

CONTENTS.

	Page
CHAPTER I.—Departure — The Atlantic — Demoralisation of the »Boarders«—Betting—The Auctioneer—An Inquisitive Yankee	7
CHAPTER II.—Arrival of the Pilot—First Look at American Newspapers	13
CHAPTER III.—Arrival—The Custom House—Things Look Bad—The Interviewers—First Visits—Things Look Brighter—»O, Vanity of Vanities!«	16
CHAPTER IV.—Impressions of American Hotels	23
CHAPTER V.—My Opening Lecture—Reflections on Audiences I have had—The Man who Won't Smile—The One who Laughs Too Soon, and Many Others	30
CHAPTER VI.—A Connecticut Audience — Merry Meriden — A Hard Pull	37
CHAPTER VII.—A Tempting Offer — The Thursday Club—Bill Nye—Visit to Young Ladies' School—The Players' Club	40
CHAPTER VIII.—The Flourishing of Coats of Arms in America —Reflections Thereon — Forefathers Made to Order—The Phonograph at Home—The Wealth of New York—Departure for Buffalo	46
CHAPTER IX.—Different Ways of Advertising a Lecture—American Impresarios and their Methods	50
CHAPTER X.—Buffalo — The Niagara Falls — A Frost — Rochester to the Rescue of Buffalo—Cleveland—I Meet Jonathan	54
CHAPTER XI.—A Great Admirer—Notes on Railway Travelling —Is America a Free Nation? A Pleasant Evening in New York	59