"THE COME-BACK"

Companion Picture to "Pennington's Choice"

YOU WILL RECALL that most unusually attractive story "Pennington's Choice" a few months ago. Well, this new picture is every whit as interesting. It is the first of handsome Harold Lockwood and May Allison's Metro releases, and their pictures are certain to be in great demand. "The Come-Back" is a strenuous love-story of the out-of-doors.

SPORT NEWS OF THE DAY HOME AND ABROAD

HE TURF

At Moosepath Park

More than 1,000 people saw Lacopia race to first money over the favorite, Bob Mack, in the free-for-all event at the Moosepath track Saturday, with Bingen Light taking the 228 trot and pace in straight heats after Try Fast and a bad fall and threw a shoe in the first heat. The weather conditions were ideal. The track was perhaps a little heavy, but was well dragged after each heat. Bob Mack was picked to win the free-for-all, and looked good after winning the first mile, but Lacopia managed to brush in ahead on the last three heats. This, and the fact that Bob Mack was apparently being held on the stretch, led the judges to believe that Campbell was not bidding his horse to win, and called him to the stand, cautioning him that it was evident that Bob Mack was capable of winning but was being held. He denied this, but the fact that the meet was not run under association rules prevented the judges from disciplining him.

An accident marred the first heat of the 228 trot and pace. With the four horses well bunched, Try Fast tripped in his hobble as he was rounding the first turn in the second half, fell and threw his driver, Charlie Sharron, over the side of the sulky. With the exception of a bad cut on his face and a shaking up, Sharron was not injured. The horse threw a shoe but ran in the remaining three heats and took third

BASEBALL

Evers is Sorry.

Captain Johnny Evers of the Boston National League baseball club, Friday night issued a formal statement expressing his "sincere regret" over the incident Thursday afternoon when he had an altercation with Third Baseman Smith of the home club and was ordered off the field by Umpire Byron.

"I am perfectly willing to admit I lost my head," the statement says. "It will be a day or two before I am able to get back into the game because of my back and neck, but I can promise that when I do return the Boston club shall have my best and most effective support every moment I am upon the field. That is no more than the club is entitled to. As for any feeling between 'Red' Smith and myself, let me say that we shook hands in the clubhouse this afternoon of our own volition, and I am quite sure that from now on we will be the best of friends."

Braves Lose Protest

Boston, Aug. 7.—The protest of the Boston Nationals against a decision of Umpire Eaton in a game here with Chicago on July 25, which the Braves claimed cost them the contest, has been dismissed by President Fener of the league, according to an announcement Saturday by President Haughton of the local club. The league executive ruled that the umpire's decision which gave Zimmerman of Chicago, three bases and a run on a throw into the dugout back of first base was correct. This run, which came in the eleventh inning, gave Chicago the game, 8 to 2.

Tinker Will Remain.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Joe Tinker will continue as manager of the Cubs, despite New York stories to the contrary. Owner Charles Weeghman, of the Bruins, called a yarn that Tinker was slated for the block with a statement that "it is absolutely untrue."

"The first I heard of it," he said, "was not to blame for the failure of the Cubs to show pennant form. The players are. Tinker will remain as manager, and we'll do all we can to bolster up the team."

Weeghman was en route to New York today to confer with Tinker regarding several prospective deals.

WRESTLING

Is Stecker Afraid of Gotch?

While Alexander Aberg, the giant Estonian, is the undisputed world's champion at Graco-Romana, the catch-as-catch-can title is still unsettled. The leading competitors are Robert Friedrich, who wrestles under the name of Stranger Lewis, and Joe Stecher, the scissor demon. Since the retirement of Frank Gotch, Lewis and Stecher have twice met on the pad in efforts to settle the question of supremacy but each bout resulted in drawn battles. Two years ago they wrestled to a draw in two hours and on July 4 they struggled for more than five hours without result other than to tire the spectators.

The manner in which Lewis has baffled Stecher and his scissor hold seem to indicate that it is not effective in the case of a first class opponent. Stecher has obtained the championship because of his victories over lesser men than have been thrown by Lewis and the latter has a much better right to the title than Stecher.

It appears that Joe Stecher, the scissor demon, is not as anxious for a tussle with Frank Gotch as he had led people to believe. Gene Melady of Omaha recently offered Stecher 80 per cent of the gate to meet Gotch, but as soon as the gate to meet Gotch, but as soon as Stecher found that Gotch had signed the articles for 40 per cent, he refused to meet the champion unless he got as much as Gotch did. All of which would seem to indicate that Stecher is not feverishly eager for a contest with Gotch.

Banking for School Children

By far the most important school movement today in the interest of thrift is the school savings bank. Do we Americans truly realize the magnitude of this endeavor? Today there are over $1,800,000 in these savings banks created by the school teachers, and more than 217,000 children are depositors. Founded in 1878 by a Belgian teacher, Professor Laurent of Ghent, the school banking system was first inaugurated in America at Long Island City by another Belgian, John H. Thirly, and today from Maine to California the youngsters are depositing their pennies and "jitties."

Generally the school keeps the child's money until the sum of $8 is reached and then deposits in the youngster's name in a savings bank paying three per cent. The amounts deposited in the cities since the beginning of the system have, of course, been large—$600,000 in Pittsburgh and $250,000 in Toledo—just in towns like Helena and Great Falls, Montana, and Chester, Pennsylvania, the savings of children are "big" as founding growth. From "The Country School's Re-Birth," by Carl Holliday, in the American Review of Reviews for July, 1916.

William Bennett of Elkland, Penn., a native of Preston Bisset, Buckinghamshire, Eng., has 60 cousins fighting with the British army in Belgium and France.

UNUSUAL SENSATIONS

The ingenuity of photo play producers knows no confines; examples of inventive cleverness every day are shown in moving pictures, and there remains hardly an incident of adventure or unusual complication that has not been pictured upon the screen. Uncommon achievements in this production include many enthralling scenes taken during a torrential downpour of rain, while bloodhounds trace an escaped slave; there are exciting struggles by land and a sensational rescue of a captive slave on ship-board; exciting scenes in which a girl slave is abducted and numerous other thrilling events which provide gripping interest to the film.

Of course, there is a love story with many complications, for in these days no film can be successful without an abiding heart interest to provide the background for the sensational events. It truly is drama that possesses unusual appeal.

White Sox Retain Lead With Red Sox in Second Place

Markle Wins First Game

Alexander Loses Game to St. Louis; Tyler and Rudolph Pitch Well For the Braves

The White Sox maintain their lead in the American League, although they are closely followed by the Red Sox. Fortunately for Cleveland they are meeting the helpless Yankees and are thus enabled to stay up at the top, despite the loss of Tris Speaker and Guy Morton.

Markle won his first game in the International League Saturday when he pitched for Toronto vs. Buffalo. If he can show better form as the season advances he will in all probability be recalled by the Yankees.

Failure of the Phillies to hit Watson cost Alexander a game. He held his opponents to five hits.

Tyler and Rudolph are showing good form and as a result the Braves are closing up with Brooklyn.

A DRAMA OF A WOMAN'S SOUL Mr. Edwin Thanhauser Presents The Superb FLORENCE LABADIE

"THE FIVE FAULTS OF FLO"

An original play written by Lloyd Lonergan, Author of "The Million Dollar Mystery," and many other successes.

The unusual standard of excellence established by this offering makes the use of superlative adjectives inadequate and unnecessary. The star and the play are presented for their own sterling value.

The story shows how a woman was cured of pride, extravagance, jealousy, sickness and envy.

The star, Miss Labadie, is known the world over as being one of the most beautiful and accomplished actresses appearing before the camera.
