PROSECUTOR GETS IN

MUDDLE AS TO DATES

Accused Men Smile While City

Prosecutor and Detectives

Wrestle With Mistake

(From Monday's Daily.)

A further remand was ordered this morning in the case of the three men charged with the charges of being concerned in fictitious cheques against Charles Norton alias Cooper and Harry Watson alias Williams, because the city prosecutor and three city detectives got in a tangle as to the date of the occurrence with which the men are charged.

The case was called last week when the accused were charged with forgery. A remand was obtained to bring Capt. Rogers, of Vancouver, by whom the cheques were purported to be drawn, to Victoria to give evidence. He gave evidence this morning when the first charges had been withdrawn and charges of uttering substituted. The case against Norton had been heard in part when one of the witnesses was found to be absent, not having been summoned. The next case was against the two men jointly and when the evidence was commenced the magistrate discovered that a mistake was made in the charges, similar to a mistake made in the original charges last week as regards the date of the offence. The city prosecutor and the three detectives pored over the documents in the case for several minutes but were at a loss to unravel the tangle. Capt. Rogers, however, protested against being kept in town and the magistrate remanded the case until tomorrow. Meantime the prosecutor and the detectives will try and straighten out the evidence on which the men are being held in jail. While the tangle was bothering the officers, the two accused were exchanging smiles in the dock.

SAANICH IN GOOD SHAPE

FINE RECORD IN COLLECTION OF TAXES

Applications for Permission to Erect Slaughter Houses Are Refused

At the meeting of Saanich council the clerk read a report of the taxes paid for the year up to September 30, which shows a rebate of one-sixth, which shows that out of a possible $1,000 due December 31st, $333.33 has been paid in. This is the best record so far. All the works estimated upon will be completed and a small surplus available to commence the next year with.

F. Peters, K.C., submitted another site for the proposed Chinese slaughter house for pigs, stating that any site within four miles from the city would be considered as an alternative. The council, after discussion, decided that no obvious reasons, the site proposed would not be acceptable nor any site within the proposed area.

Frank Marcott reported an accident to his little daughter through falling off a plank on the Boteskin road fill, and claimed doctor's fees as damages. This was laid on the table and the road superintendent will be asked to report.

L. Raymer enclosed copy of estimates for water main on Oak street as follows: Five hundred feet of 8-inch pipe, $700; 1,570 feet of 4-inch pipe, $980. The same can be completed in a month. This was laid on the table awaiting the city council's decision on this matter.

A. G. Goward asked immediate attention to the roadway from Cadboro Bay hill to the Oak Bay boundary. He will be informed that an appropriation is available for this work and in due time will be attended to.

J. A. Alkan enclosed a proposal from P. Peters, K.C., on behalf of Chinese to erect a slaughter house on seven acres situated on lot 1, block 264, facing on Gramell and Wellington avenues. This was not acceptable to the council and suggested a site within four miles of Victoria city.

Councillor Grant, chairman of the health and morals committee, was prepared to report against this site, the location and also against the erection of a slaughter house in Saanich for the purpose proposed. It is well known, said he, that certain of pigs are imported weekly for consumption in Chinatown, Victoria, as Oak Bay and the city had refused a slaughter house on unsanitary grounds, how then could Saanich permit a slaughter house system, permit what the other two municipalities rejected?

On motion the applicants will be informed that the proposed site is rejected. The council also recommended a suitable site within four miles will be made.

S. Newcombe asked that the mettle on the road be removed from property covered and put in passable condition. This was referred to the road superintendent with power to act.

R. G. Orr and C. C. Gale asked for their road lines on the old West road. This was referred to the road superintendent.

H. Laurie and eleven others petitioned to have City Hall moved up. There is a vote of $200 for this work and they will be notified that their wishes will be met.

The clerk reported tax receipts up to September 30 as follows: Paid in, $28,135; outstanding, $2,000.

The Martindale road ditch was favorably reported on and the $250 promised by the council ordered paid.

Road machine costing $4,894 was reported. Arrived in satisfactory shape and a payment was ordered to be made of $1,445, according to the terms of the contract.

The matter of circulating a petition in the district by some ratepayers with the object to have control of the district affairs revert to the government, was brought up. The council was unanimous of the opinion that it would be a step backwards but thought that any action to prevent signatures being obtained by misrepresentation could be deferred to the coming election in January, when the pros and cons could be intelligently discussed.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

Nelson, Oct. 7.—Three pack horses killed by a colossal snowslide on a mountain at the back of Crawford bay on Kootenay lake, and escaped with their lives, Arthur Houghton, a well known rancher, and a party including Green, Shuttell and W. H. Wright of Spokane, have returned minus camping outfit and much shaken up. The party had a narrow escape from sharing the fate of their animals. The snow on the mountains is already deep.

BANKER AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

Delegate to American Association Declares Present Prices Affecting Banks

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 7.—That the present high cost of living must be reduced soon if its results are not to be felt seriously by the banks of the country, was the declaration yesterday of William R. Crear, secretary of the Cleveland Savings & Loan Society of Cleveland, in an address before the delegates to the American Bankers' Association in convention in Los Angeles.

In his speech Crear declared that the present effect of the high cost of living upon banks is shown in decreased deposits in the savings banks. "While the figures of aggregate deposits are larger now than a year ago," he said, "this is merely because of accrued interest. It is a fact that there is a loss in savings banks throughout the country as being withdrawn. This undoubtedly will continue until prices reach their proper level."

Sol. Wexler of New Orleans, president of the clearing house association of the association, sounded an ominous warning when he predicted a tightening of the money market throughout the country this winter. He advocated legislation compelling banks to issue regular statements in which bad accounts should not be included in their assets.

PROGRESS OF WORK ON PANAMA CANAL

Chief Engineer Says the Big Ditch Will Be Out Through by 1915

New York, Oct. 7.—"The Panama Canal will be cut through by 1915," said Col. Goethals, chief engineer of construction, who is here today to attend the wedding of his son, Col. Goethals is enthusiastic over the prospect. "Everything is going nicely," he said. "We are pushing the concrete work in the locks more rapidly than at any time since the canal was started. The new line from Gatun to Gamboa will be completed by January 1, 1912. I feel certain, and then we will begin to raise Lake Gatun up to the fifty-foot level."

"Work already has been begun on the Atlantic side and that on the Pacific is progressing well. The actual digging should be completed long before January 1915, but there will be a certain amount of detail to complete."

It is reported that a new manifesto on polygamy will be issued before the conference adjourns. (The question is being freely discussed.)

The Desert News, official organ of the church, yesterday printed the excommunication of several prominent Mormons who have been accused of performing plural marriage ceremonies. The article is signed by F. M. Lyman, president of the quorum of apostles.

Robertson of this city, returned yesterday morning from Parkville, where on Tuesday night they attended a congregational meeting at which steps were taken toward building a Presbyterian church in that district over which Missionary Mr. McGookin has charge. Two members of the congregation offered free sites, one when the church was accepted and a building committee was appointed, a trustee board elected and arrangements made to begin building operations in the near future. There is a substantial cash account on hand in the bank to begin building operations and it is expected the new church will be built by the first of the year. The site of the new church will be in the vicinity of the school house at Parkville.

ATTEMPT TO KILL CHINESE PRINCE

Chinaman Expresses Regret That He Was Unable to Accomplish His Purpose

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 7.—An attempt to kill Prince Tsai Hsun, uncle of the Emperor of China, as he stepped from the overland train at the Oakland mole a half hour before boarding the liner Chiyu Maru for the return trip to China, was frustrated yesterday at the pier by Chief Secret Service Officer Harry Moffitt and Detective Sergeant McMahon, of the local police department. They seized and handcuffed George Fong, a member of the Young China Association, just as he was about to draw a revolver from his hip pocket with which to fire upon the royal visitor.

Fong was handcuffed and taken across the bay on a ferry boat and hurried to Moffitt's office, where he made a full confession of his plot to assassinate the prince. A five-chambered .38 calibre revolver, fully loaded, was found in his pocket.

The arrest was made so quickly and quietly that neither Prince Hsun nor any members of his party knew anything of it until the prince was released. Then Rear-Admiral Thomas S. Phelps, representing the government of the United States in the final ceremonies attending the distinguished visitor's departure, was informed by an officer of what had occurred. Whether the prince was told of his close call from death was not learned.

In his statement to the authorities Fong denies that his act was the result of a conspiracy to kill the prince. He says that the organization to which he belongs is in no way responsible for the attempt to slay the emperor's uncle. The prince's officers all responsibility in the matter. Fong expressed regret that he had not accomplished his purpose.

Fong was born in San Francisco 31 years ago. He is married and has a wife and two-year-old child in China. He has been employed in a students' fraternity house at Berkeley as a cook. He left there last Monday and came to San Francisco, where he engaged a room in the Oriental hotel, awaiting the arrival of the prince. At 10 o'clock yesterday he went across the bay to the Oakland mole in company with Mrs. V. Hoag, his former teacher, and at present principal of a private school in this city. He left her at the depot and took a position on the edge of the crowd.

McMahon and Moffitt, who knew Fong to be a revolutionist, watched him as the train drew into the depot. It pulled to a place on the tracks far down the shed, and Fong, who was stopping place, and when the brakes were set the prince and his retinue began to alight from their private car. The detectives were watching Fong. They saw him take his glove from his right hand and edge his way through the crowd. They followed closely, and as his ungloved hand went to his pocket they closed in on him.

In his statement to the authorities, Fong, who speaks good English, said: "I tried to kill Prince Tsai Hsun because I was an enemy to my people. I am not a revolutionary, but my work in this particular case is over for me. It will be taken up again elsewhere, I can assure you."

"My desire was to strike a blow for the liberty of my people, just as George Washington did for his people. I am quite willing to be a martyr. I am not afraid to die for this cause. There is no one in this affair but myself. The Young China Association had nothing to do with it. I have long wanted to kill some one of the Manchus here. It did not make any difference whether it was Prince Hsun or some other. I am a patriot and I am anxious to give my life to set my people free from this terrible oppression they are suffering."

The Young China Association was organized in this city last February, and now has 2,000 members on its roll.

WOMEN OFFEND.

Burgomaster of Hattersheim Issues Proclamation in Regard to Scandal-Mongering.

The burgomaster of the thriving town of Hattersheim has declared war on scandal-mongering women. He has issued a municipal proclamation calling attention to the frequency of prosecutions for libel and slander, and warning in bitter enemies and costly litigation. The cause, says the burgomaster, is usually the same. While the men are hard at work, the women fritter away their time gossiping and slandering their children neglected and their households suffering from lack of care. When the breadwinner comes home at night he hears the day's events truthfully related. Then as protector of his angry wife he must go to the police, a lawyer or an arbitration court. The proclamation concludes by stating that poor relief henceforth will only be given in exceptional cases to people who have participated in scandalous prosecutions. The police have been instructed to compile a list of such people and to warn landlords and tenants against them.

MANY TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION

BRITISH MINISTERS PREPARE FOR SESSION

Government Press Pessimistic as to Outcome of Veto Conference

London, Oct. 7.—Ministers are now returning to their departments, and in political circles there is the keenest inquiry into the prospects of the autumn sitting of parliament, which will open on November 15.

When parliament rose, the only business left over was the financial bill and the shop hours bill, and in the House of Lords the constitutional resolutions. To settle this business three weeks would be sufficient, for whatever the result of the veto conference, one thing is certain, the choice between peace and war will be quickly announced.

The simplicity of things has been destroyed, however, by the Gaborie judgment regarding the payment of labor members, and obviously there arises the question whether parliament ought not to meet at an earlier date than the one arranged. The cabinet as a whole has come to no decision upon the judgment and some ministers have wandered beyond the range of newspapers, but it is very probable that the situation will be met with a mere negative. Payment of members, to commence possibly after the general elections, and payment of election expenses, would be approved, it is asserted, by the cabinet as a whole, and such proposals would be difficult for the Conservative party to resist. Still it must be remembered that only last year Mr. Balfour and almost all of his colleagues voted solidly against a motion to this effect, and that the present opposition consists essentially of country members, who have little sympathy with the plunges into Quasi-radicalism, with which the Morning Post seeks to recapture the cities. This is the inward meaning of the attacks which have been made upon Sir Alex. Acland Hood, chief Conservative whip. He stands for the old Toryism, and he knows that whatever the tariff reformers may say, the advantages of wealth in electioneering would be enormously diminished if members and returning officers were paid by the state.
