

GOWGANDA--New York Now a Strong Buyer of the Mining Shares--ELK LAKE

Hawthorne Mining Syndicate Out for Honest Development

The World a short time ago published an article giving as far as could be found out the operations of the Hawthorne Mining Syndicate in New Ontario.

This syndicate (composed of wealthy Americans) has been operating in the Montreal River district since last summer and has spent much money in locating claims and opening up this country.

The Canadian Mining Journal, in an issue of the article, presumably because the World gave first-hand information, made a bitter and apparently unwarranted attack upon the syndicate, which by the way is spending its own money in searching the mineral wealth of Ontario.

Mr. Julian Hawthorne, the active member of the syndicate, writes The World as follows in regard to the matter and incidentally confirms the original statement made thru these columns.

Dear Sir:—It seems evident that The Journal people do not love The World, and even permit their animosity to prompt them to hit at you over my shoulders.

Of course, I cannot presume to participate in a newspaper controversy as such, and I am also satisfied that you are well able to take care of yourself. But the insinuations of The Journal against the company of which I am president gives me a look-in in the matter.

I will say, for one thing, that the article in your paper about our operations in the mining area of the Gowganda and James Lake districts was accurate in all respects, and so was what was said about our Temagami-Cobalt and our James Township properties. No one has ever undertaken to deny that the facts which we state are the truth, nor can anyone do so except by drawing upon their imagination for their ammunition.

Anybody, of course, may cry "fake," but anybody who attempts to convict us of faking, either upon concrete evidence or abstract suspicion, will find himself in an unpleasant predicament. Nothing has ever been promulgated from this office which was not fully warranted by the condition of our properties; none of our subscribers has ever become such without being fully informed that a mining project is not a mine; that our directors own two-thirds of the stock and have pooled it for five years; and that our stock is sold exclusively for development of our properties, and not for stock-jobbing purposes.

Every intending subscriber who will consent to go to Ontario and make a personal examination of what we are doing, before investing, has been given every facility for doing so, and has, moreover, invested after making his examination.

We have never owed anybody a dollar, and we hold all our properties absolutely, without heirs or conditions of any kind. We have kept a large force of men constantly at work, stripping veins and sinking shafts; we have built accommodations, laid in provisions for a year ahead, and have just installed the best sort of machinery on all our properties. We are now going down on veins, the character of which, as regards their silver bearing qualities, is perfectly satisfactory to us, and will be so to our stockholders long before the summer is over.

This is not the work nor the ways of fakirs. As your article justly says, we are in Ontario to make mines and to take part in the legitimate development of the country. No form of attack on us or on our methods has an honest leg to stand on; any attack will certainly react upon those who make it. We have, as you say, conducted our operations as quietly as we could, because it is necessary, in order to secure good holdings without extravagant cost, to get in ahead of others, and make our bargains before the rush comes. But, except in this respect, we are not to conceal, much less anything to be ashamed of. There are no locked doors in Ontario, and anyone who is wide awake enough may see what we are doing, and anyone active and enterprising enough may do it themselves before we do.

So much I will say on behalf of our company. As for the remainder of the article, I do not need to say anything. My past and my present record alike make them ridiculous. Sincerely yours,

Julian Hawthorne.

SIX MINE CONCENTRATORS AND TWO CUSTOM MILLS

Low Grade Milling Ore Will Shortly Add Much to Cobalt's Output.

COBALT, May 1.—(From the Man on the Spot.)—In another month Cobalt camp will have six mine concentrators and two custom mills treating Cobalt low grade ore.

Public attention has hitherto been chiefly centred on the sensational shipments of high grade ore from Cobalt mines, but the tonnage of low grade milling ore in the mines that are regular shippers to the smelter, is a source of future dividends that is already being worked.

There are many properties lying idle today that will soon be in the future pay dividends on their low grade ore bodies.

In some mines every stricker is worth following. Huge bodies of wall rock are infested with stringers that make good milling ore, and these stringers frequently run into width of sensational richness.

The mills now in operation are on the following properties: The Big Pete, owned by the Cobalt Central Co. The concentrator here treats 80 tons of ore daily, the mill's present capacity. The rock carries on an average 50 ounces of silver to the ton, and the silver savings are 87 per cent. Concentrates average 2000 ounces and 2500 ounces of silver in alternate carloads. Two cars of concentrates are now being shipped monthly, or 50 tons monthly, and sent to Copper Cliff smelter for treatment. Large ore bodies in mine broken for mill supply. Rols and Harding Conical Pebble mill, used for fine grinding. McKinley-Darragh-Mills' capacity 90 tons per diem, and now treating 80 tons daily. Stamps are used for fine grinding and savings are over 86 per cent. Sufficient ore is broken in mine to keep mill running for a long time. This ore will average over 50 ounces to the ton, and heavy shipments of high grade ore will also be made from this mine.

Buffalo—Capacity of mill 100 tons per diem, and mill kept running at full capacity. Superintendent Jones states that capacity will shortly be increased to 250 tons daily. Ore carries average silver values of 50 ounces to the ton and savings amount to 88 per cent. A cyanide process has now been installed and a saving of 94 per cent, is claimed for this process. Sufficient ore is broken down in the mine to keep mill running for two years at present capacity. Sixty tons of 2000 ounce concentrates are being shipped monthly to Copper Cliff smelter.

Coniag—Treating 80 tons daily, having average value of 50 ounces of silver to the ton. Silver savings amount to 87 per cent. Thirty stamps in operation. Ore bodies in mine over 30 feet wide that will average 100 ounces of silver to the ton. Ore broken in mine to supply mill for a year. Sixty tons of 2000 ounces of concentrates shipped monthly to the company's smelter at Thorold, Ont.

Muggins concentrator (custom)—Treats 70 tons of ore daily. Stamps used for fine grinding and silver savings amount to 85 per cent. The mill has treated ore from the dumps of Silver Queen, Townsley, City of Cobalt, Trethewey, Right of Way mine and has just finished treating experimentally ore from the various La Rose dumps. A car of concentrates has been sent to the smelters this week for La Rose. They will probably average 1800 ounces of silver to the ton.

O'Brien—Building completed and plant is now being installed. It will have a capacity of and will treat 100 tons daily. The ore will be transported from the different shafts to the mill by an electric railway. Stamps and Harding Conical Pebble mill will be used for fine grinding. The concentrator will be shipped to the O'Brien smelter at Deloro for treatment. Superintendent M. T. Culbert will have one of the largest and most complete concentrating plants in Cobalt camp.

Temiskaming will erect this summer a mill with capacity of at least 100 tons daily.

King Edward—Treats 25 tons daily with 10 stamps. The mill ore carries 150 ounces silver to the ton. The ore is broken in the mine and on dumps. The diabase wall-rock is heavily impregnated with leaf and sheet silver. The mill was only built experimentally. A much larger one will be erected.

Colonial—The only ore bodies located as yet on this property are low grade, but an ideal milling proposition. A concentrator will be erected almost immediately.

Nipissing custom mill (no connection with the Nipissing mines, but is located on one corner of Nip property)—This mill was designed on four mill principles. The idea was ridiculed by Cobalt mine superintendents, but an attempt was made by the old company to treat under the four mill process. A new system is now being installed, and a new company has charge.

Five Story Denied.
In reference to a Cobalt despatch that Elk Lake has had a disastrous fire, The World's man on the spot writes from Cobalt: "Central telephone office has been talking with Englehart and Charlton. They have heard from Elk City and deny any such disaster. Telegraph wires between Charlton and Elk City are down."

A Square Deal

That is the inducement offered by the FAIRPLAY MINING COMPANY which is to-day asking for the attention and co-operation of mining investors. This Company owns 160 ACRES OF MINING LANDS in the heart of the wonderful Silver Districts of Gowganda and the Montreal River.

The public to-day has learned to discriminate between promotions which aim to realize profits out of organization and those which have in view only the profits that will come from working of mines which nature has enriched.

Here is the situation briefly from beginning to end: This company found itself face to face with the opportunity of acquiring rich mineral lands in Gowganda and James Township--80 acres, or two properties in each district. It was an opportunity such as these experienced mining men could not ignore. The properties were acquired. Investigation proved the mineralization to be even more extensive than had been represented in the original report secured before the properties were taken over. It was ascertained that the mines at Gowganda were on the same ridge of diabase as all the wonderful discoveries at that camp. It was noted that the properties were close to Gowganda City, terminal of the proposed railroad and government wagon road now being surveyed. The location of these mines clearly had great economic advantages for future mining operations.

The James Township group were found to have adjoining them a mining company which was bagging silver ore. The impression, following a personal investigation, was most favorable.

The gentlemen identified with the company estimated carefully the amount of money required for its purposes, and decided to place the capitalization low. It was placed at $500,000, par value shares of one dollar each. The price of this stock was placed at

Twenty-five Cents Per Share

The Company also decided that the potentialities of its capital should not be discounted in any way and no commission is paid for the sale of stock. Hence there are two distinct advantages in this company's plan:

Low Capitalization---No Brokerage on the Sale of Stock.

The Story of the Silver Fields.

The Company has issued a booklet that is conceded to be one of the best pieces of descriptive mining literature ever issued free of charge. This booklet tells the fascinating history of the great silver camps of Gowganda and the Montreal River. It will be sent on request free to any reader of The World, along with prospectus and maps, showing location of the Company's properties, official reports and so forth.

ENDORSE CENTENNIAL

Board of Trade Supports Movement to Commemorate Selkirk.

Resolved that the council of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto heartily endorses the proposed Selkirk centennial to be held in the City of Winnipeg in the year 1912, and earnestly requests that the Dominion Government give the project its generous support by granting such assistance as may ensure that the project will be carried out on a scale worthy of the Dominion.

The above resolution was carried at a meeting held in the board of trade building yesterday afternoon.

Five prominent western business men, H. M. Belcher, president of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto, D. E. Sprague, and P. O. Fowler of Winnipeg, and John Fleming of Brandon, who are on their way to Ottawa and Montreal, spoke at the meeting, explaining the project.

The deputation will visit the Montreal Board of Trade and the French Chamber of Commerce.

They will ask the general approval and support of these boards.

The centennial will commemorate the arrival in the Red River settlement of the Scotch settlers, brought to Canada by Lord Selkirk, which was the commencement of settlement in the interior of Canada.

The idea is to secure increased immigration and to increase the investment of foreign capital.

The intention is to organize and carry on the exposition on similar lines to the Lewis and Clarke expedition.

The committee will be in Ottawa to-day to interview the Dominion Government.

WANT FARES CUT

Niagara Falls People Think Ten Cent Rate Too High.

A motion was made yesterday before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board by J. M. Ferguson on behalf of the Board of Trade of Niagara Falls, asking for a revision of the passenger tariff of the International Railway.

At present the railway charges ten cents for three miles, and Niagara Falls people wish it reduced to five cents, as is charged by other electric roads.

A. W. Fraser of Niagara Falls appeared for the railway and questioned the jurisdiction of the board. The railways, he contended, came under the exception provided in the act, and its rates are subject to the Niagara Falls Park Commission. This commission had approved of the rates. An order in council had also been passed approving of them. Mr. Fraser stated that the park commission alone had control of the railway under the Park Act, and later by agreement which had been confirmed by the legislature.

Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C., who appeared for the Niagara Falls Park Commission did not question the jurisdiction of the board. But if the board decided it had no power to order a reduction in rates the commission would be willing to take the matter up.

Judgment will be handed out later.
