VENETIAN GARDENS SOON TO BE READY

Mr. Lynwood Prepared to Receive Applications for Dancing Lessons to Begin Nov. 11.

Day and night, carpenters, masons, painters and electricians have been rushing work on the Venetian Gardens, which will soon be ready for business. A definite date to be announced in a few days. The proprietor, Mr. Lynwood, reputed to be one of the best dancing instructors in the business, and a professional of metropolitan experience, will be ready at his improvised office on next Tuesday to receive applications for pupils either private or in class, lessons to begin on Nov. 11.

The teaching department of the Venetian Gardens is expected to be of much importance, as Mr. Lynwood is prepared to instruct in the various forms of fancy dances. Mr. Lynwood also claims wide experience in child instruction and will be glad to hear immediately from mothers of the little ones.

Next week's detailed announcement will not only serve to disabuse any impression that the Gardens will be too high priced, but even more clearly indicate that a long felt want is being filled.

"BUBBLES" AT THE UNIQUE

Dainty Mary Anderson in the fun bubbling joy creating scene story "Bubbles," will be the attraction at the Unique first three days next week. Nothing said, nothing bad in "Bubbles." Just a suggestion of unrestrained joy which will prove a delight to patrons.
