"Spitter" Hurts Digestion
Excessive use of the spitball has injured Ed Walsh's digestion and has affected his condition, so that he has not yet reached his best form this year, according to Dr. James H. Blair, club physician of the Chicago Americans, in a report on the pitcher's condition. Walsh is quoted as saying his arm "is far from right," and attributing his success in the game with New York last Sunday to his "headwork." According to the doctor saliva needed for Walsh's digestion has been used on the ball, but with care the pitcher may be in his old-time form in a month.

Tinker Buys a Pitcher
Manager Tinker, of the Cincinnati National League baseball team, has purchased Pitcher Nelson from the Philadelphia National League team for $1,500, his waiver price. Nelson will don a Cincinnati uniform today.

The Batmen
Chicago, May 28—Two National League, C. McDonald, of Boston, and Randall, of New York, topped the 400 mark in the batting averages last week, each hitting .429, the former in eleven games, and the latter in eleven. They are still considerably behind the pace set by Ty Cobb, however. The Detroit star pushed his average up to .591.

to rank next to Cobb with .450. Jackson, of Cleveland, follows the Washington comedian with .428. Ed Collins, of Philadelphia, is fourth with .408, and Henri Henriksen, of Boston, is fifth best batter for the week in the American league with .381. Milan, of the Washington team is as fast as ever on the bases.

Records show he has stolen 24 bases so far this season, ten ahead of his nearest rival, as a base runner, Bush, of Detroit, and Mueller, Washington, are next with 14 each. Herzog, New York, leads the National league with 121 R. Meyers, of Boston, has 11, and Murray, New York, B. Merkle, New York, and Lobert, Philadelphia, ten each.

Chance Gets New Man.
New York, May 26—The trade by which shortstop Peckinbaugh comes from the Cleveland club to the New York Americans in exchange for infielder Stump and outfielder Leibold is expected by Manager Chance to fill the long existing gap in the Yankee's field. Derrick, Stump and McKechnie have been tried successively, but none has solved the shortstop problem. In Peckinbaugh the Yankees have obtained a player with a fielding record of .924 in 69 games for Cleveland last year, only four of the regulars in this position tagging him. His batting average was .312.

The Cleveland club will be the fourth club in the American league in which Leibold has seen service. He started out with the Philadelphia Athletics, then went to Washington, from which city he was sent to Rochester. He was brought to New York last season.

THE RING

Rivers and Ritchie
Joe Rivers will fight Champion Willie Ritchie in San Francisco on July 4 for the light-weight title.
Following the announcement today by Promoter McCarey that he had been unable to induce Ritchie to meet the Spanish boxer at Vernon on Independence Day and consequently he, McCarey, would release Rivers from his agreement to appear at Vernon on that date, Manager Joe Levy wired an acceptance of the terms offered by Ed Graney, the San Francisco promoter.

McCarey today received a telegram from Nolan flatly refusing to fight Vernon, and declaring that Ritchie would fight at San Francisco on the holiday date and nowhere else.
"Ritchie does not box for Graney on July 4, we will accept a match in Victoria on Dominion Day, July 1," wired Nolan. "A syndicate of very wealthy Britainers are seeking to promote a match between Ritchie and Freddie Walsh for that date."

Rather than stand in the way of Rivers' championship ambitions, McCarey then released him from his contract.
Rises to $10,000
Pais, May 26—The court of appeal has given its decision in the case of Leon Albert, a boxer, in February, 1911, Albert was cycling when run over by a motor-car. His shoulder blade was broken. He entered an action against Doctor Maurice, the owner of the car, and was awarded $7,000. It appears that twelve years ago Albert was one of the few men thought worthy of next prizes for the world's championship, and he earned from $1,500 to $2,000 a year in boxing and teaching.

Professor Riclas having testified that Albert was permanently incapacitated for further boxing, the damages were awarded. The defendant's counsel, ejaculated: "Nobody ever heard of such a price for a shoulder-blade!" M. Claretie, for the boxer, was equally indignant at this "meagre compensation" for the loss of his whole career, and both parties appealed. The high court confirmed the award, and increased the sum to $10,000.

Rives vs. Ritchie
Los Angeles, May 27—Joe Levy, manager of Joe Rivers, Los Angeles light-weight, has telegraphed a final acceptance of the offer of Ed Graney, a San Francisco promoter, for a twenty-round bout with Willie Ritchie on July 4, for the light-weight championship.

Johnson Arrested Again
Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, and his chauffeur, J. H. Robinson, were arrested in front of the Chicago City Hall, on Monday afternoon, by Sergeant Lobell, of the city vehicle department. Johnson was charged with failing to have a state license on his automobile and Robinson was arrested because he was unable to produce a chauffeur's license. They were taken to Central station and hooded and then released.

"The police are hounding me," Johnson shouted at Sergeant Lobell, "and the next time one of the policemen arrests me I'll blow his head off!"

AQUATIC

Argonauts May Not Go
Toronto, May 27—Unless W. E. G. Murphy can obtain leave of absence from the Dominion Bank, the Argonaut senior eight will not go to England this year to row for the Grand Challenge cup. This decision was arrived at last night. Number two position in the eight has not yet been settled on; Rice, Wickson and Keith fighting for the honors. Murphy's position, number four, will be hard to fill.

McGraw's Review of the Big Leagues By JOHN J. MCGRAW Manager of the Champion Giants

(Copyrighted, 1913, by John J. McGraw)
From the flock of clubs in the National League a dark horse has shot out into the lead, and a team of which nothing was expected before the race started is making threatening gestures toward the pennant. The Philadelphia Phillies, which were considered a long shot, to which scant attention was paid at first, is holding up altogether too well for comfort. The Quakers may repeat the trick the Boston Sox pulled last year when nobody thought that team would win the flag until they had it flying at the masthead.

The Giants will play the Philadelphia club at the Polo Grounds this week, beginning on Thursday. The two teams will meet in four games in three days, a double header being scheduled for Friday, Memorial Day. This is our best chance to stop the Quakers now, because immediately afterwards they will swing out through the west and encounter the weaker part of the league. It is not rated at present. Three or four games are bound to be pitchers' battles and a good deal depends upon their outcome. The Philadelphia club has ways been a tough one for the Giants to beat, but I believe we will clean up in this series because my team is in better shape right now than it has been so far this season.

To recall a little ancient history, it was the Philadelphia bunch that had apparently thrown the Giants out of the running back in 1911, when they best my club badly in a disastrous series in the first part of July. Later, the Giants swung through the west on the Philadelphia team and won the pennant in a whirlwind or a Garstion finish. It should be better with the Giants than he ever was with Cincinnati since he will

Steady Old Matly
The Giants lost their early season games for three reasons—the club floundered, did not hit, and only one of the regular pitchers was anywhere near his form. These reasons seem to be sufficient. This one twirler was Christy Mathewson, who has always been the man to step into the breach any time the New York club needed a steadier. Marquard is back in shape once more now, and I look to see him aid the team more this year than he did last, although I do not anticipate any such sensational winning run as he made in 1912. It was this that slowed him up so much later along in the season after his long streak was broken, and he began to let down from his nerve strain.

Pitching has been my urgent need and that is why I made the trade with Cincinnati last week by which Fromme came to New York. Fromme is a good pitcher, a man who has improved greatly within the last two seasons. He should be better with the Giants than he ever was with Cincinnati since he will

Great Danger
The great danger that is threatening the Giants now is from the lead that the Quakers are opening up on the field. If we can hold them to the margin they have attained now, the team will break the heart wrenching task of setting the pace before the end of August. It will take a well balanced club to go to the front in April and stay there through October. The Giants had attained bigger jumps last summer than the Philadelphia boys have now, and they were almost caught in late August.

Personally, I prefer to keep my team merely within striking distance until the last two months of the race. What breaks the heart of a club is to get out in front from the first and stay there through the greater part of the race, and then to watch some other club creep have a better ball club behind him and one that will keep him working continually to win games.

I hated to let the other players go, but, as I have frequently said, there is no sentiment in baseball, and I thought I saw a chance to strengthen my team where it needed bolstering. The exchange of players should benefit both clubs. Tinker is building for the future as he knows that he has not a chance this year. I wanted quick relief to improve my chances of winning the pennant. One more pitcher who is reliable should help the club immensely.
Most of all, I hated to let Ames go, because, with Mathewson and Witte, he was the last of the old guard of 1904 and 1905, my first championship team. Ames is a good pitcher, but he is famous for his hard luck. Devore is another pitcher who has done much for the Giants, especially in important series, such as the games for the world's title. He is game and fast. He hated to leave New York, too.
"Where am I going, Mac?" he asked me when he heard of the swap.
