

RULE II.

MEMBERSHIP.

SEC. 1.—Any person entering the Company must be a practical mechanic, of a good constitution, active habits, good moral character, and a resident of the city.

SEC. 2.—Application for Membership may be made through any member of the Company, who will be held responsible for his general good character and ability. The character and standing of candidates for Membership shall be referred to the Judicial Committee for investigation; and should they report unfavorably, the candidate will be rejected.

SEC. 3.—Any Member leaving the Company and taking with him or keeping any article of uniform or equipment which has not been paid for by him, shall render himself liable to prosecution.

SEC. 4.—Persons wishing to join the Company at a time when it is at its full strength, will be placed on the supernumerary list; and when a vacancy occurs, the first on the list will be taken to fill it.

RULE III.

UNIFORM, ETC.

SEC. 1.—The Uniform of the Company shall be a single-breasted scarlet tunic with blue facings, embroidered with white braid; pantaloons of Oxford mixture, with a scarlet stripe one and three quarters inches
