IMPERIAL
Today's Feature Picturizes One of Fiction's Sweetest, Most Fragrant Novels.
"LAVENDER AND OLD LACE"
Have you ever known—or heard of—the sort of devotion that could keep a woman faithful to a memory over a very long period of years? Myrtle Reed made a woman's devotion the theme of this her best-loved novel. Every critic who has previewed the production is unanimous in declaring it to be one of the sweetest, cleanest, finest, most entertaining pictures ever brought to the screen. And the comedy worked into it will give you many a merry laugh.

MILK
For Young and Old Alike
Nature first gives the infant milk. Why ever stop it? Why deny nature?
For the growing child, for the young man and woman, and for the mature years, milk is a needed food.
Drink it slowly—eat it. That insures complete digestion. Consider milk in the place of heavier slowly digestible foods. Use milk as a substantial part of your meal.
Begin today to drink more milk. Teach every member of the family to know its value.
Pacific Dairy's milk is good milk. "It's Pasturized."

160 TAKEN IN RAID ON BARN GAMBLERS
Fifty Police Storm Big Building and Find Cards and Paraphernalia.
Passaic, N. J., May 10.—Fifty policemen under County Detective Nathaniel Shane and Captain of Detectives Benjamin Turner late on Saturday afternoon raided an alleged gambling establishment in a two-story barn on Brook avenue, which netted them 160 prisoners. Fines of $25 and $10, and a few instances suspended sentences, were meted out to the defendants when they were arraigned before Recorder Thomas Costello. Three alleged operators of the gambling house were held for the Grand Jury.
The property on which the barn is located is owned, the police said, by Thomas Foxhall Sr., former Passaic fire chief and one time member of the city council.
Shane and Turner set out with their men in automobiles to raid the place.
