Social Notes Of Interest

Mrs. C. E. L. Jarvis and her daughter, Miss Ethel Jarvis, entertained on Saturday afternoon at the tea hour in honor of Mrs. Percy Hall, of Sydney, C. B., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jarvis. Mrs. C. B. Allan presided over the tea table and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Harold Partridge, Miss Edith Nae, of Westfield, Miss Alice Fairweather, Miss Eileen Gillis and Miss Louise Howard. Daffodils and jonquills made a pretty effect in the room. Among those present were Mrs. H. A. Powell, Miss Pauline Powell, Mrs. E. T. Sturdee, Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, Mrs. C. H. Fairweather, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, Mrs. Ralph Robertson, Mrs. Cyrus Shumway, Mrs. Walter Gilbert, Mrs. Silas Alward, Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Daniel Mullin, Mrs. E. Stanley Bridges, Mrs. Philip Nae, Mrs. Stanley E. Elkin, Mrs. M. A. Curry, Mrs. Frank Fairweather, Mrs. W. H. Shaw, Mrs. W. C. Rothwell, Miss Elsie Hanford and Mrs. Penniston Johnston.

Mrs. John Maclean, who entertained recently at a delightfully cosy tea, was a charming hostess again at the tea hour Friday afternoon for a fire-side entertainment for several guests. Mrs. Allan Rankine presided over the teacups and was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Mrs. W. A. Fisher, Mrs. W. Grant Smith and Mrs. Horace G. Black. Spring flowers made a pretty decoration in the room and centred the tea table. Among the guests were Mrs. William Ridd, Mrs. Shumway, Mrs. C. H. Fairweather, Mrs. Richard Arscott, Mrs. Robert Wisely, Mrs. J. Hunter White, Mrs. J. Lefferts Thorne, Mrs. R. Ernest Smith, Mrs. J. S. Bonnell, Mrs. J. Cecil Mitchell, Mrs. Robert B. Travis, Mrs. W. H. C. Mackay, Mrs. J. Charlton Berrie, Mrs. Adam P. Macintyre, Mrs. R. Max McCarthy, Miss Elizabeth Smith and Miss Florence Raimle.

Mrs. R. Downing Paterson, who was formerly superintendent of the Junior W. A. of Stone church, opened her home for the entertainment of the members and their friends on Saturday afternoon, when more than 100 guests were present at a tea. Cherry blossoms, made by the members of the W. A. were very natural in appearance and made the room a delightful bower. Mrs. A. L. Fleming and Mrs. Alfred Morrisey presided over the teacups in the pretty tearoom, where the prevailing decorations were enhanced with lighted pink candles. Mrs. Noel Sherton, Miss Celia Armstrong, Mrs. George L. Warwick and Mrs. Hammond Evans, the present superintendent, assisted in the arrangements for the tea at conveners. They were assisted in serving by members of the W. A., who were attractively gowned

Two Women Sentenced To Die For Murder Hope For Public Sentiment To Save Them

Two women are under sentence of death—one in a hangman's noose, and the other in the electric chair. Day by day their unrelenting end draws nearer; yet they are steadily growing more hopeful.

For each has a faith that the popular revulsion toward women paying the price in capital punishment may stay the hands of their executioners. If it were up to you, what would you do? Here are the cases. Decide for yourself:

IN SHADOW OF HANGMAN'S NOOSE, MRS. IDA HUGHES.

In Japanese kimono of delicate colors, Miss Florence Warwick, Miss Jean Dearborn and Miss Marion Weyman were assisted by Miss Christina Holburn, Miss Phyllis Shearson, Mrs. P. Foster, Miss Isabella Grant, Miss Mary Davidson, Miss Elsie Dearborn, Miss Margaret Cook, Miss Dorothy Bamford, Miss Marie Thorne and Miss E. Fritz. Those in charge of the tables for candy and fancy work were Miss Myra Fowler, Miss Marjorie Evans and Miss Edna Short, for the former and Mrs. Roberta Paterson and Miss Hilda Hall for the latter.

Mrs. J. Martin Colton, 182 Princess street, was a hostess yesterday afternoon at the tea hour for a few young friends at a fireside tea. Mrs. C. H. LaBillose, her mother, presided over the teacups. The young married people invited enjoyed the delightfully informal function.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Smith, of Annapolis Royal, N. S., are being congratulated upon the arrival of a baby daughter, who came to them in Montreal. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. J. Willard Smith and Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Borden, of Annapolis Royal, formerly of Mount Allison University, Sackville.

Miss Ethel Daniels, daughter of the Hon. O. T. Daniels, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, who is visiting Miss Zela Lamoreaux, has been the occasion for several delightful functions during her stay here. On Friday afternoon Mrs. G. E. Chester Gandy entertained at bridge, when the prizes were won by Miss Daniels and Mrs. McLeod. Mrs. Ael Blake presided at the tea table.

Miss Lamoreaux was a hostess on Friday evening in honor of Miss Daniels when the guests were Miss Dan-

ATLANTA, GA.

Mrs. M. C. Hughes, aged Southern matron, was found shot dead in the home of her son, Frank Hughes. His wife was in the house at the time of the shooting. Both were charged with the murder. But the woman was put on trial first.

It was contended by the prosecuting authorities that there was little love lost between the old lady and her daughter-in-law. They proved that the mother-in-law had to obtain a warrant to search her son's house, to get some things that belonged to her. As she was stooping over a trunk, she was shot.

On the witness stand, the younger Mrs. Hughes told a marvellous story of abuse at the hands of her mother-in-law. She did not mention the shooting, declaring that she remembered nothing about it. Her testimony was the sole defence in the case.

She was found guilty; and was sentenced to die on the gallows March 14.

If she pays the death penalty, she will be the third white woman in Georgia to do so. Mrs. Polly Barclay was executed about 1847 for the murder of her husband; Susan Eberhardt paid with her life for the murder of another man's wife.

But Mrs. Hughes keeps on hoping that she will not join their list. And her husband keeps on praying for her. For his is a triple anguish. His mother is dead; his wife is condemned to die; and he will soon be placed on trial for his life.

He remembers that in the Eberhardt case the husband was hanged for the same offence as the wife.

Gregory, Rev. Cecil Markham, Mr. A. H. Harshaw, Mr. Irving Cochrane and Mr. Garnet Wilson. Bridge was played and the prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Miss Hortense Maher was a charming hostess yesterday afternoon for a mixed company of the younger set, who spent enjoyably the tea hour at her residence, Douglas avenue.

Mrs. John F. MacLaughlan of West St. John, who is in Boston, Mass., under special physician's care is recovering after a serious illness and expects to return home by the first of April.

Mrs. Murray R. Cliff and son, Wilmont of Vancouver, B. C., are visiting Mrs. E. R. Hagerman, 180 Wentworth street.

Miss Agnes Warner, R. N., who has been in New York for some time, has returned home.

Mrs. George McAvity Bilzard left for Montreal on Saturday, where she will visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. Murray Sinclair, who was operated upon in the General Public Hospital a few days ago, is recovering nicely.

Miss Elizabeth Henderson, 173 Douglas avenue, left on Saturday to spend the remainder of the winter in New York and Philadelphia.

CROWD TOO BIG FOR CHURCH TO HOLD

Scores of people vainly endeavored to get seats in the Prince Edward street church last night, to hear the famous colored male quartette. The aisles were crowded both in the gal-

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Mattie S. Jones came from Georgia. She went to work in Philadelphia, fell in love with William Martin, and became his common-law wife.

After a dance one night, they quarrelled. Later the man was killed in the girl's room. The police said she murdered him in a fit of jealousy; she said she shot him in self-defence. On the jury was a woman. But that didn't keep it from bringing in a verdict of guilty. The court sentenced her to die in the death chair.

"No women have been electrocuted in this state, as far as the records show," says J. Austin Norris, the convicted woman's lawyer. "And we don't propose to let Mattie Jones be the first. Appeal will be filed, and the case re-opened, we hope."

And the 26-year-old woman in her cell maintains the hope.

lery and on the ground floor. A large number of extra chairs was provided. Rev. A. W. Roffe, Canadian superintendent, was in charge of the service, and Rev. Oswald J. Smith, of Toronto, preached the sermon, giving his second message in his series on "Eternal Life." The quartette sang with their usual vigor.

Mr. Smith will continue his series on "Eternal Life" each night this week. He will continue to speak on "Spiritual Warfare" in the afternoon. Yesterday both morning and afternoon, Rev. A. W. Roffe gave story messages on questions of reparation to Christ, his subject being: "Characteristics of Watching Saint." There were large audiences on both occasions.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

COCOANUT.

Cocoanut is high in food value, containing much fat, a high percentage of starch and some protein and mineral salts.

Consequently a made dish containing cocoanut is a rich, energy producing food and should supplement a scant meal, made up of foods rich in mineral salts and disolvents.

Cocoanut Pudding.

Two cups milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 whites eggs, 1 cup grated cocoanut. Dissolve cornstarch in a little cold milk and scald. When ready to boil slowly stir in cornstarch and cook until thick and smooth. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Fold into mixture and cook one minute. Add cocoanut and turn into a mold to chill and set. Serve with boiled custard made with the yolks of the eggs.

Protein, 183 calories; fat, 551 calories; carbohydrate, 718 calories. Iron, .005 gram.

Cocoanut Pie.

One cup grated cocoanut, 2 cups milk 8-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1-2 teaspoon salt. If prepared cocoanut is used, use one-half cup or one-third cup sugar. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Beat in sugar. Beat in milk. Add cocoanut. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry with salt and two tablespoons water. Fold into yolk mixture. Turn into a deep pie dish lined with pastry and bake 80 minutes in a moderate oven. Protein, 183 calories; fat, 1289 calories; carbohydrate, 1187 calories. Iron, .005 gram.

FAMILY FROM IRELAND.

Included in the passenger list of the C. P. R. liner Montrose which docked Sunday was a family of nine from Belfast, Ireland, a happy, healthy and well-dressed household. They were en route to the West. During the voyage, and while in this city, they added much happy spirit to their ship's company and if one were to judge, by their outward show of good fellowship and family affection, these Irish folk will be a valuable contribution to the sum total of Canada's nine million-odd people.

Keeps The Gums Healthy

Shrinking, tender gums are the precursor of dental trouble. Ordinary pastes have little effect on the gums—but the bubbling foam of Minty's Tooth Paste laves them with soothing prophylactics, keeping them firm and healthy.

Soft fluffy blankets

Woolens must be washed very carefully. A strong soap shrinks and coarsens wool just as it chafes and reddens a delicate skin.

The original soft fluffiness of your best blankets can be entirely lost by washing them with the wrong soap or washing powder.

Keep them soft and downy

Lux won't shrink or mat your blankets. It keeps them soft and fluffy. With the pure Lux suds you don't have to rub the delicate wool fibres. Just squeeze the rich lather through and through them, and the dirt floats off.

Fresh Towels Every Day

A large laundry like the New System is a great place to check the changing habits of a people.

Daily counts of the washes sent here by thousands of families point to a higher standard of living brought about in part by the lower cost of the New System Wet Wash. Home washing with these thousands now is a thing of the past—too costly, and too trying.

With cleaner linen cheaper, folks feel no need to make things last another day or so. Better for the life of the goods, too. Pays in every way. And fresh linen has its effect on you, hasn't it?—especially when economical.

Now you'll like Bran!

You Need Bran Even More in Winter Use It Every Day!

SUMMER means a lot to your health. It means exercise, long hours out of doors, fresh vegetables—these help to keep you fit.

Not so in Winter!

In Winter you are inclined to take less exercise. You can't play your favorite games. You eat heavier, blood-heating foods.

You need Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat! You need it even more in Winter than you do in Summer. You need it regularly—every day. And that is why Post's Bran Flakes is tremendously popular. You like it—you like its flavor, its crispness, its deliciousness. It is bran in Nature's way—not harsh, not irritating, not dry as you've known it.

And it is effective! It clears your body of poisons that would otherwise rob you of health and vigor. It gives you that feeling of fitness known only to those whose bodies get enough roughage. It is an appetizing, natural laxative cereal food—just that!
