Concerning the Tax on Luxuries

Taxation, new for Canada, operative on and after May 19th, has become law by enactment of the Dominion Parliament. It covers a variety of goods which, on account of their use or their price, are classed as luxuries.

This store is held responsible by the Minister of Finance for the collection of this Luxury Tax direct from its customers. Needless to say, the store gains no benefit or emolument thereby. On the contrary, the entire amount of the tax collected is handed over by the store to the Government without remuneration or profit.

The store will perform this duty of tax collection required by the Government as a service to the country, with as little inconvenience to customers as possible. Our staff will take special pains to facilitate and explain the working of the new Act of Parliament till everybody becomes used to it.

Until official directions are received from Ottawa the store has provisionally adopted the following plan:

The bill for a purchase subject to Luxury Tax will show the amount of the tax separate from the price of the goods.

The privilege of returning goods will carry with it a refund of the tax collected in cash transactions or a reversal of the amount of the tax in charge accounts.

Customers are asked carefully to preserve bills of any goods likely to be exchanged or returned.

The Government will probably require production of the bill as evidence of the tax having been paid before any refund will be allowed.

Customers who order by telephone and wish to pay the driver may ascertain from our telephone operator if goods required are subject to Luxury Tax.

The Robert Simpson Company, Limited.
