CANADIAN FLOUR MILLS WILL RUN AT FULL CAPACITY

Orders from the Dominion and Ontario Governments for an aggregate of 1,250,000 barrels of flour are only the beginning of the increased demand on the flour mills of Canada as a result of the war.

The mobilization of the armies of Europe will result in a large reduction in the acreage sown to wheat in that Continent. That reduction in acreage and consequent reduction in yield will greatly increase the demand for wheat and flour from other producing countries. Canada will find a ready market for all the wheat and flour she can export during the war. The flour mills of Canada will be kept busy grinding Canadian wheat into Canadian flour for export to the Mother Country at this time of trial.

In the home market also there will be an increased demand for flour. The tendency of many will be to use more bread and other staple articles of food instead of some of the luxuries of the table. This will mean an increased consumption of flour.

Thus it would appear that the 7,000 men who are working in the flour mills of Canada are assured of continued employment throughout the war. It is possible the number of employees in flour mills will have to be increased, but even if an increase should be unnecessary, the continued operation of this industry will mean the circulation of approximately four million dollars a year in wages to Canadian workmen.

"Business as Usual"

We are reminded by many prominent persons that Canada's motto at the present juncture should be "BUSINESS AS USUAL."

To the end of August the business of The Great-West Life for 1914 is very largely ahead of 1913, and the period includes the four best months on record.

An active presentation of the Company's excellent plans leads, and will lead, to "Business as Usual."
