The fourth race, the Epsom Handicap, for al lages, at six furlongs, was the feature event of the day, and proved a great contest. There were several very fast sprinters in it, and they were all supported. The Seagram colt, Purslane, was at the shortest figure, and probably received the strongest support, but he was badly missed about in the race, finishing outside the money. He had bad racing luck early and after making up eight or ten lengths McDaniel got him into a pocket in the stretch and it was not possible for him to get thru. The good sprinter, Charley Eastman, opened at 4 and went back to 6, although the Woodbine track. He won by a ride from Powers, Charley Gilbert from the Valley Farm stable, came from behind and just beat out Earl Rogers for the place. The speedy Geo. S. Davis appears to be off color at present, otherwise 1.13 4-5 for six furongs would not hang him up. Johnny Dyment's high priced Temeraire was in with but 89 lbs., but was not up

The Sandringham Plate for 3-yearolds and up, at one mile and an eighth, was the fifth on the card, and had but three starters. The late addition to the Seagram stable, Ypsilanti, received considerable support from the general public, but the shrewd play was on Solon Shingle and Cooney K. about equally divided. Cooney K. led for a mile with Ypsilanti and Solon Shingletrailing. The latter set sail at the eighth pole and got up in time to win by a length from Cooney K. who had the place easily. Ypsilanti did not appear to like the going, and t no time did he appear to be a dangerous contender.

The sixth race was for hunters at mile and a half, to be ridden by gentlemen holding Hunt Association certificates. John O'Grady was the early favorite, but Kunishaw, with Holland up, received the wise play, and it proved to be right, for Kumshaw was the whole works in the race. John O'Grady was all to the had, finishing absolutely last. Plum Tart made a good effort in the stretch,

Eddie Whalen pulled off a good thing in the last race of the/day when his Pontiac colt Black' Hawk galloped home at 30 to 1, well played by the stable. Bantry Bey was the favorite, but third was the best he could do, the Orpen gelding Sunderman getting the place.
