AN EXHIBIT THAT PORTRAYS THE TREND, IN YEARS TO COME, OF APPLE GROWING IN ONTARIO.

The exhibit of 325 boxes of No. 1 fruit from Norfolk County, which was one of the attractions at the Ontario Horticultural Exhibition in Toronto last week, is one of which Ontario may well feel proud. Not many years ago, a total of 325 packages of boxed apples were not to be found in the entire show. The box is the ideal package for fancy dessert fruit, such as is produced in abundance in Ontario. As the apple growers of the province gain a deeper appreciation of this fact the apples of Ontario will more and more be packed in boxes.
