NEW REGULATIONS FOR EMIGRANTS

They Will be Devised in England to Check an Abuse.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—From ten to fifteen thousand men and women are turned away from the portals of the United States every year and sent to the countries whence they came, in their endeavor to enter the land of promise. The reason is that they do not meet the requirements set for immigrants by the American authorities.

This condition constitutes one of the most difficult problems faced by the American department of labor, and in an effort to solve it the department has sent W. W. Husband, one of its special agents, to investigate and report on emigration conditions in England and on the Continent.

Every year, in spite of the efforts of the steamship companies to exclude such passengers from their lists, nearly fifteen thousand immigrants see the gates at Ellis Island closed against them, and with the earnings of years swept away by the expense of the voyage, they are compelled to resume the battle of life under the conditions from which they sought escape by emigration.

The department does not either desire or seek, according to Mr. Husband, the lowering of the present standards, but Secretary Wilson is anxious to devise some plan whereby the shock and suffering incident to being turned back after sighting the shores of the promised land may be prevented. In an effort to do this, Special Agent Husband will investigate the booking of prospective immigrants by transportation agents with the idea of devising some method whereby only those who are practically certain of entry into the United States will be permitted to embark on this side of the water.

Princess “Pat” Won By Grand Duke, Is Report

Mecklenberg-Strelitz, Says Rumor, Has Aid of Queen Mary in Suit.

LONDON, August 20.—According to rumors, Princess Patricia of Connaught and the hereditary grand duke of Mecklenberg-Strelitz are engaged, although the formal announcement has been deferred.

London's Unemployed.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—For some time past the view has been held that the statistics of unemployment prepared by the board of trade were an understatement of the volume of unemployment, and now for the first time it is possible to obtain an official confirmation of this view. At the present time the number of unemployed in London is estimated at 400,000.

Mistakes are quite pardonable: if it was not for the mistakes of great men and women, history would be quite a bore.

EX-QUEEN THOUGHT TO BE A NEW BRIDE

Amelje of Portugal Seen Much With Marquis de Soveral in London.

LONDON, August 16.—Ex-Queen Amelje, whose garden party at Richmond for her future daughter-in-law, Princess Augustine Victoria, of Hohenzollern, was one of the most interesting events of the London season, has sent to her intimate friends among the guests a souvenir of the party.

It is a large photograph, taken on the lawn in which she is seated in a big garden shirt surrounded by a group, standing up, composed of Princess Augustine Victoria, ex-King Manuel, his future father-in-law, Prince William of Hohenzollern, and the Marquis of Soveral, formerly Portuguese minister in London of the monarchy now defunct.

The gossip's tongues have been wagging ever since and some of Amelje's friends have become bold enough to say: “It isn't a question whether Amelje will marry Soveral after her son's marriage has taken place. It is isn't she married secretly to him already?”

One Hundred and Five Unexpected Guests

Mrs. Winston Churchill Invited 120 and Found 225.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Winston Churchill proved equal to an emergency the other day. About 120 of her husband's constituents at Dundee came to London on a trip, and it was arranged that Mrs. Churchill should entertain them at luncheon at the House of Commons.

When the luncheon hour came it was found that the guests numbered 225 instead of the expected 120. Several Dundonians questioned the bona fides of some of the party, alleging they were Glasgow men who had joined the party owing to the allurements of a free luncheon, but Mrs. Churchill settled the difficulty by arranging for all to be regaled, making the party a pretty speech to boot.

ROBBING MRS. CHURCHILL

Bogus Laundryman Gets Away With Linen Belonging to First Lord's Wife.

Age twenty-five to twenty-seven; height about 5ft. 8in.; dark complexion; clean shaven; wearing a dark brown jacket suit consisting of a dark suit and a white shirt. This is the description of a man who is wanted for a daring theft from Admiralty House, Whitehall. He called at the First Lord's official residence on Tuesday, represented that he came from the firm which deals with the Admiralty House laundry, and asked for the week's linen.

The maid saw no reason to be suspicious, and a large number of articles of personal clothing belonging to Mrs. Churchill were handed over to the man, with two tablecloths worked with a rose, shamrock, crown and anchor.

Within less than an hour the genuine laundryman arrived, and the trick was discovered. The value of the stolen articles, most of which are marked with Mrs. Churchill's initials, “C.S.C.” is about £30.

LOOKAHEAD FOR ILLNESS

Sudden illness an ailment common in every family—to parents and children alike. But if you have looked ahead and have right in your home, ready for immediate use a bottle of Polson's Nerviline—there isn't much to worry over. If it's a sore throat or contracted chest, apply Nerviline and put on a Nerviline Porous Plaster. If it's colic, cramps or any stomach disorder, just administer ten drops of Nerviline in hot water. No family medicines are more useful or more depended upon in emergencies than Nerviline and Nerviline Porous Plasters. They keep the doctor bill small, 25c each at all dealers. Refuse substitutes.

DAMAGED GOODS NOT RETURNABLE

He had tried in vain to cut through the slice of roast beef the restaurant waiter had brought him. “Look here, waiter,” he said at last, “I can't do anything with this beef. Bring me something else instead.” “Sorry, sir,” replied the waiter, “but I can't take it back now—you've bent it.”

“PEOPLE OF THE GIRDED LOINS”

London Writer Calls Americans After a Tour With Them.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The People of the Girded Loins is what Mr. J. W. Robertson Scott calls the Americans after going through England and Ireland with the agricultural commission from the United States. “To travel with them,” he says, “is just to have one's mind made up once and for all that there are only two kinds of people—these people of the Girded Loins and the others.”

The recognized way of getting braced is wearing something or going some-where.”

RUDE IN ENGLAND TO THANK ANYONE

Intricacies of Manners Are Puzzling to Travelers in The Kingdom.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—That English etiquette is a sore trouble to foreigners is a very old story. That a foreigner may not be acquainted with all the niceties of English etiquette in the ballroom, dining room or theatre is held as no excuse by the British matron, as she contemptuously forgets them.

It says much therefore for the continental traveller that he or she is willing to learn. There are now 250 young men and women of seventeen different nationalities attending a holiday course of lectures at the University of London for instruction in English conversation, and etiquette.

One German girl according to Miss Violet Parkinson, one of the instructors of these classes, was greatly surprised when told that she must make the first sign of recognition when meeting a male acquaintance in the street. She did not think much of English manners to start with. “I think that most immodes,” she said, “The man always bows first in our country.”

Nor can these students understand why the English take soup from the middle of the spoon instead of from the end, which is shaped for the purpose. And why should a man take his hat and cane into the drawing room when making a daily call, they ask. They may think it uncomfortable, but the only answer is that it is English etiquette.

After dinner do you thank your hostess? Is another question asked. And the answer is no: it would be considered very rude in England to thank anybody.

Among the students none is more polite than the Japanese. One man who on leaving a house was accompanied down the stairs by a daughter of the hostess on reaching his hotel wrote the daughter a letter of thanks.

THE USUAL RESULT

“I tried to sing my youngest boy to sleep,” said Senator Sorghum, “but it wouldn't work. Then I told him a story, and that wouldn't work either.”

“How did you get him to sleep?” “My wife came to the rescue with one of her clever suggestions. I delivered one of my speeches to him.” —Washington Star.

Closing Announcement!

Last week of Special Arrangement for Securing National Vacuum Cleaners at Factory Cost. Those not already supplied must have them not later than Saturday next for delivery.

THINK WHAT IT MEANS to the housewife to have the Cleaner run over her floor once or twice a week instead of sweeping them with a broom or carpet sweeper. Realize how absolutely clean she will keep every inch of her carpets with less effort than the old efforts require, dispensing for ever with house-cleaning days, keeping her home clean ALL THE TIME, just the same as it was right after house-cleaning time of yore.

The broom no longer is good for anything but fuel. Instead of cleaning, it just stirs dirt up into the air. The dirt naturally settles back on the floor or furniture, then you must “dust”—a terrible, straining process.

Then, too, this dirt you stir into the air is very dangerous. It is laden with disease germs; and you and your tots breathe them. Think of that!

The Triplets That Do the Work

The construction of this machine is the very best that skilled hands and perfect machinery can produce. It has three bellows, that form a continuous suction as the wheels roll over the carpet. The bellows are made of three-ply German linen, with heavy rubber insert, which makes it absolutely air-tight, and almost indestructible. It is the same material that is used in the very best organs, and will last in ordinary use for twenty years. The valves are protected by solid leather discs that rest smoothly and flatly on the openings, and will not curve or turn up at the edges. The single spring that holds them in position is responsible for this. Each machine is thoroughly inspected before it leaves the factory, and should at any time you find one imperfect in construction, you are at liberty to exchange it for one that is perfect. We, the manufacturers, can state for this cleaner that it is the very best that money and skill can produce, and will do the work of those high-priced electric machines. The bellows have an air displacement of 69 cubic inches with each revolution, 24,800 cubic inches per minute, giving a strong, continuous torque like a six-cylinder automobile. It is just as easily operated as the ordinary carpet sweeper, and in many cases will do the work of both the carpet sweeper and the vacuum cleaner. This machine has a retail value of $13.50, and you can consider yourself fortunate to get it on the terms we are offering. This machine is the acknowledged monarch of all hand-power machines.

No vacuum sweeper made to-day has a greater reputation for superiority and durability than The National. Its wonderful distribution is not surpassed by any other vacuum sweeper. It is well and favorably known from ocean to ocean, and from the great lakes to the far recesses of the north, and in this immense field you find thousands and thousands to-day in use by the best families, giving complete satisfaction and affording splendid service.

The construction of the National Vacuum Sweeper is without a fault. It is built on the correct principle—built for hard service—built to clean carpets and rugs better than any other that is meant to clean.
