

Being summarized this shows that

47 University graduates averaged.....	75.56 per cent.
140 Non-University graduates averaged.....	73.1 "

This statement shows clearly that those who came to the study without previous University training evidently succeeded in grasping it, so far as examinations reveal the facts, practically as well as graduates, many of whom, by the way, were also with previous training in the subject.