ANOTHER MILK "STRIKE" MAY OCCUR THIS MONTH

Producers Are Determined to Demand an Increase for the Winter Prices—An Extra 20 Cents a Can is Laid Off.

A special meeting of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association was held at the Albion Hotel in this city on Saturday afternoon, and attended by representatives of the affiliated organizations from different parts of the province.

The season of 1907 has in many respects been a unique one, and the call for a meeting was issued to consider primarily the urgency with respect to the need of increased prices, and for general consultation along lines of mutual protection.

W. C. Stephens of Thistleton, Etobicoke Township, and chairman of the association, was in the chair, and among the thirty or forty members of the executive present were W. C. Stephens, secretary Montreal Milk Dealers' Association; John H. Galt, president Hamilton branch; A. J. Reynolds, secretary Toronto Association; Anthony Forster, Locust Hill; P. M. Carpenter, Fruitland; President McKenzie, H. B. Cowan, editor Canadian Horticulturist; Levi Annis and Mr. Millen, secretary of the Hamilton Association.

Respecting the necessity for an advance in the price of milk, Mr. Oldfield stated that the conditions were serious. Pasture was scorched up and cattle required feeding as in winter.

W. C. Stephens said that in the Montreal district they had been feeding their cattle for two months, and one large Montreal firm, situated in the city, had agreed to pay 20 cents per gallon, including cost of hauling, but farmers around Montreal were asking 22 cents, and this, Mr. Stephens said, would not net more than 18 cents, the price paid last year.

Mr. McKenzie, Galt, reported similar conditions in that part of the province, and F. M. Carpenter, ex-M.P.P., stated that conditions in the West were worse even than in winter. Milk in Hamilton was selling at 7 cents per quart, and meat at 20 cents per pound. The relative situation in the West, and the price should be advanced to $1.50 a can of eight gallons. The advance secured in the spring in Toronto had been lost.

Levi Annis urged the farmers to fix their price and submit to no dictation from the dealers.

Provincial records said that local meetings were being arranged for, and when the general meeting is held on Sept. 14 they would be prepared to meet a similar meeting in the city.

There is, said Mr. Stephens, "a great deal of moonshine" regarding certified milk.

Disappointment was expressed at the working out of the act relating to the size of the milk cans.

On motion of Messrs. Carpenter and Forster it was unanimously resolved that it would be in the interest of the milk and cream producers of Canada to work in harmony, and that joint committees be appointed to confer respecting matters vital to the interests of each.

The fact that the summer season ends and the winter season begins on Oct. 1, the date on which the award given to the milk producers with a free hand with respect to the winter season. What action will be taken is not known.

A WORLD'S FAIR CARRIER TAKEN FOR TORONTO IN 1912?

Manager Orr Broaches Idea For Celebration of Centenary of Peace.

JOHN GARDINER
Marshal of To-Day's Parade.

PARADE TO-DAY ON BIG SCALE

Bands Galore and Many Floats Will Diversify Labor's Procession.

The demonstration committee, who have charge of the arrangements for today's labor parade made final arrangements last night and have perfected the organization so well that everything should pass off without a hitch.

All sections will form up at Queen's Park, near Grosvenor-street, and it is anticipated that this year's spectacle will completely eclipse all previous efforts.

Thirteen bands take part, so there will be plenty of music, and the various floats and symbolic tableaux will be quite an attraction.

The procession will start from Queen's Park punctually at 10 o'clock, and proceed by way of Grosvenor-street down Queen-street to Queen-street, along the north side of Queen-street to Dufferin-street, down Dufferin-street to exhibition park.

The police will regulate the traffic, and the Street Railway Company will devote as many cars as possible down Church-street, so as to minimize interference with the parade.

If the public will conform to the police regulations there will be no recurrence of the unpleasant scenes that marked the Orange Day parade. The games and sports will be held on the lawn at Exhibition Park.

Under mysterious circumstances, William Yake, aged 13, son of Nelson Yake of 104 Euclid-avenue, was drowned Saturday night at the Yonge-street wharf.

Yake was employed by Joseph Weise, a news agent at the docks. He was sent down to the end of the wharf to throw some sweepings into the bay. He was not returned and the proprietor sent for him.

CLARENCE C. CHANDLER CONFESSES TO TAKING MONEY LETTERS AND PACKAGES

On a charge of robbing his majesty's mails, Clarence C. Chandler of No. 7 Lima-place was arrested by Plainclothes Officer Young on King-street yesterday afternoon.

At the detective department he admitted the thefts of money and valuables from letters which passed through his hands.

The penalty for this offence is from three years to life.

For some time Postoffice Inspector Henderson has been investigating the disappearance of money letters after their arrival in Toronto. A strict watch was kept and decoy letters were sent through, which contained bills and silver coins.

Chandler was in the office yesterday sorting letters, and after completing his work he was followed by Inspector Henderson, who pointed him out to the officers on King-street.

In his pocket were found twenty-six unopened letters and one of the inspector's decoy letters.

Detectives Tipton and Young went to Chandler's house, where they found a box of cigars, a diamond ring and a pearl necklace.

To the detectives the young man admitted that he took the cigars from the company with Mr. McManey, also of the company, and the diamond ring and pearl necklace from mail packages.

Chandler has been employed at the postoffice since March.

He is 23 years of age and is married.

THIS AIRSHIP A SUCCESS.

Makes Flight Over Berlin With Distinguished Passenger.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The Parseval airship made another successful flight over Berlin last evening. State Secretary von Hollmann was a passenger. The airship manoeuvred for an hour and attained a considerable speed.

Herr von Hollmann expressed himself as delighted with his trip, and the feat which, within the balloon responded to the will of the navigators.

Several experts, who will repair the damage, arrived in the city yesterday, and, on visiting the grounds, learned of the departure of the airship. Geo. W. Breese of Cleveland was one of these visitors.

HOUSEHOLD HIDE THE TRAIN YOUNG MAN IS KILLED

Nelson Leclair Meets With Terrible Death Near the Corn-wall Depot.

CORNWALL, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Nelson Leclair, aged 21 years, from St. Andrew's, was instantly killed here.

He was taken to the coast by the seventh concession of Cornwall, just west of the depot, when the freight train. The neighboring houses prevented the men from seeing the train till they were actually on the track.

The horse swerved, and his threw Maloney out of the rig. He escaped with a shaking up. Leclair was less fortunate. The buggy was wrecked, and Leclair, falling in front of the locomotive, was run over. His head and arms were almost severed.

Coroner Dr. C. J. Hamilton decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(C. A. P. Cable.)—It transpires that the two Canadians injured in a coach smash at Kingston, and who refused to give their names, are brothers named Henderson. They are progressing satisfactorily.

Charged With Tilt Tapping. Charles Reth, aged 11, who a week ago escaped from the Victoria Industrial School at H. Mimico, was arrested by P. C. Ironsides last night. Reth was seen hanging around Solomon Trikel's store at Agnes-street. Reth missed $7 from the till and Reth was accused. When arrested he had $6.05 on him.

FOR TORONTO IN 1912?

A World's Fair, to be held at Toronto, in the year 1912, in commemoration of a century of Anglo-Saxon peace and amity!

It is only an idea as yet, but, then, has originated with Manager Orr, and with him it is usual to have action follow upon ideas, so that the suggestion he has made is likely to be heard of in future.

Nothing succeeds like success, and it is the splendid triumph of the fair of 1897, as far as it has gone, that has given Dr. Orr the thought of an exposition to be held in five years time that will bring together specimen products of every land, and will also aid in the cementing of friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States.

A centennial event, on the lines planned, would, it is confidently felt, appeal strongly to national sentiment, throughout the empire and the continent, and the glow of amicable feeling would be fanned into a warmth that would make the event one of national breadth and scope, while incidentally bringing in revenue sufficient to more than cover expenses.

It was the highly gratifying nature of the attendance on Saturday, copying the climax of a splendid week, that naturally inspired glowing optimism. Toronto's exhibition has grown to the point of national prominence.

And, if so, when could so happy a time be chosen as the centennial celebration of national peace? So reasoned Manager Orr.

But whether this plan of magnitude is ever carried into effect is not promised, that the fair will be a veritable "rainbow city" next year.

Thousands hurrying towards the exhibition on Saturday, Saturday night were attracted by the artistic glow of color in the glass dome of the new horticultural building. The "rainbow effect" was produced by the tinting of the electric globes, and the experiment has been so successful that it is to be repeated in the other buildings at Sherbrooke, Quebec, a Dominion exhibition will be formally opened.

ALONE, BOY GOES OFF DOCK STRANGE BAY FATALITY

William Yake, a Newsboy, Drowns Saturday Under Mysterious Circumstances.

Under mysterious circumstances, William Yake, aged 13, son of Nelson Yake of 104 Euclid-avenue, was drowned Saturday night at the Yonge-street wharf.

Yake was employed by Joseph Weise, a news agent at the docks. He was sent down to the end of the wharf to throw some sweepings into the bay. He was not returned and the proprietor sent for him.

His Majesty is Grieved

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—The following cables have been received by Earl Grey:
Maj. Ponsonby to Earl Grey: "Marienbad, Aug. 31, 1907. 'The King grieved to hear news of disaster to Quebec bridge. Wishes you to convey his heartfelt sympathy with relatives and friends of all who have lost their lives in the sad calamity.'"
(Signed) "Ponsonby."
The Viceroy of India to Earl Grey: "Simla, Aug. 31, 1907. 'Please tell Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec deeply grieved terrible bridge accident.'"
(Signed) "Minto."

JAIL GOVERNOR IS HIS OWN PRISONER

Committed by Judge McHugh of Windsor to Serve 20 Days on Division Court Order.

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Governor John Harmon is his own prisoner at Sandwich Jail. Judge McHugh issued an order yesterday, directing him as governor to commit himself, and for the next twenty days he will fill a dual role. As a prisoner he may be tempted to escape, but as jailer he will be required to keep a close guard over himself.

Before Governor Harmon received his appointment he was a Windsor marble dealer, and he left the business with one or two debts unpaid, among them a bill to the McGrath Marble Company of Nova Scotia. He did not repudiate the debt when he became a government official, as he might have done, but felt unable to meet it at once, and asked for time. The company pressed for an immediate settlement, however, and secured a judgment in the division court. On his failure to follow the judge's directions the order to commit him for contempt was secured. He is not required to lock himself in, but can go and come at his own will so long as he does not escape from himself.

This is really the second time the governor has been committed. His appointment was by popular vote, and at the farewell banquet tendered him his friends held a mock trial, sentencing him to jail on various counts. The second commitment has created quite as much amusement as the first.

SHIP IS UNDER BOND REMOVAL CARRIED OUT

Experts Who Are to Repair Damages Arrived Yesterday—Notes of the Fair.

The Knabenshue airship has left the exhibition grounds, and is now lying in bond at the Parkdale railway station.

Manager Orr prophesied on Saturday night that the aeroplane tent would be missing from its location on the lawn west of the manufacturers' building, on Labor Day, and, in order that there might be no failure of fulfillment, he had instructions given for removal. The airship and tent were, accordingly, loaded on a truck yesterday morning, and the fair grounds will know them no more.

It is understood to be the intention of the airship management to obtain the lease of a vacant lot, and to charge admission fees for glimpses of the aerial machine, and also to provide ascensions.

Several experts, who will repair the damage, arrived in the city yesterday, and, on visiting the grounds, learned of the departure of the airship. Geo. W. Breese of Cleveland was one of these visitors.

SENATOR COX GOES WEST.

Will Visit Prince Rupert and May Invest There.

PETERBORO, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Saturday morning Hon. Senator Cox, accompanied by Ald. W. G. Morrow, left on an extended trip to the Pacific Coast.

While the trip is partially one for pleasure and a holiday for the senator, it is probable that it will not be without its business significance. While they are away Mr. Cox and Ald. Morrow will pay a visit to Prince Rupert, the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, with which Senator Cox is closely associated. It will probably mean that Mr. Cox will interest himself naturally in the new city of the Pacific slope, a city which many affect to believe will be the model city of the Dominion.

BOMB FOR CLEVELANDER.

Former Governor Herrick Has Narrow Escape From Death.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 1.—Timidity or sudden change of heart on the part of a seeker for the life of Former Governor Myron T. Herrick is declared by the police to have been the only salvation of the ex-governor and members of his family, near whose home a dynamite bomb was exploded last night.

The bomb burst midway between the Herrick mansion and the home of H. Johnson, attorney, in Overlook-road, Euclid Heights, tearing a great hole in the ground before Mr. Johnson's mansion, and wrecking the front of the house and rocking the Herrick mansion.

OSCAR AT CHURCH GUARDED BY AN ARMY

For the Second Time in Over Two Years Nicholas Enters the Russian Capital.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 1.—For the second time since "Red Sunday" (Jan. 22, 1905), Emperor Nicholas to-day entered the capital to attend the consecration of a church to the memory of his grandfather, Alexander II., who was assassinated in March, 1881, on the spot where the edifice was raised.

The date of the trip, coinciding with the conspiracy trial just closed here, plainly was designed to raise the loyalty of the army and the people. It was a complete success, and no untoward incident occurred.

The police neglected no precautions to insure the safety of the emperor, and guards were posted in all thoroughfares of the city and about the palaces of suspicious individuals. General forces were stationed in every window facing the route of the imperial procession, and owners of houses were forbidden to open windows under pain of a heavy fine.

The imperial party arrived from Peterhof, unannounced, but a single salute being fired during the whole stay. The emperor and his party disembarked from a yacht at his admiralty and entered an inconspicuous launch, moored at the Grand Duke Constantine's palace. Thence they proceeded to the memorial church in question.

The church faces the Nevsky Prospect, it is conveniently reached from the Neva across the Mars field drill ground, where the emperor was met by rows of flags, had been made for their majesties.

After two months of daily rains, the sky cleared and the sun shone upon the brilliant scene of nearly a hundred detachments of troops with widely varying uniforms, stationed along the line of march.

The emperor's arrival was announced by salvos of cheers from the troops, the public looking on indifferently. The big churchyard was one of great splendor, recalling the old-time court balls. An abundance of light, streaming through the lofty windows, illumined the four immense mosaic columns, around which were grouped representatives of the ruling classes.

The emperor and the empress occupied the so-called patriarch's place at the right of the altar, the emperor being visible only from the diplomatic loge. Premier Stolypin was the only minister to attend the ceremonies, all of the others being absent.

The three walls of the church were lined with a double file of palace grenadiers and their entrances were guarded by veterans of the Russo-Turkish war. The emperor seemed to be in excellent spirits, but the empress had the same careworn, sad look which has often been remarked. The empress wore a simple Preobrajenskiy uniform, with a dark blue tunic and trousers. Across his shoulder was the blue sash of a general.

Both their majesties remained standing throughout the entire ceremony, which lasted three and a quarter hours, the empress slightly leaning on her parasol.

A THOUSAND DOLLAR COAT.
One of the interesting features of Dineen's Fur Display.

A model fur coat that is valued at one thousand dollars is among the many attractive features of the beautiful and costly exhibit of furs at Dineen's famous store, Yonge and Temperance streets. This coat is of Persian mink and merits the admiration unstintingly bestowed upon it. Dineen's want the visitors to call and see the grand display being made. Some broad-tail Persian lamb coats and auto coats of minkskin, pony-skin and the staple articles in Persian lamb and seal coats are shown in profusion with muffs and fur novelties large and small. All the popular styles in all furs are shown more extensively at Dineen's than elsewhere, and every care is taken to secure mutual satisfaction.
