On the occasion of Mr. R. Pogue leaving for Knox College to complete his studies he was made the recipient of a purse of gold, containing the sum of one hundred and thirteen dollars, and an address expressing the high esteem in which he is held by the congregations of Stayner and Sunnidale, where he has labored during the past summer.

Miss Addie Johnston, of Guelph, who has been organist of Chalmers Church for some time, and who has now gone to Ingersoll, was last week presented by the members of the choir with an elegant morocco portfolio. An accompanying address was read by Mr. T. Middleton and the presentation made by Miss Jessie M. Ross.

The anniversary services of the Presbyterian Church in Forest were held last Sunday, Rev. N. McPherson, B.D., of Petrolia, preaching. On Monday evening, in this connection, a social was held, at which addresses were delivered by the reverend gentleman mentioned, by Rev. D. S. Hamilton, B.A., and by Rev. J. Pritchard, the pastor.

Rev. Jno. Scott addressed the congregation at the children's service in the Presbyterian church, Napanee, last Sunday morning. He started for his home in Dakota on Monday evening, accompanied by Miss Helen Fraser, of Carleton Place, a trained nurse, who will take a position in the new hospital at Emerson, which Mr. Scott has been instrumental in establishing.

An enjoyable Scotch concert was given in Knox Church lecture hall, South London, last week, and was accompanied by refreshments of the same national flavor. Mr. Alex McQueen was the ruling spirit. The programme was taken part in by Mr. Green, Miss L. Brown, Miss A. MacArthur, H. W. Givins, Mr. Fairbairn, Mrs. McBride, Miss J. Bremner, Miss Boon and Mr. Murray.

Mr. William A. Shepard is dead. Although best known as a master printer, he was for a number of years a prominent elder in St. Andrew's Church, King Street. A funeral service was held in the edifice, which was largely attended. Rev. D. J. Macdonnell delivered an affecting address, full of suitable references to the deceased. Interment took place in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

A social was held recently at Morrison Lake, in the home of Mr. Neil McLean, in order to present Rev. J. E. Smith, the Presbyterian student of Kilmorphy, with an address and toilet set prior to his departure to take charge of the congregations at Banks, Gibraltar and St. Andrew's. The address, which spoke quite appreciatively of the recipient, was signed on behalf of his many friends by Mr. John H. Miller and Miss Maud McLean.

The dedicatory services in connection with the new Presbyterian Church at Paris were continued on Sunday, the 14th inst. Rev. W. J. Clark, of London, preached in the morning and evening, and Dr. Jackson, of Galt, officiated in the afternoon. On all three occasions the handsome auditorium was crowded. And the sermons given, in every way, deserved the audiences. Each discourse was of a high order of merit.

St. Andrew's Church, Fergus, performed a graceful and friendly act last week by having a social evening in honor of Mr. D. McPhees and family, who have since gone to Orangeville. During the evening Mr. McPhees was presented with a complimentary address (read by Mr. J. Philips) and two easy chairs. Appropriate speeches were made by Revs. Mullan and Craig, and by A. Semple, M.P., John Craig, M.P.P., and others.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church in Rockwood held an open meeting recently, when officers were elected for the coming year. After the election a short and interesting programme was given. The choir gave several anthems, a solo by Mr. Geo. Perrin, and recitations by Mr. J. McGregor and Jno. Strachan were also rendered. Refreshments were then served, and a very enjoyable time was spent.

The new Presbyterian Church in Alma was crowded recently at a meeting under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. The president, Miss Harvey, being absent, the Rev. Mr. Watson took the chair. Miss Walker, for many years a missionary to the Indians of the Northwest, in a clear, unostentatious and attractive manner, gave a very instructive and interesting account of the work done in the Northwest Industrial School.

The opening services of the new Paris Presbyterian Church, were brought to a close on Tuesday evening, October 16th, by an organ recital and sacred concert. Mr. Frederic Rogers, of Brantford, presided at the superb instrument, which was constructed especially for the church by S. R. Warren & Son, of Toronto. Miss Emma Kay, Hamilton, Miss Jessie Scott, Mount Forest, and Mr. Harold Jarvis, Detroit, provided the vocal portion of the programme.

Very successful anniversary services were held recently in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sherbrooke, when the Rev. Mr. McWilliams, from Peterboro, Ont., preached to large and interested congregations. The choir was reinforced by the presence of Miss Ella Walker, a noted soprano singer from Montreal, who rendered musical assistance most acceptably. The collections were very liberal, $757 being subscribed in aid of the church debt fund. Rev. Wm. Shearer, the pastor, presided at the anniversary social.

On a recent Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church, Royston, Messrs. Walter Hetherington and Wm. Todd were ordained to the elder ship, and Mr. Wm. Barr inducted to the same position, thus leaving the church fully equipped. Eight months ago Rev. J. Garroch, of Burk's Falls, an indefatigable worker for the gospel, commenced holding week-night services here. A church building, large membership, three elders, all complete, and no debts, are the visible fruits of energetic efforts crowned with full success.

The people of Bank street Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, held an enjoyable social gathering—the first of a series—in the Sunday school hall lately at which there was a large gathering. Rev. Dr. Moore, the esteemed pastor, occupied the chair, and addressed some interesting words to those present. Music and literature formed the larger part of the programme, Miss Fleming's recitations being particularly pleasing and elocutionary. Miss Grant and Miss Lane each rendered a piano solo, and songs were given by Miss Cole and Miss Whitton. Mr. McDonald, whose comic songs and eccentricities were much enjoyed, was vociferously applauded. Refreshments were served.

St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, which has been receiving a thorough renovation, was re-opened a week ago Sunday. In the forenoon the pastor, Rev. W. T. Herridge, preached a sermon which was extremely practical in its nature. Concluding, he said that he would like to have a band in his church ready to teach, visit the sick, or hunt out the degraded and vicious, for, remarked the preacher, "if you think such a band has no use in Ottawa, you do not see what I see week after week and day after day." St. Andrew's, the oldest Protestant church in Ottawa, founded sixty-eight years ago, should be banded together as a part of God's great wing to do steady battle against wrong in every form.

The Central Presbyterian Church of this city has just received a present in the form of a handsome set of common plate, baptismal bowl, pulpit bible and psalter, and also a valuable literary work for the pastor, the gift of some friends in the Central Presbyterian church, Toronto, of which church Rev. P. McF. Macleod was pastor before coming to Victoria. This gift is very highly appreciated by the congregation, not only on account of its intrinsic worth, but because of the kindly interest manifested by Mr. Macleod's old friends in Toronto in the success of his new congregation in this city. The following inscription is neatly engraved on the communion flag as well as on the bible: "Presented to Central Presbyterian Church, James Bay, Victoria B.C., by a few friends in Central Presbyterian Church, Toronto, September, 1894.—Victoria (B.C.) Daily Colonist."

One of the most recent and complete electric action pipe organs is that in St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, of which Rev. T. W. Herridge is pastor, built by S. R. Warren & Son, of Toronto, and used for the first time last Sunday. This electric system is fast gaining popularity over all others, and will, no doubt, become universal as soon as its merits are understood. The specifications of this organ contain 35 speaking stops, distributed between great

Although the appliances are more numerous the system is so simple that the performer has no fear of any hitch, hence he feels free to make full use of all the facilities provided. The front of the organ is gothic in design and the ornamentation chaste, while the case is of quarter cut southern white oak.

FAINTED IN CHURCH.

THE DRILORABLE CONDITION OF A YOUNG LADY IN BROCKVILLE.

A Case that Created Much Interest—Weak, Almost Bloodless, and Frequently Confined to her Bed—Again Enjoying Complete Health.

From the Brockville Recorder.

Readers of the Recorder have no doubt followed with interest the many instances related in these columns of recoveries—sometimes of a very remarkable nature—of persons affected with diseases of different kinds by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Apart from the marvellous recoveries, the accounts were interesting to the people of Brockville and vicinity from the fact that this town is the home of the Dr. Williams' Co., and the place where the celebrated medicine is made. The family of Mr. Thomas Humble, residents on Park street north, furnish a case of such recovery, no less notable than many previously published, that will be of particular interest in this community. Mr. Humble is an employee of Bowie & Co., brewers, and is well known and highly respected by many of our citizens. The member of his family, whose cure we have mentioned, is his eldest daughter, Carrie, a girl of about nineteen years of age. The facts in the case were first brought to the notice of the Recorder by Mr. Wm. Bicks, a well known merchant tailor, who, on one occasion, assisted in removing Miss Humble, who was attacked with a fit of extreme weakness while attending service in the George street Methodist Church. The other evening a reporter visited the home of the family in question, and, upon stating his mission to Mrs. Humble, the story of the case was briefly related, not, however, with any desire for notoriety, but rather a determination on her part that it should be given if it might in the least be of benefit to others similarly afflicted. According to her mother's story, Miss Humble's illness dates back to the summer of 1889. Her trouble was extreme weakness and exhaustion, caused by weak and watery blood. She was subject to severe headaches, heart palpitation, and other symptoms which follow a depraved condition of the blood. Often while down street on business the young lady would become so exhausted by the walk as to be scarcely able to get home, and she was frequently confined to her bed for weeks at a time, and had to have her meals carried to her. For a period of over 3 years she was almost continually under medical treatment. The doctors' medicine would prove of benefit while being taken, but, as soon as the treatment was discontinued, the patient would become worse. Her friends were much discouraged and feared she would not recover. In the winter of 1893 Mrs. Humble read of a similar case where a cure was brought about by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This prompted her to give them a trial in her daughter's case, who was at the time so weak that she could not leave her room. The result was remarkable. There was soon a marked improvement, and by the time two boxes were used Miss Humble appeared to be so much recovered that the treatment was discontinued. But it later became evident that the patient had not been fully restored for after a few months there was a return of the trouble. Miss Humble was sent on a visit to some friends in the United States in the hope that a change of air would prove beneficial, but she returned to her home worse than when she went away. Her mother was then determined to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a further trial, and the result proved most gratifying, as the

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a fatigued, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia, I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."

girl's health has been completely restored, and she is to-day as well and strong as any girl of her age. Mrs. Humble told the story of her daughter's illness and recovery with an impressiveness that carried conviction of its absolute truthfulness. Miss Humble also corroborated her mother's statements, and they can be vouched for by many of her friends in the church, the Sunday school and others.
