

ROYAL AUTOMOBILE CLUB 119 PICCADILLY, LONDON

W.

ITS OBJECTS, CHARACTERISTICS AND ADVANTAGES

ITS OBJECTS

1. To encourage and develop the Automobile movement.
2. To provide a Social Club for its members.
3. To provide a centre of information and advice on all matters pertaining to Automobilmism.
4. To protect its members, and support them in the defence of their rights.

ITS CHARACTERISTICS AND ADVANTAGES

- (a) It is a member's Club.
- (b) It provides—
- (1) A suitable Club-house in Piccadilly, facing the Green Park, with the usual social and residential accommodation.
 - (2) A Club Library containing maps, handbooks, and other touring and technical information.
 - (3) Bedrooms for members.
 - (4) Two motor houses adjoining the Club for the storage of members' motor vehicles. The right of using, at special rates, garages in London and the provinces which have been appointed by the Club.
 - (5) A Club Journal to members free of cost.
 - (6) An Automobile Handbook, giving information as to hotels, repairers, etc., free of cost.
 - (7) A Club Engineer to examine cars and give advice; a weighing machine, and in the near future an apparatus for testing brake horse-power.
 - (8) Instructions in driving cars, and the issue of driving certificates which will be accepted by the authorities abroad.
 - (9) A register of motor servants.
 - (10) Touring and Customs facilities for members desiring to travel abroad.
- (c) It affords members information and advice connected with the Automobile movement.
- (d) It organizes exhibitions and competitions from time to time.
- (e) It holds lectures and discussions.
- (f) It generally protects and encourages Automobilmism.
- (g) It cultivates reciprocal relations with kindred institutions at home and abroad.
- (h) It organizes from time to time tours and excursions for members and their friends.
- (i) It issues a distinguishing badge to members in order to facilitate their recognition.
- (j) Members may bring their friends to the Club premises subject to the by-laws.