deployment	84
6.2.1 Pros and cons of national human rights standby arrangements	84
6.2.2 NORDEM and related Norwegian civilian standby initiatives	88
6.2.3 European Union human rights contingent for Rwanda	90
6.2.4 Other national and UN initiatives	92
PART 3 -The HOW of human rights in UN field operations
□ Chapter 7 Early Warning and Protection	97
7.1 Central Collection and Analysis of Information	98
7.2 Tactical and Strategic Nature of Human Rights Intelligence	99
7.3 Human Rights Protection	100
7.4 Automatic and Obligatory	101
□ Chapter 8 Monitoring: Witnessing, Investigating, and Reporting	103
8.1 Mandate and Constraints	103
8.2 Field Partners and SOPs	106
8.3 Professional Training	109
8.4 Monitoring for Effect	110
□ Chapter 9 Human Rights Reconstruction	113
9.1 The Foundations	114
9.2 Capacity and Institution Building	118
9.2.1 Police, prison guards, and the military	119
9.2.2 Legal reform, judicial system, legal aid & judicial access tools	121
9.2.3 Human rights commission, ombuds	123
9.2.4 Civil society	124
□ Chapter 10 Doctrine, Operational Procedures, Lessons Learned Mechanism	127
10.1 Doctrine	127
10.2 Operational Procedures	129
10.3 Lessons Learned Mechanism	132
□ Chapter 11 - Logistics and Training	135
11.1 Logistics and Administration	135
11.2 Training	139
11.2.1 Past HRO training	139
11.2.2 Training Requirements	140
11.2.2.1 generic training	141
11.2.2.2 operation specific training	142
11.2.3 UN and national training	144
□ Chapter 12 - Conclusion: Political Will and Operational Professionalism	147
ANNEX I : Recommendations	149
ANNEX II : Draft Model Course Outline	159