Representative Business Men From All Sections Urge Unity of Action in Pressing Claims of East on Rest of Canada—Three Premiers Unable to Attend

BY J. J. DUNLOP

MONCTON, July 15.—Maritime claims for the betterment of economic conditions in these provinces will be crystallized into definite shape at a conference to be held in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, about the middle of September in time for formal presentation at a great Canadian economic convention to be held in the fall, according to a decision reached at the opening session of the Maritime conference here this afternoon, with representative business men from all parts of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in attendance.

The resolutions committee report, presented by A. D. Ganong, of St. Stephen, recommended that the subjects of transportation, industrial development, immigration and the economic status of the Maritime Provinces be discussed at the present conference and referred to select committees whose recommendations will be placed before the Charlottetown gathering. This was adopted unanimously and at the evening session all but the question of industrial development were carefully considered.

In Historic Chamber

Sentimental interest attaches to the decision to meet in Charlottetown, as the second conference will be held in the very chamber where the Fathers of Confederation met to discuss the Dominion pact. Wallace L. Higgins, Prince Edward Island, president of the Maritime Boards of Trade, under whose auspices this conference is being held, presided at the sessions, and seated with him on the platform were Miles E. Agar, vice president, and A. M. Belding, both of Saint John.

The special speaker at the afternoon session was Hance J. Logan, K.C., M.P., Amherst, his subject being the recent trade agreement with the West Indies. Mr. Logan made a deep impression by his explanation of this pact which he declared would operate greatly to the benefit of the Maritime Provinces.

Unity Is Keynote

The discussions at the evening conference, which lasted until 11 o'clock, were marked by pointed speeches of

Weddings

MacLauchlan-Spence
A wedding of interest took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Portland Methodist church when Kenneth E. MacLauchlan, eldest son of Rev. Neil J. MacLauchlan, was united in marriage to Miss Laura Spence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spence, 178 Chesley street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Neil MacLauchlan, assisted by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, pastor of the church.

The bride looked charming in a sand satin striped charmer traveling suit with hat to match and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss Dora Corbett, who wore a child fast crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Little Betty Spence, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore pale crepe de chene and carried a basket of sweet heart roses.

The bride was given away by her father and Henry D. Hopkins acted as best man. Miss Lillian Brownfield was organist and Miss Louise Knight sang "O Perfect Love." The groom is a member of the legal profession in this city. He is very popular among his associates and has a wide circle of friends who wish him every happiness. He is secretary of the commission appointed by the Provincial Government some time ago for the consolidation of the status of the Maritime Provinces on the Daily Telegraph and Globe reportorial staffs. The bride was a member of the teaching staff of King George School.

Mr. and Mrs. MacLauchlan left this afternoon on a honeymoon trip to Prince Edward Island. On their return they will spend the summer at Epworth Park.

Chesley-Tingley

SACKVILLE, July 15.—(Special)—A pretty wedding took place at 11:30 this morning in the Baptist church, Point de Bute, when Miss Janice Tingley, of Upper de Bute, was united in marriage to Byron F. Chesley, of Paradise, N. S. The church, which was filled with interested friends, was decorated with flowers. Rev. H. Carter officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, R. C. Tingley, looked very pretty in an ensemble costume of sand and tan, with hat to match. Arnold Tingley, nephew of the bride, acted as ring-bearer. Miss Emma Dixon played the wedding marches. The ushers were Charles A. Trueman and William I. Trueman. After the ceremony the happy pair left for P. E. Island on their wedding trip, after which they will reside in Paradise, N. S.

Strange-Sweeney

SACKVILLE, July 15.—(Special)—The Holy Rosary church, Middle Sackville, was a scene of a pretty wedding this morning, when Miss Pauline Sweeney and John Strange, both of Melrose, were united in marriage by Rev. Father R. B. Fraser. The bride, who is a popular school teacher, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Helena Hartnett. The groom was supported by Edward Hartnett. The newly-weds will reside in Melrose.

part of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Regarding the question of export business from the Maritime Provinces, he strongly advocated the use of Maritime ports instead of Montreal or Quebec. The speaker also touched on the technical aspects of the entire question.

Pleas for Unity

J. D. McKenna followed Mr. Ruckliffe. Referring to Mr. Logan's speech in the afternoon in which he referred to the unanimity of all political parties in regard to the West Indies agreement, Mr. McKenna declared there was a lesson in this for the Maritime Provinces. The time had arrived when all must work together and forget politics, he said.

Mr. McKenna then recounted the events leading up to the sending of Mr. Belding on his mission by the Maritime Provinces. He pointed out that while the other provinces had added much territory and grown in wealth and population, the Maritimes due rights had not been conceded. Touching the question of the old Intercolonial Railway, the speaker said the Maritimes wanted the Intercolonial back to its own status.

He suggested that at the coming Charlottetown conference, the Federal members of Parliament from the Maritime Provinces, the three Premiers and their cabinets be invited to attend in a strong effort to secure unity of action on Maritime rights.

New Plans in View

He declared the newspapers of which he was president were now working on a program to follow up this mission. Concluding, he made a plea for unity among the Maritime Provinces. On motion of Hance J. Logan, K.C., seconded by Mr. Lodge, a resolution of thanks was adopted expressing the appreciation of the conference for the efforts of the Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star in organizing this mission, making special reference to Mr. Belding's and Mr. McKenna's work in this regard. The motion carried with hearty applause. D. W. Robb, Amherst, also spoke briefly on the transportation question.

Urges U. S. Port Ban

Colonel MacLaren, in discussing the export question, gave figures to show that one-third of Canada's exports overseas were shipped through United States ports. He expressed the hope the conference would go on record as opposing the use of United States ports for Canadian exports.

Ch. S. Congdon, Dartmouth, N. S., delivered a forcible plea for the use of Halifax and Saint John ports for the shipment overseas of Canadian grain.

J. S. Armstrong, Fredericton, also advocated strongly the development of Saint John harbor. He said he also favored the construction of a canal at Bale Verte.

C. H. Vroom, St. Stephen, said Canada possessed a great natural harbor at the mouth of the St. Croix River that could be developed at an extremely small cost to easily handle the largest ships in the world.

Halifax Problems

E. A. Saunders, secretary Halifax Board of Trade, spoke briefly on Halifax problems and said the city still was suffering from lack of facilities. He paid a tribute to the work of Mr. McKenna in getting automobile shipments through the port of Halifax that were previously going through the United States port of New London.

Freight Rates

W. R. Turnbull, president of the Halifax Board of Trade, said he fully agreed with the principles on which

Deaths

Mrs. E. C. Sutton

R. H. Adamson

He was 77 years of age and had been engaged in custom milling for a great many years. He retired from this occupation about eight years ago. He is survived by two sons, Hepburn, at Jerusalem, and Donald, at Gagetown; also two daughters, Mrs. Frank Jewett, of Prince William, York county, and Mrs. Edward Jewett, in California.

Mrs. Reid McManus

MONCTON, July 15.—Mrs. Reid McManus, of this city, wife of Reid McManus, M.L.A. for Westmorland county, died last night in a Montreal hospital, according to word received in the city today. Mrs. McManus was prominent in Catholic Women's League circles in this city, and took an active part in many branches of charitable work.

Mrs. McManus was a native of Cape Breton. Besides her husband, she is survived by seven children, six daughters, Mary, Margaret, Winifred, Katherine, Frances and Janet, and one son, John, all at home. Three brothers, George McDonald, Halifax; Judge J. X. McDonald, Sydney, and Dr. D. F. McDonald, of Taunton, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph McDonald, North Sydney, and Mrs. E. P. Cunningham, Moncton, also survive.

Mrs. Joseph Foran

NEWCASTLE, July 15.—Mrs. Joseph Foran died this afternoon after an illness of six weeks. She leaves her husband and eight small children, also a brother, Charles Jarrett, of Newcastle. She was formerly Miss Gertrude Jardine, daughter of the late Michael Jardine.

the conference was called. He gave it as his opinion that the freight rate question was the most important question facing the Maritime Provinces today. Up to the war, the freight rates were fairly favorable but since then trouble had arisen through adjustments.

Afternoon Session

Following registration brief addresses of welcome were given by George O. Spencer, president of the Moncton Board of Trade, and Alderman Doiron, Deputy Mayor of Moncton. The delegates were warmly welcomed and the wish expressed that their deliberations would be productive of good for the Maritimes.

Belding Speaks

A fitting reply was made by Wallace L. Higgins, Charlottetown, president of the Maritime Board of Trade. He then called on A. M. Belding, Saint John, whom he described as the "father of the movement." Mr. Belding was greeted heartily. At the outset, Mr. Belding paid a tribute to the Moncton Board of Trade and President Higgins, without whose initiative and energy, he said, the conference would not have been called.

Continuing, Mr. Belding said: "Three things are involved in the development and progress of the Maritime Provinces. The first is what the people of each province may do for themselves. That is not a matter to be discussed at this

Reason for Meeting

"Why was this conference called? When the newspapers with which I am associated sent me across Canada to tell the story of the Maritimes, I was everywhere met with sympathy but also with a question. People in every city whom I addressed, or with whom I talked expressed sympathy but also asked what the Maritime Provinces really wanted the rest of the country to do. Wherever I spoke I advocated a national conference to consider the economic situation in Canada and to endeavor to remove as far as possible the causes of sectional feeling."

"Everywhere the idea of a national conference was approved, and I felt it was my duty on my return to the Maritimes to get an answer to the question as to what we wanted; and to make certain, if possible, that the Maritime Provinces would sit in as a unit at the national conference. With a clear cut statement of what in their opinion should be done, reasonable as to command the sympathy and support of representatives of the other divisions of Canada, who in turn would no doubt have proposals affecting them more than ourselves and yet of a national character, for which they would desire our sympathy and support."

To Promote Unity

"Have I made myself clear? We are met here today to decide upon ways in which we think the rest of the country may fairly be asked to assist in bringing prosperity to the Maritimes. While we represent the Maritime Provinces, we meet also as Canadians, anxious to promote national unity, and believing that what we will submit to representatives of the other divisions of Canada, will make for National, as well as local prosperity and unity."

"Matters affecting transportation, taxation, immigration and various others may properly be considered from the Maritime standpoint and yet be National in their significance. If, however, anyone among us entertains a thought of introducing politics I am sure you will all agree with me that his train is waiting."

Harmony First

"Also, that if any delegate thinks of introducing a purely local matter, he ought to change his mind; also, that no time should be wasted in discussion of past rights or wrongs, but that the discussion should be devoted entirely to ways in which our economic conditions may now be improved by the cooperation of the rest of the country. I have no hope that a complete preparation of our case can be accomplished today and tomorrow. If we can get into harmony, clear the ground, and refer to well qualified committees the preparation of statements to be submitted to a second conference, we shall have accomplished a great task. If a second conference is held, as I believe it should be, it ought to be held in Charlottetown, where in 1864 another famous conference adopted a policy which brought about the conditions that now bear so heavily upon our people."

Canada Watching

Mr. Belding then read extracts from letters he had received from all parts of Canada, evincing great interest in the Maritime movement for betterment.
