The cure of souls is then filled and nothing remains but to give the rector charge of the temporalities of the church. This is done by induction, the cermony just performed by the churchwardens. The ceremony is often private, but it is better that it should be seen and recognized by the people, and that they should be present and join with him in prayer, thus establishing proper relation between the orders. The responsibility of the people had now begun. They had chosen their rector and should now do all in their power to help him by prayer and by aiding all in their power to assist him. The church reflected great credit upon the work of the parishioners. Someone said the other day that St. Jude's was an ideal parish and he trusted it might remain so. He believed that all were doing their best and he hoped this spirit might always continue. ## KINGS CO.

Sussex, Oct. 30.—The preliminary examination in the case of the Queen on the information and complaint of C. W. Weyman, Scott act inspector. v. Samuel N. Freeze, came on yesterday before Samuel T. Morton, parish court commissioner for Cardwell F. A. McCully, barrister, of Moncton appeared for the prosecution, and Ora P. King, barrister, of Sussex, appeared for the defence. As before stated in the Sun, the prosecutor claims that Patrick Doherty, who was in jail under a warrant of commitment in a Scott act case, was illegally discharged by Sheriff Freeze, the defendant. The evidence, which is all in for the prosecution, disclosed that the sheriff consulted Hon. Mr. Blair, then attorney general of New Brunswick, and on his advice Doherty was discharged. There is a very strong feeling, as far as your correspondent can learn, through out the county that the circumstances of the case do not warrant a criminal accion against the sheniff, and that a blunder has been committed. The case was further adjourned until Thursday next, when a result will probably be reached. Among the many improvements of a laudable kind which are now being made in Sussex is a new and powerful electric bell, which has been put on the engine in the electric power house by a number of the members of the Sussex fire department and others. To Dr. J. J. Daly much credit is due for the interest he has taken, not only in this case, but in many others in which the public are interested.

John S. Trites, whe has been superintendent of the Church avenue Baptist church for more than a quanter of a century, resigned on Wednesday evening. The feeling is that Mr. Trites ought to receive some tangible recognition of his useful and faithful services. R. Keltie of the Sussex restaurant is to move from his present quanters near the railway station to the snop in the new brick block adjoining the store of Huestis & Mills, on Monday NORTHUNDERLAND CO.

Chatham, Oct. 28 .- The wrecked bark G. S. Penry was pumped out on Wednesday with the assistance of the Newcastle steam fire engine and the str. St. Nicholas. At high tide she was beached between the Public and Park's wharf. The ballast will be discharged today and temporary repairs made. She will be towed to the marine slip at Pictou and repaired. The Penry made three trips to the Miramichi during the summer.

The str. Mascott has gone to Pictou to bring here the hull for O'Leary's new steam yacht. She will be fitted with engines at Millar's foundry.

Ruddock's new steam yacht the Marietta was launched on Tuesday. She is 45 feet long, 9 feet wide and 41-2 feet deep. Mr. Ruddock will fit her P. employee, had one of his han with engines of his own pattern. The boiler instead of being upright will lie ontally, and the top weight will be reduced.

M. S. Hocken has erected a large witness except the Dutcher child who, though steadily improving, is not yet able to be put on the witness stand. Rev. E. Bertram Hooper, rector of St. George's Church of England, has been quite ill for some days, but is pulpit as usual on Sunday. Moncton, Nov. 1 .- No evidence was taken Saturday in the Dutcher murder case, which was further adjourned till Friday next. The Dutcher child is recovering, but still very weak, and only within the last day or two has she been able to walk short distances unsupported. It may be some time yet before she is able to give evidence. In the meantime no person is allowed to talk with her about the case. The coat worn by Sullivan when arrested has been se cured by the crown and forwarded to Marshal McClure for identification by Mrs. Clarke. There was considerable disturb ance about town Saturday night and considerable drunkenness. Am obstruction was placed on the street railway track and a car was some what damaged. Some shade trees were destroyed, and, among other pranks played, rustic chairs were placed on the tops of telephone poles and streets barricades with packing boxes and signs. There were some arrests, but should have been more. YORK CO.

McAdam Junction, Oct. 30 .- William Lister of Harvey has opened a barber shop in the Junction House.

At last meeting of Clarke Wallac L. O. L., George Robison and John Herd were initiated into the Royal pork closed at $7.10 in Chicago Sat Arch Purple degree. On Sunday while out gunning John Shea's gun exploded and his hand was injured. A special instructor in the air brake system is now in McAdam examining brakemen on the new methods which are soon to be put into practice all was then followed, the special psalms being 84, 122 and 132. The lessons were read by Rev. H. M. Spike, and after prayers, hymn 308, Lord Whose Temple Once Did Glisten, was sung.

Before the sermon there was sung hymn 196. For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest. The bishop then, ascending the pulpit, congratulated the congregation upon their new church, which took the place of the one so unfortunately destroyed by fire. His heart 4 2 00 4 1 90 4 2 90 4 2 90 was full of the thought of one whose labors had been in the affairs of the diocese and whose pleasure had been in the erection of a fit church for the 7 08 glory of God.

He chose for his text Philemon v 2, "And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the church in thy house."

In the Old Testament the house of the Lord is constantly spoken of. A different sense is attached to the expression in the New Testament Great men have many houses: the great God has a variety. For over 1900 years he has had a temple or house of flesh. In a carnal sense all descended from David are said to have been of David's house; so all who are in Christ are of His house. Places set apart for God's worshin date probably from Adam; certainly from Jacob. He dwells not, however, in temples made with hands. There are three distinguishing tokens of His house, viz., holiness, peace and prayer. It was not enough that the ephod of the high priest should be inscribed with holiness to the Lord. buit all the vessels and all else pertaining to the house was to be similarly inscribed. Solomon, the man of peace. built God's house. There is no peace, saith God, to the wicked. Outside of the house of God, out of His church there is no peace. Peace left He unto us, but not the peace of the world, but that peace of God which passeth all understanding.

My house is a house of prayer, saith God. This is a distinguishing mark until the church temporal shall merge in the church eternal.

Passing on to the rest of the text. there are two possible meanings. The second is that of a society devoted to God's service; a church within the house. There must be a distinct binding together of all in the knowledge of God. There must be the truth as it is in Jesus or there is no chuch. Next to true knowledge of God there must be worship of Him. God has said that His house is a house of prayer. Again, there must be discipline. There was the common attraction by belief, then the worship and lastly the frees, in the fullest confidence, THOMAS SLATER, Box 193, Kalamazoe, Mich. 1249 rules circumventing the church. Attending to those points all should know of God, worship Him and know why they did so. There should be of Weakness in Men.

When a man has suffered for many years with a weakness that blights his life and robs him of all that really makes life worth living; when after years of doctoring with all sorts of patent medicines and alleged specialties, he discovers a remedy that brings back to him the power and physical mergy that seemed to him lost forever, he naturally feels generous. He wants his fellowmen to know about it. He feels that his mission on earth is to lift out of bondage men who are today battling with a shattered nervous system, just as he did; men, who by their own secret folkies, are suffer-who by their own secret holies, are suffer-ing a mental torture that words cannot adequately describe. The world has come to look at such suff-erers in a different hight from former days. It now regards them as unfortunate, not criminal. They have lacked moral courage. They may be vicitims of inherited passion, or they have acquired secret habits from will associates. But whatever may have They may be victims of imherited passion, or they have acquired secret habits from evil associates. But whatever may have been the incentive that causes a man to degrade his being and isolate himself from society he needs a friend. He needs the right hand of fellowship and good cheer. It is wrong to denounce him for his folly, and it is equally useless to give him ad-vice. He must have the hungry man's bread, not a stone, offered him. This, is why I send the prescription which made me a man among men, free to say one whe writes for it. I know the aversion that suffering men have to the least semblance of publicity, and I, therefore, send the prescription securely seared in a plain en-velope, without marks to show where it came from. Thousands of men have writ-ten me, to say how glad they were to get this prescription, and every mail brings en-couraging reports of severs cases of physical dehility cured, and emachated parts restor-ed to neutural strength.
