EFFECT OF GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY IS SOON REALIZED

I feel it my duty to let you know what Swamp-Root did for me. I was bothered with my back for over twenty years and at times I could hardly get out of bed. I read your advertisement and decided to try Swamp-Root. Used five bottles, and it has been five years since I used it, and I have never been bothered a day since I took the last bottle of it. I am thoroughly convinced that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root cured me. I would recommend it to others suffering as I did.

My husband was troubled with kidney and bladder troubles and he took your Swamp-Root and it cured him. This was about five years ago.

You may publish this letter if you choose.

Yours very truly,
MRS. MARY CAWFIELD,
Blind, Bleeding or Prolapsus of the Uterus, 15th of July, 1909.

THREE MORE POLICEMEN; ONE OF THEM MOUNTED

The last meeting of the board of public safety as it is at present constituted was held last evening. Ald. Vanwart presiding. It was decided that the order of council passed at the first of the year, providing for three additional policemen, one of them mounted, should go into effect at once. An order was passed to purchase summer helmets for the policemen; repairs were ordered for No. 4 engine-house, and an order was passed to set aside certain city land in Lancaster for a sewer for the municipals and a number of minor matters dealt with.

Those present, in addition to the chairman, were: Ald. Jones, Scully, Sprout, McLeod and Russell, with the chief of police, director and common clerk.

The director was instructed to make a report on an application from County Secretary Kelley, for a lease of a small point of land near Greenhead, for a summer cottage.

Owen McDonald was granted a lease of lot No. 44 in Collins street, a house in Duke street purchased from Wm. Thompson was ordered torn down; a renewal lease was granted to Maud S. Dickey on half a lot No. 234 Crown street, and the sum of $100 was ordered returned to the Citizens' Committee for rental of Carleton City Hall.

It was decided to place an arc lamp at the corner of Metal and Albert streets, the director was instructed to report on the purchase of a lot in the rear of No. 1 Engine House, and a report on the Merryweather and Miller leases was adopted.

Chief Clark said that the new patrol wagon was almost ready, and asked that the board decide on a suitable place to house it. He also brought up the matter of additional patrolmen, and the board recommended the immediate appointment of three new men.

Ald. Vanwart said that this would be the last time he would be presiding over the board, and he wished to thank the members, the officials and the press for kindly feelings toward him during his six years at the council. Ald. Scully, Russell and Sprout also spoke of their regret at Ald. Vanwart's departure from the council, and the meeting adjourned.

JACOB WENDELL DEAD

Jacob Wendell Jr., a member of a famous New York family, is dead in New York. The son-in-law of the late John Jay, he died last Tuesday, when he appeared in a new play, "What the Doctor Ordered" in New York.

"Jake" Wendell has been known for more than 20 years better than any other of the younger alumni of Harvard as a singer and composer of songs and an amateur actor, later a professional. He inherited from his father's estate enough money so that he never needed to work.

He was married April 16, 1885 to Miss Marian Fendall of Washington, D. C., a daughter of an old Virginia family. Mrs. Wendell had four children survive.

Mrs. Fiske, at St. John Art Club Monday evening, the subject of the artist's criticisms by Cox. Messrs. Miles were complimented on their exhibition of pictures. The social hour was in charge of Mesdames R. G. Murray and W. S. Shaw.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A FEW days ago a young girl came to me to tell me that in the course of a five minutes' walk through a park in this city she had been insulted by seven men.

She said she thought such conditions were disgraceful and that I ought to write something about it.

Since then I have talked the matter over with five of my women friends and acquaintances who know this park.

None of them has ever been accosted more than once or twice in all her experience with the place.

Three of them cross it daily on their way to work, returning after nightfall in the winter, and the others have occasion to pass that way very frequently.

One girl all last winter was obliged to pass through the park three nights a week at ten o'clock when returning from evening work.

Incidentally two of these girls are very pretty and the others at least attractive looking.

How do I account for this?

Do I think the first girl was lying?

Not at all.

My explanation is just this: Except when a man is drunk and not accountable, in nine cases out of ten when a man speaks to a girl he selects the girl adversely.

He isn't apt to speak to a quietly dressed girl, who is going straight ahead about her business, head up, looking neither to the right nor left, and neither expecting nor thinking of possible insults.

He is apt to speak to the flashily dressed girl with the sauntering gait and the sidelong glance, the girl who rather expects someone to speak to her, and who, however coarse she may be and protest against such attentions as a tribute to her overpowring attractiveness.

There are of course a few incoherent "mashers" who will speak to any girl at any time. We have all had our experiences with those. But as a rule a man does not attempt to pick a girl up until he has sized her up to be that kind.

Depend upon it, the girl who is always coming home with some terrible tale of a man who followed her on the street or of an impudent fellow on the train isn't the persecuted little Puritan she represents herself to be.

Maybe conditions in that park do need purifying, but unless I have some rather different evidence of "fact," see other pen than mine will have to lead the crusade.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY MEMBERS AT BANQUET

Englishmen of St. John at the annual dinner of St. George's Society at the Dufferin Hotel last evening, heard the ideal of world peace and of imperial federation discussed by eloquent speakers. There was a large attendance at the dinner and the excellent speeches following the good dinner were thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, premier of the province, in responding to the toast "The Day We Celebrate," pictured the future of Canada as a part of an imperial federation with a council at Westminster making enactments for the governing of the empire and also advocated an imperial system of the control of a central authority.

An address by U. S. Connel Culver in reply to the toast "The President of the United States," which dealt with arbitration as proposed by President Taft, was in the absence of the consul, read by Vice Consul Carrigan and was very favorably received.

Mayor J. H. Frink, president of the society, sat at the head of the tables with the president, Hon. J. D. Hazen, and Hon. B. R. Macaulay, president of St. Andrew's Society, on his left. The president of St. Andrew's Society, the U. S. Consul, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Col. W. M. Humphrey, D. O. C. were also invited guests.

Major Frink, in reply to a toast of bearing was carried out with every attention to detail. F. A. Kinnear acted as marshal and white roses were first brought into the room by the two cooks dressed in white and presented to the president. Every member wore a red and white rose.

Diagrams were read by the president. Mayor Frink, in reply to greetings, wired by him on behalf of St. George's Society to the societies in New York, Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, Hamilton and Guelph. Telegrams were sent to Ottawa, Quebec and London, Eng.

After the toast to the King, H. A. Powell, K. C. in response to the health of the governor-general and lieutenant-governor spoke of the illustrious men who had held the post and paid tribute to the present lieutenant-governor.

His Honor Governor Tweedie responded by saying that the task of responding to the toast of the governor-general was an easy one, as Earl Grey was one of the most popular viceroys Canada had ever had.

Walter E. Foster proposed the health of the President of the United States, read the speech prepared by him and the address referred to the efforts being made by the president of the United States for a world peace pact. He put forward arbitration as the solution.

J. C. Atherton a former president of the society made an excellent speech in proposing the toast "The Day We Celebrate."

Hon. J. D. Hazen said that England needed the colonies as much as they did the motherland and it seemed to him that the nation should draw together for purposes of trade and commerce. He was in favor of an imperial council and thought it was most practicable. The annexation idea had no supporters.

Col. Sturdee proposed the toast to the Imperial forces, which was responded to by Col. Humphrey. At that point Governor Tweedie retired and at the request of the president he was given three hearty cheers.

The toast to sister societies was responded to by B. R. Macaulay for St. Andrew's and Judge Ritchie for St. Patrick's. Dr. Thos. Walker proposed the toast of "F. E. Huntington" ally proposed the Ladies and F. A. Kinnear made a pleasing reply.

During the evening, Holder and Wallace's orchestra, with E. W. Wilbur at the piano rendered appropriate music. Rev. E. B. Hooper, chaplain of the society, sang "The Englishman with good effect and solo by Fred McKean, Robert Seely and D. B. Falconer were also heartily accorded. D. Arnold Fox was accompanist.

IMITATION COUGH CURES

Is an Imitation Cough Medicine Good Enough for Your Children?

When you don't want him to send a young medical student he has in his office, you would rather have the young fellow experiment on somebody else.

No more do you want imitations of the medicine you know to be of proven value in the cure of disease.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linaeed and Turpentine in the cure of croup, bronchitis and colds has proven too great a temptation to imitation. They expect you to take chances with their imitations. The price is a few cents less.

Imitations are never so cheap, but depend upon it, they are not so good. You don't want to experiment on, and for this reason will insist on the genuine. The U. S. Social and Health Book, Chase, M. D., the only Receipt Book author, on the bottles.

As it is made of the ingredients of proven value, it is well suited for use as a treatment for children. That it is effective in the cure of croup, bronchitis, whooping cough and the most severe coughs and colds is attested by its many years of continued success and enormous sales. It is sold by all dealers of Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.
