

The 'Imperial' Leads Them All An Unsolicited Testimonial

Black Tickle, Labrador, August 15, 1916.
Mr. C. E. Russell,
Dear Sir,—It pleases me very much to be able to give praise to the 5 h.p. Imperial Engine which I bought from you this spring. It has given me the best of satisfaction, and I can honestly recommend them to any fisherman wanting a reliable Engine.
There are some five or six different makes of Engines used here, but the IMPERIAL can lead them all. It can steam faster than any of the five and a half of any kind used here.
Wishing you all success. Yours truly,
MARK MORRISSEY,
North River.
C. E. Russell, Bay Roberts, Agent for the "Imperial."

"Imperial" Engine

The first cost of a motor engine is important. The life of the engine is also important. Some engines wear only a short time, others go on doing duty for years; The cooling or water circulation has a lot to do with it. This an "Imperial" has. You can run the "Imperial" at the highest speed and yet keep it as cool as you wish.

The Mother's Call

There's a quiet grave in Flanders,
Where a soldier sleeps tonight;
He will hear no more the cannon's roar
And the clamor of the fight;
But I seem to see his dear face
Through a mist of anguish-tears:
Ah! the woman's part is the broken heart
And the burden of lonely years.
I had no wish to stay him,
Or to shelter him at home;
I'd have blushed that scorn should have been borne
By him in the years to come
So I cheered him when he left me,
I was proud that he should be
Just one to fight in the cause of right
And the battle of the free.

But 'tis hard for many a mother
Who has given her best today,
To see her son in every street
Who are throwing their chance away.
Who on fields of sport and pleasure
Are waiting and playing still
And will not heed their country's need
Or hasten the gaps to fill.

We plead with you young Britons,
We mothers who cannot go
To take your place with a manly grace
And vanquish a brutal foe:
There are little children's voices,
There are maidens and old folks too,
From an ocean grave call you to save
The weak that depend on you.
And remember if you should falter
And play the craven's part,
While your native land by a faeman's hand
Is pierced to the inmost heart,
Twill be hard for you in the future
When your son shall come to know
That his father, when we needed men,
Was a shirker and would not go.
—Jean K. Laughland.

Cardinal Falconio Dead

Cardinal Dioneo Falconio, in his early days rector of the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Harbor Grace and later Apostolic Delegate to the United States, and more recently Prefect of the congregation of religion affairs, died at Rome on February 7. He was brought to Newfoundland by the late Bishop Carignan when the latter was appointed Bishop of Harbor Grace in the '70's and acted as rector of the Cathedral there for some years. Then he returned to Italy with the Bishop and gradually won prominence in the Roman Catholic Church, being appointed Apostolic Delegate at Washington about fifteen years ago, and created Cardinal and transferred to Rome about five years back. During his residence at Washington he was visited by many Newfoundlanders when in that city, and was always glad to welcome them and to chat about old times in this Colony.

THEY MADE HIM A DIFFERENT MAN

What B. Draper Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills

His Troubles Were Numerous and of Long Standing, But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Drove Them All Away.

Sedley, Sask., Feby. 14th (Special).—"Dodd's Kidney Pills made me a different man." The speaker was Mr. Benjamin Draper, well known and highly respected here. He is a fine healthy representative of the prairie provinces and he says he owes his health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.
"I was in bad shape all round when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Draper continued. "My trouble came from hard work when I was young. My joints got stiff, my muscles cramped and I suffered terribly from a sore back. I was depressed and low spirited, I was always thirsty and I had flashes of light before my eyes.
"I had rheumatism and heart flutterings, my appetite was fitful, my memory was failing and I was troubled with shortness of breath. Four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made me a new man."
Dodd's Kidney Pills cured all Mr. Draper's troubles because they all came from sick kidneys. If you have any of his symptoms Dodd's Kidney Pills will help you.

Parliament Opens

London, Feb. 7.—The opening of Parliament, always picturesque, was shorn of much of its color and pomp. The peers wore none of the customary robes and regalia. The King was clad in Khaki uniform and all the lords and members of the House of Commons who are entitled to wear either khaki or navy blue followed the example of the King. The Imperial escort consisted of officers of Overseas Contingent forces. The Royal gallery in the House of Lords was set apart for wounded soldiers for the first time in history of Parliament. The importance of the foreign press was recognized by the allotment of seats in the press gallery to correspondents from Allied countries. The weather was clear and crisp and as the Royal procession passed from Buckingham Palace to the House of Parliament dense crowds lined the streets. King George's speech followed:—

"For the third time in succession I summon you to your deliberations in the midst of war. Certain overtures of which you are aware have been made by the enemy with a view of opening peace negotiations. Their tenor, however, indicated no possible basis of peace. My people throughout the Empire and my faithful and heroic Allies remain steadfastly and unanimously resolved to secure the just demands for reparation and restitution in respect of the past and guarantees for the future which we regard as essential to the progress of civilization.

In response to an invitation by the President of the United States of America we have outlined so far as can be done at present the general objects necessarily implied by their aims. Threats of further outrage upon public law and the common rights of humanity will but serve to steel our determination more. During the winter months my army has maintained unchallenged its ceaseless watch on the seas and enforced with rigor the blockade of the enemy. My army has conducted successful operations not only in Europe, but in Egypt, Mesopotamia and East Africa, and they are fully prepared to renew the great struggle in close and cordial co-operation with my Allies on every field.

I trust their united efforts will carry successes already won to a victorious conclusion. I invited representatives of my dominions and Indian Empire which have borne so glorious a part in the struggle to confer with my ministers on important questions of common interest relating to the war. The steps so taken will, I trust, conduce to the establishment of closer relations between all parts of the Empire.

Wanted Subscriptions

We want to increase our list of subscribers to the Guardian. During the past seven years we have not troubled our readers very much with requests for subscriptions, but the war has sent the price of paper, ink, type and other supplies skyward. It is costing us much more to produce "The Guardian" than before the war. Hence, we need more subscribers. And we want every old subscriber to pay their subscriptions promptly.
