AMERICANS MOST IGNORANT SAYS CHILEAN BROKER

S. A. Visitor in Toronto Tells How His Country Regards Germans.

Toronto, July 12.—"The most striking thing I have observed during my travels is the great ignorance of the American people. You can say that for me," was the reply of Carlos Campusano of Valparaiso, Chili, when seen at the King Edward Hotel. "Everywhere I go people say to me, 'What a fine country we have; look at our buildings, see our land, see our railways, see how clever we are,' but when I speak of Chili they look away and say something about Indians and revolutions.

"We have Indians, but we have had only one revolution in one hundred years. We fought the Peruvians and the Bolivians and we beat them, but," he shrugged his shoulders, "we are not all the time fighting each other, nor are we all Indians.

"I speak English, Spanish, Italian and German; I am a stock broker, but how many of your American stock brokers can speak the languages that I speak. I tell you, sir, the Americans are an ignorant people.

He recalled the visit of Admiral Von Spee to Valparaiso, after the German fleet had beaten the British at Coronel. "When they came into Valparaiso harbor with their story of sinking Admiral Craddock's fleet we laughed," he said. "Most Chilians are in favor of the allies, but we have some friends of Germany among us and even they would not believe that the German fleet could beat an English fleet.

"Our own navy is trained by the British, our army by the Germans. We thought that the British fleet could not be beaten, and many of us think the German army cannot be beaten, but Admiral Von Spee came ashore and told us that he had sunk the whole of Craddock's fleet at Coronel.

"Someone asked him, 'Where are your British prisoners if that is so?' But Von Spee shrugged his shoulders and said, he had detailed the Nurnberg to pick up the British seamen, but that ship could not do so because it lacked boats. We saw the Nurnberg in harbor later on, and she had boats on her. That was very bad for Von Spee, and many of us were glad when Admiral Beatty's fleet paid the debt a little later.

"We have many German naval men interned in Chili. Some of the officers have escaped from time to time but most of them are willing to stay with us in Chili.

WAR BROUGHT GOOD

"The war has brought good to my country in some ways. We can no longer send our silver, copper and saltpeter to Germany by way of Holland as we used to do. But there is a good market for it in America and the countries of the Allies.

"Many things we used to get from Germany before the war we have learned to make in our own country. Many new industries have been started because of that. The people are happy and contented and can live much more cheaply there than is possible in Europe or North America. Yet I have met people in both places who think they should pity the 'poor Chilians' Those people are wrong, and they are ignorant, as I told you at the first."

THIS IS AN OLD STORY.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, July 12.—By wireless to Sayville.—Two German naval aeroplanes bombarded English coast fortifications at Harwish and Dover on the night of July 9,-10, the German admiralty announced to-day.

The air raid on the British coast announced by Berlin to-day was reported in official British statements Sunday night and Monday. No casualties were caused by the seaplane bombardments, the British accounts stated.

Berlin, July 12, via London, Jul 13.—The Austro-German retiremen from the Czartorysk salient, jus south of the Pinsk swamps, havin been completed, the opposing armie have come to grips all along the lin of the Stokhod river, where Von Lin singen has elected to stand and cove the approach of Kovel.

Determined to Take Kovel

Heavy fighting is already in pro gress along the Stokhod, but appar ently it is merely an earnest of wha may be expected in the persisten and desperate campaign of the Rus sian commander, General Brussi off, to reach this important railwa junction regardless of losses.

A Strategic Retirement.

The retirement, according to ad vices from Austrian headquarter was for strategic purposes, and th achievement is considered one o high degree. The Russians had work ed well around the flanks of the ol position, and if material and unit were to be saved, the retirement ove an almost roadless country had to b effected at a good pace. As it wa the Austro-German forces barel reached the positions behind th Stokhod before the Russians wer hammering at the crossings.
