Vegetine.

Female Weakness.

No better remedy in the whole materia- medica has yet been compounded for the relief and cure of Fermale Complaints of the ordinary kind, than VEGETINE. It seems to act in these cases with unwounted certainty, and never tails to give a new and healthful tone to the female organs, to remove relaxed debility and unhealthy secretions, and restore a healthy vigor and elasticit. Once the most common of these complaints is there by the presence of Scroular brought to the presence of Scroular brought for the presence of Scroular or even by general debil to Por all these complaints, and when danger begins to the commended without qualification. The past prevalence of these disorders, and their cure by Vegetine, has simply shown that the sure alleviating agent remains not yet to be discovered, but is already known, and is a favorite with American ladies. Too long has it been the custom to prescribe nanseating and uncertain remedies in place of what is pleasant, efficacious and cheap. Try Vegetine, and do not doubt its power to carry you safely through danger and disease.

DAVID IRVINE. Knoxford, March 12, 1881.

No sooner was Mr. Irvine in the field, than the Conservative papers set about belittling him. Although he had been well and favorably known as a member of the Legislature from '74 to '78, they spoke of him as a " person named Irvine," "a Mr. Irvine, who ever he may be," thus showing either ignorance or bad manners. The electors of Carleton, however, knew him and the principles he represented. Though they determined to stand by him, it was not until nomination day that they saw chances for victory. On that day there was a large representation of the County electorate at Woodstock. Dr. Connell took square ground for the Government attempting to defend both the Tariff and the Syndicate WHISKEY WHISKEY. bargain. On the other hand, Mr. Irvine gow, via Halifax:—

The issue was force I upon the people of this County and a majority of the electors, accepting the challenge, have pronounced against the policy of the present Dominion Government. This conclusion is as irresistible as the issue was definite. Mr. Connell came professing to maintain the attitude, as a supporter of the Government which his Jamented brother had assumed. Mr. Irvine came denounced. had assumed. Mr. Irvine came denouncing in lusty and uncompromising terms the Government and their policy.

The intelligence of the very intelligent farmers of this County has been appealed to; they were asked to declare an opinion, and their response is the return of farmer Irvine, a pronounced opponent of the Government policy.

When Dr. Connell was brought out by, and entered the field and pledged to, the Conservatives, whatever the in had assumed. Mr. Irvine came denound the Conservatives, whatever the in tention of the Liberals at the first tention of the Liberals at the first moment, the resolve to bring out a candidate was speedily abandoned, and the conclusion was that the Doctor would only have to walk the course, and all in terest in the matter apparently subsided. One day a gentleman going up river met Mr. David Irvine and asked him which way he was travelling. Mr. Irvine's reply was, "I am going to Ottawa." In fact he was then on his way to the printer's to have his earl published, and his self-formed determination fell upon town and coanou fell upon town and coun ed determination fell upon town and country alike, a great surprise.

There was no organization of the Liberals; Mr. Irvine was not brought out by that party; he came out of his own motion, prompted, we believe, entirely by the notives stated in his card; he did not claim to be a chosen candidate of a party, but simply a Liberal and opponent of the Government, for whom those who desired so to do, might vote : he was in that sense an independent candidate, scarcely anticipating success, and for whom, it is probably safe to say, those who believed with him, and were prepared to aid him, scarceexpected success

The Government press treated Mr. Irvine's name, when he became a candidate with very little respect, and readily satisfied itself that his candidature amounted to nothing.

Dr. Counell brought into the contest some potent weapons for success. He is widely known and personally and professionally very popular; educated, affable, liberal and of a most kindly disposition. He was backed by the prestige of wealth, of family name and influence, and the legislative reputation of his deceased brother and of his father. And he was the avowed candidate of the enthusiastic

The Montreal Herald comments as follows:

"That Mr. Irvine has been able to turn the Conservative majority of 319 into a Liberal victory is good evidence of how current popular opinion is setting in in the Maritime Provinces. The present Government have in two years increased the annual public expenditure from $23,00,000 to nearly $27,000,000, notwithstanding that Sir Leonard Tilley during the campaign of 1878 declared that an annual expenditure of $22,000,000 was more than sufficient to carry on the public business of the Dominion. These are fair samples of the way in which the Conservatives have redeemed their pledge to the men who elected them to power, and under the circumstances, it should not be surprising that every intelligent man in the Dominion should take the first opportunity of expressing his detestation of such deception and hypocrisy. We are at a loss to know how the Government organs will endeavor to account for their defeat in Carleton. If This is what Sir John has accomplished how the Government organs will endeavor to account for their defeat in Carleton. If they have any desire to be honest in the matter, they should at once admit that the Conservative party has, by their conduct since obtaining power, forfeited the respect and contidence of the Carlassian electorate. There is no mistaking the "hand writing on the wall," and all that "hand writing on the wall," and all that the Liberals require in order to secure a glorious triumph in 1883 is thorough organization and a little vigorous effort in the direction of educating public opinion in liberal principles. We repeat that the Liberals of Carleton have done nobly in electing Mr. Irvine. The victory is all the more cheering because it was almost entirely unexpected. Carleton having been carried by such an overwhelming Conservative majority in 1878, it was thought almost impossible that in a little over two years, the County could be won by the Liberals. The side issues, such as the well known influence of Mr. Connell's 'hand writing on the wall," and all that working only half time, and our lumb
