He blamed the leaders of the party for neglecting the organization and their followers for apathy and lack of interest and activity, which, especially now that in a few months they would be faced with a general election, he severely deprecated. He urged the association to

SAN JOSE SCALE.

Fruit Inspector's Diagnosis of Diseased Condition of Citrus Fruits Confirmed.

"Provincial Inspector Cunningham received from Ottawa Saturday a letter written by Dr. Fletcher, Dominion entomologist, stating that samples of infected Japanese oranges which he had received from Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Wilson were infected with the true San Jose scale," says the Vancouver News-Advertiser.

To be perfectly sure on this point, which was much disputed by experts, the doctor sent samples of the infected oranges to "Dr. Howard, United States entomologist, and he pronounced it the San Jose scale."

"It will be recollected at the time of the announced discovery by Mr. Cunningham that he ventured the opinion that there is a serious error in the life history of this dangerous pest, the disease consists in its breeding at a very low temperature; 40 degrees was reported by Mr. Cunningham. The generally received opinion is that breeding is confined to the warm months of June, July and August, whereas Mr. Cunningham's pet parrot, under his own eyes at 45 degrees to 50 degrees; this he stated at the time constitutes the great danger, and explains why the scale is not succeeding better in the East in destroying the scale."

"Mr. Cunningham was quite right," says Dr. Fletcher, "in compelling fumigation of the oranges; the precaution was a wise step to take."

"This discovery settles for all time the necessity of inspecting citrus fruit. If the scale were on orange peelings, as it is now, the temperature favorable to it is no reason why breeding should not begin. Other insects, such as would surely visit the orange peels, would carry the young scales to adjacent trees and plants, and to begin their life work. It was once held by experts that this scale would not affect fruit trees far north as the international boundary, but this error has been exploded by the terrible experience of Ontario fruit growers. Mr. Cunningham states that the policy of his department is to take nothing for granted and run no risks that can be avoided. The issue of the controversy involved in the discovery of the scale Japanese oranges would certainly seem to justify the contention of the inspector."

COMMISSIONER'S LABORS
DRAWING TO CLOSE

Final Session Expected on Thursday—Six Children Still to be Examined by Judge Lammman.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The commission appointed to investigate the South Park school drawing trouble has practically concluded its labors. To-day Judge Lammman announced that only six of the twenty-nine children, the bona fides of whose work is questioned by the board of examiners, remain to be examined. Their evidence has not been taken for unavoidable reasons, but it is expected to be all in within a few days. It is understood that the commissioner intends notifying counsel for the department of education, the Victoria board of school trustees and Miss Cameron to bring the inquiry to a close as soon as possible. This probably means that a final session will be held on Thursday or some day towards the last of the week, the judge being engaged in London until Wednesday. It is believed that the opposing counsel will dispense with the usual addresses.

There have been many reports in circulation during the past few days in respect to the nature of the testimony given by the children privately before Commissioner Lammman. Up to the present the Times has refrained from making any statement because of the lack of authentic information. However, it can no longer be any doubt that these rumors were founded upon fact, and that several of the children acknowledged having used rulers in their work. What adds considerably to the seriousness of the situation is the confession of one of those who signed one of the now famous declarations to the effect that no mechanical device was utilized in the execution of the different designs.

When asked regarding the matter to-day, Commissioner Lammman expressed the opinion that there could be no reason for making a mystery of the thing, several of the children had said rulers had been used to some extent. As far as he could remember only one of these had taken out an affidavit, to the contrary effect.

It is expected that within a few weeks Commissioner Lammman will have completed his finding. As many Victorians have followed the proceedings of the investigation with keen interest the outcome will be eagerly awaited.

In turn the aldermen made their declarations in the following order: F. Davey, Dr. Lewis Hall, W. P. Fullerton, L. Goodacre, A. Stewart, J. Stuart Yates, J. Douglas, F. W. Vincent and Thornton Fell.

In Ferman vs. Monitor and Ajax Friction an appeal was taken from an order made by Judge Fernin, of the County court. In the original action an application had been made by the defendant to stay proceedings, which had been begun by the plaintiff to recover under what he claimed was a broken agreement. It was urged by the defendant that according to agreement the points in dispute should be settled by arbitration.

The application for a stay of proceedings before Judge Fernin was dismissed, hence the present appeal. E. P. Davis, K. C., appeared for the defendant, appellant, and J. A. Macdonald, K. C., for the plaintiff, respondent. Judgment was reserved.

Because of the rapid increase in the school population, it has been found necessary to erect a new room in connection with the Dawson school. This announcement was made at the inaugural meeting of the board of school trustees by the city superintendent, W. P. Argue. The meeting was held for the purpose of electing a chairman, the selection being W. H. P. Clubb, who was a trustee last year.

George Thompson, the young teamster who was injured by a kick from a horse on Friday morning, is reported to be recovering after a serious operation. In fact the surgeons at St. Paul's hospital consider him to be out of danger unless overlooked for complications. Although Thompson's skull was fractured and a piece of bone pressed on the brain, he rallied wonderfully after the operation had been performed, and this splinter of the skull, which was about half an inch long, was removed. It is thought the bones of the skull will grow together again and that he will be all right in time. His face, although terribly bruised and cut, has no other bones broken, and the injury to his eye will not cause the loss of sight.

The trades and labor council at the half-yearly meeting elected the following officers: President, J. H. McVety; vice-president, A. G. Perry; recording secretary, S. J. Goehard; secretary-treasurer, H. Fisher; statistician, H. Sellers; sergeant-at-arms, J. Grady; trustees, D. P. Johnson and H. Pavier.

The funds now in the bank are more than sufficient to wipe out in June next the instalment of $1,000 due on a mortgage on the building. The trades and labor council decided to reaffiliate with the Dominion Trades Congress.

Geno Kobayashi, chief secretary to the director-general of Japanese government railways, is spending a few days in this city. Few men know more about railways than this engineer, and secure knowledge of methods and the latest ideas concerning roads, he has travelled over all the principal lines in America, Europe and Asia. "On this occasion I have been looking at the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk lines," Mr. Kobayashi stated. "I visited the offices of the companies in Montreal and was treated very courteously, and since then I have examined to some extent the railways themselves. The C. P. R. is certainly a wonderful road. With the number of miles of railway which it is proposed to build in Canada during the next few years, among them the Grand Trunk Pacific, this country is on the eve of great development."

A shocking accident occurred on the C. P. R. line on January 14th, resulting in the death of brakeman Berger. A freight train had left Revelstoke for Kamloops in charge of Conductor Lee Anderson. A light engine, going to Vancouver from the prairie followed in charge of Engineer Harriet. Going up Notch Hill the light engine ran into the caboose of the freight train, and brakeman Berger was killed. The caboose was smashed into matchwood, and the next car telescoped, while the car connections through the train were wrecked. Deceased was caught between the caboose and the next car, and death must have been instantaneous.

Dresden, Ont., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Rheumatism slick and clean." Mr. W. G. Cragg, the well-known merchant and ex-revee of this place was the speaker and he evidently meant every word he said.

"It was the inflammatory kind of Rheumatism I had and it crippled me so that I could hardly get around to do my work in my store. I had the best doctors and everything in the line of medicines I could hear of, but nothing even gave me relief."

"Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and six boxes cured me completely." Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism by curing the Kidneys. Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. If the Kidneys are right they will strain all the Uric Acid out of the blood and the Rheumatism will go with it.

C. P. R. WILL LIBEL
THE M. TURNERFOR SALVAGE CLAIM AGAINST SCHOONER

How Vessel Was Recued by the Queen City—An Eventful Voyage.

The C. P. R. Company intend libelling the American schooner M. Turner, rescued by the steamer Queen City on the 18th inst., from going ashore on the Barrier Islands, near Kyquoot. What amount of salvage is to be claimed, and how the vessel will be arrested are matters under advisement as this article is being written.

The M. Turner is a four-master of 763 tons, owned by Mathews, of Benicia, and built in 1902. The vessel is on her way to the Sound from California, and when seen by the Queen City was within a cable length from the shore of Bunsby Island. She had been caught in a gale, which carried away her sails and left her unmanageable. She then drifted towards the Barrier Islands, and in some miraculous way steered in between the islands until reaching the position mentioned, where the anchor was dropped. The schooner remained in this position until the Queen City came along. The steamer was on her way up the coast when Capt. Townsend sighted the tall masts away in among the islands. It was late in the afternoon when a sight of the vessel was obtained, and Capt. Townsend determined to do nothing more than ascertain the position of the craft. Proceeding to Kyquoot he anchored for the night. Next morning the steamer returned to the distressed schooner and was carefully guided through the intricate channel among the islands, where no steamer had ever travelled before. The Turner, as stated, was found a cable length from shore, and in an exceedingly dangerous position in the event of a storm coming on. Passing a line to the schooner the Queen City retraced her tracks, and towed the vessel in clear harbor. The schooner is still in this haven, her skipper announcing that he would remain there until the schooner's sails could be repaired, and could sail out. But ere this occurs the schooner will be libelled, in which event she will be held prisoner until bonds for her release have been secured. The C. P. R. Company estimate that the schooner as she stands is worth $50,000.

The finding of this vessel, the picking up of the crew of the lost King David and the death of one of the survivors are but parts of a chapter of incidents which occurred during the voyage of the Queen City. Of an entirely different character, however, was an event occurring on the last lap of the steamer, which is looked upon as a good omen by the members of the Queen City's crew, especially the steward, who did everything possible for the sick.

Mrs. Geo. Scott, wife of Geo. Scott, of the Pacific cable board, Bamfield, was on her way to Victoria, gave birth to a girl just as the steamer was entering Victoria harbor. Fortunately Dr. McLean, of Tofino, was on board, and attended Mrs. Scott. As soon as the vessel touched the wharf, Miss Keast, nurse, was "phoned for," and arrived shortly afterwards. Mrs. Scott was removed to St. Joseph's hospital in the Dupont ambulance. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are deeply thankful to the officers and crew of the vessel for the many kindnesses shown to her under such trying circumstances.

THE OLD OLYMPIAN.
The steamer Olympian, recently purchased by Capt. John Roberts, formerly with the Globe Navigation Company, is who intends to take the vessel in tow of the steamer Zealandia from San Francisco to New York, is well known in Victoria.

The vessel was at one time operated on the Seattle-Victoria route by the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company. She was brought around the Horn under her own steam for that purpose, and will be the first vessel of her class to be brought around from the Atlantic coast and then taken back.

Steamshipmen say the feat of towing a vessel like the Olympian from San Francisco to New York is fraught with much danger. It will be the longest tow ever attempted by two such vessels. The distance is estimated to be three times as long as 3,000 miles. The deal involving the purchase of the steamer Olympian also included the purchase of the Zealandia.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION.

Nothing is more easy to keep under control, for proper food and Baby's Own Tablets will cover the whole ground. Here is strong proof. Mrs. G. G. Irving, Trout Brook, Que., says: "My baby boy was troubled with chronic indigestion and was a constant sufferer. Nothing helped him until I tried Baby's Own Tablets, but these promptly cured him and he is now as healthy a little lad, as you would care to see. I always keep the Tablets in the house and they really cure all the troubles of children. Every mother should keep these Tablets on hand. They cure all the minor ailments of children, and their prompt administration when trouble comes may save a precious little life. They are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug.
