

VOTE FOR HAULTAIN AND YOUR RIGHTS

HOW MR. MOTHERWELL BETRAYED THE FARMERS

E. A. Partridge, a Well-Known Grain Grower and Former Supporter of the Minister of Agriculture, In An Open Letter Shows How Mr. Motherwell Has Lowered the Dignity of His Office.

The following open letter to the farmers of North Qu'Appelle by a prominent grain grower shows how W. R. Motherwell has betrayed the farmers of Saskatchewan. To the farmers of North Qu'Appelle: Gentlemen—As a farmer, a member of the Grain Growers' Association, and a one-time supporter of Mr. Motherwell, I have seen him in his earlier attempts to secure legislative honors and as one who recognizes and has promised that it is of more importance to us farmers, that there should be a majority of agriculturists elected, than that either political party should secure a majority, it may seem strange and inconsistent that I should be found urging you to leave Mr. Motherwell, a farmer, ex-president of the Grain Growers' Association, and Minister of Agriculture, at home, instead of asking you to give him your hearty support.

But it is not enough that a candidate should be a farmer, to deserve the support of his fellow farmers. He will not make a good representative unless his views harmonize with the views of his fellow farmers, and unless he is prepared to champion their cause in the legislature, and endeavor to secure legislation embodying their demands. A farmer member, especially if of cabinet rank who is not in sympathy with the views of his fellow farmers is a greater obstacle to them in their attempts to secure legislation, than a member of any other calling, as those who are not farmers naturally regard him as an oracle in all matters relative to agriculture or agriculturists, and generally without argument accept his views as the views of his class.

There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Motherwell has been a very sympathetic ear to the questions of the farmers, and has been through their representatives last spring.

Mr. Motherwell first won public recognition as president of the Grain Growers' Association.

He gained the confidence of the farmers by voicing their demands. He at the same time gained the confidence of those who were wearying on the farmers, by not pushing the demands far enough to seriously interfere with their ability to continue to prey upon them. This he paraded as a political pretense.

As president of the association he was a hard worker, along lines and ideas which he originated himself. Unfortunately his ideas were few in number and not very radical, that is to say, did not go to the root of the matter to be dealt with. He invariably received accolade or with any hostility any suggestion which did not have the honor of being presented to the association by himself. He showed little tendency to give and take in his relations with the associates, but was always ready to give and take in the grain or the railway people. He was a good confederate with the grain and railway interests, where he could play the part of the broad-minded, magnanimous agriculturist who had small sympathy with the narrow prejudices and foolish clamorings of his fellow farmers.

He usually wound up his part in a conference by a sleek, bald headed eulogy addressed to some noble body of men who had just got the better of the farmers in some compromising agreement. The gentleman gets great credit for the passage of the car distribution clause, which broke up the monopoly of cars enjoyed by the elevators, by giving the individual farmer the same rights to a car as an elevator.

As a matter of fact Mr. Motherwell fought strenuously to allow the cars to go to the elevators and the other half to be available for the use of the farmers.

He saw no fault in the grading system now in its administration. He belittled the value of the baking and milling tests made by his predecessor in the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture, and declined to continue the tests this year when requested by the Grain Growers' Association.

He opposed the establishment of grades for slightly treated wheats. He defended the arbitrary use of the word "red" in the grading of wheat (a strained use of the word which has cost the farmers of the west millions of dollars).

He was averse to sending an agent to watch the grading of wheat, and study the conditions surrounding the grain trade in Winnipeg on behalf of the association.

He belittled the attempt to organize a farmers' cooperative grain company, which was intended to be the ally and to supplement the efforts of the association, misinterpreted the motive of the organization, and endeavored to prevent the association giving any assistance or even

SCOTT'S POLICY

Here is the way the Ranching News of Maple Creek sizes up the Scott Government's policy: "And soon the power will be in the hands of the farmers."

1. RAPID RAILWAY EXTENSION. Not one mile in three years.
2. A RAILWAY TO HUDSON'S BAY. Will cost $3,000,000. Built at once for $100,000.
3. BRANCH RAILWAYS TO OUTLYING SETTLEMENTS. But not one branch built when they had the chance.

4. GOVERNMENT OWNED TELEPHONE LINES. Conveying the conservative policy.

5. FREE SCHOOL READERS. Printed in New York.

6. GOOD ROADS AND MORE BRIDGES. But not enough for the money.

7. SIMPLE, INEXPENSIVE MUNICIPAL ORGANISATION. As set out in a statute half an inch thick.

8. LIBERAL ASSISTANCE TO RURAL TELEPHONE LINES. Whereby the farmers have to build them themselves.

9. AN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE FOR FARMERS' SONS. To teach the advantages of the cent an acre tax.

10. SOUND, SAFE, PROGRESSIVE GOVERNMENT. Sounds like a death bed repentance.

WHO'D VOTE FOR THE SCOTT GOVERNMENT?
God Save Saskatchewan.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS VICTORY IN SIGHT

(Continued from page 1.)

Broadview, Sask., Aug. 10.—With but four days left to complete the campaign, it is possible to make a fairly intelligent estimate of the position, outlook and probable result of the polling on Friday.

Both sides appear pretty confident. The government, however, bases strong hopes of success upon carrying the outlying constituencies, where the foreign vote predominates.

Haultain, who has retained his grip upon the old and more intelligent settlers and in almost every one of the old group reports indicate that his candidates are steadily gaining ground.

For instance, it seems pretty well recognized that Haultain will carry Regina city and the county, and the city and county of Moose Jaw; Milestones, where Calder is likely to defeat South Qu'Appelle and North Qu'Appelle, where admitted, well's defeat is practically admitted.

Weyburn, where Gille will have a walkover, Moose Mountain, Moosewold, Souris and Canington.

I cannot speak with any authority of the Northern counties, although Haultain declares that the same wave of opposition that is sweeping the older portions of the province exists in the north. Wherever the story of graft and alienation of the public resources, under the Ottawa administration, can be told, indignation is general and bitter, and the cry is now for honest men, and honest administration, and death to graft.

In my judgment too much has been made by the opposition of local issues, such as the book contract, the parliament buildings, site, the supplementary revenue tax. In doing this the overshadowing issue of having the lands, the timbers and the minerals and control of schools restored to the province is lost sight of. These are the real issues of the campaign.

Scott has shown himself very weak and ineffective. When on the public platform he is abashed and deals constantly with small, piquant disputes and points that carry little weight with the people.

The people are intelligent, and wherever real issues are presented, they readily embrace the Provincial Rights idea.

Mr. R. L. Richardson's itinerary has been changed at the last moment, so he can meet Premier Scott at important points.

WILWAY TO WIN.

Grayson, Aug. 8.—The Liberal meeting here this afternoon was a success for Mr. Wilway, the Provincial Rights candidate; the magnetic name of Mr. Motherwell drew together an audience of seventeen. Mr. Lindsay, the Scott candidate said he was proud to be where he was, and if elected would do all in his power for the farmers and Mr. Scott, Mr. McLeod, Grenfell, appeared, and after a half hour the meeting was over.

The misdeeds of the Scott government, their reckless extravagance and their hoarding of the depleted treasury by borrowing money, he dwelt at some length on the evils of the supplementary revenue tax. With a flourish of trumpets, the minister of agriculture introduced himself and poured out thunder in the abusive style that has become characteristic of the man.

He is not a man to be trifled with.

FAITHFULLY YOURS,
E. A. PARTRIDGE.

ment and has done more to win votes for the opposition than anything else. He seemed highly delighted with himself as he poured out invectives upon Mr. McLeod. As he proceeded the large audience of seventeen had dwindled down to some ten. The minister of agriculture to find that the magnanimity of his great name could draw only six or seven of the farming community. The farmers have no time to listen to government apologies when the wheat is ready to cut.

BRANDISH SURE

Prince Albert, Aug. 9.—J. E. Brandish (will check) Attorney General Tureen. That the seat is doubtful was admitted by the minister when he decided to run in Duck Lake as well. Both sides are working might and main, but it is not difficult to see on which side the advantage lies. The University question is playing a part with the government.

DONALDSON SAFE

In the district, Sam Donaldson is personally very popular and has the additional advantage of strong sympathy because of the scandalous deal of which he was the victim in 1905. There is no danger of it being repeated. The riding is strongly Provincial Rights from the very nature of its boundaries. This the government admits, while no more popular candidate could be secured than Donaldson.

ARM RIVER SAFE

Bethune, Aug. 9.—Bott should be returned for Arm River by a comfortable majority. His superiority as a speaker has given him a decided advantage over Scott, the Liberal candidate. He is also supported by a large number of splendid workers. In 1905 Sheppard only broke even in this district.

THREE IN VONDA

Vonda, Aug. 9.—Three candidates are in the field in Vonda. Dr. McKay is the Provincial Rights candidate and should win, for Talsko and Wright will split the Liberal vote.

DEFEAT FOR LANGLEY

Radisson, Aug. 9.—Redberry will very likely send a supporter to Mr. Haultain in the next legislature. G. Langley, though possessing a certain amount of popularity is not acceptable to all his own party. His opponent, C. F. Evans is only 25 years of age, but his youth is made up in ability. Had the boundary of the constituency not been changed, Langley would probably have won handsily but as it is the Conservative element is strong in the new riding.

IN NORTH BATTLEFORD

North Battleford, Aug. 9.—Craig should defeat Findlayson the government candidate. He is a capable something which can be said of both men. The fight, however, will be close.

LOYDMINSTER RIGHTS

Lloydminster, Aug. 9.—The Provincial Rights candidate Mills should, from present indications, be returned by a good majority. He has a decided advantage over Leslie, his opponent, who is not popular. Mills is an Oxford graduate and a substantial farmer, which has made him a favorite in the constituency.

MOTHERWELL GONE

Fort Qu'Appelle, Aug. 9.—The defeat of H. W. R. Motherwell is looked for by the Provincial Rights camp. J. A. McDonald is a strong candidate.

RIDDELL FOR SOURIS

Oxbow, Aug. 9.—Riddell is a sure winner in this constituency. The Liberals admit no more than a fighting chance. Riddell is just as popular as J. T. Brown was.

CLOSE AT WEYBURN

Weyburn, Aug. 9.—Beischell and Mitchell are running neck and neck. In the city Beischell will run up a good majority. A dead set is being made upon the American settlements, which should go slightly in favor of Beischell, who was an American.

AT TILLMORE

Fillmore, Aug. 8.—An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of the Provincial Rights candidate, Dr. Mahan, was held in the school house at Oxbow last evening. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the speakers were given a very fine reception. The meeting was opened by G. H. McLeod, who vigorously arraigned the administration. Dr. Mahan, who is one of the most convincing speakers of the province gave an hour's address, and dealt fully with the issues, carrying the meeting by storm. After the general meeting C. B. Smith gave a short lecture on organization work.

Should Have Lands.

Fort Qu'Appelle, July 30.—Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario, was here today on private business, and decided to discuss the political situation in this province, further than to say that if Saskatchewan does not get the lands, timber and minerals the province will be the backbones of Ontario's strong position today.

AT TILLMORE

Fillmore, Aug. 8.—An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of the Provincial Rights candidate, Dr. Mahan, was held in the school house at Oxbow last evening. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the speakers were given a very fine reception. The meeting was opened by G. H. McLeod, who vigorously arraigned the administration. Dr. Mahan, who is one of the most convincing speakers of the province gave an hour's address, and dealt fully with the issues, carrying the meeting by storm. After the general meeting C. B. Smith gave a short lecture on organization work.

Should Have Lands.

Fort Qu'Appelle, July 30.—Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario, was here today on private business, and decided to discuss the political situation in this province, further than to say that if Saskatchewan does not get the lands, timber and minerals the province will be the backbones of Ontario's strong position today.

AT TILLMORE

Fillmore, Aug. 8.—An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of the Provincial Rights candidate, Dr. Mahan, was held in the school house at Oxbow last evening. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the speakers were given a very fine reception. The meeting was opened by G. H. McLeod, who vigorously arraigned the administration. Dr. Mahan, who is one of the most convincing speakers of the province gave an hour's address, and dealt fully with the issues, carrying the meeting by storm. After the general meeting C. B. Smith gave a short lecture on organization work.

DIRECT TAXATION

The Scott party now cannot deny that part of their policy is Direct Taxation. It has been started in the Supplementary Revenue Act, and is to be increased in the Municipalities Bill. Money will have to be raised by Direct Taxation to pay the interest on the money borrowed for capital expenditure. Are the Electors going to stand for this? They can avoid it by voting for Haultain and the Provincial Rights candidates.

THE CANDIDATES

Constituency	Government	Opposition
Arm River	George Bell	W. J. Hanna
Battleford, North	D. A. Scott	W. J. Hanna
Battleford, South	S. S. Simpson	H. Dewar
Canora	J. B. Robertson	W. Johnson
Cashmere	J. D. Stewart	W. McEldan
Duck Lake	Hon. A. Turgeon	H. Yardley
Estevan	George Bell	Dr. Mahan
Francis	J. E. Stevenson	P. M. Henricks
Hanley	Dr. James McNeil	Lo. B. Kramer (Ind.)
Humboldt	Dr. Neely	Lo. B. Kramer (Ind.)
Kinistone	T. Sanderson	G. H. Johnson
Last Mountain	Sam J. Latta	E. A. Anderson
Lloydminster	H. C. Lisle	W. H. Miller
Milestone	Hon. J. A. Calder	A. E. Whitmore
Maple Creek	W. R. Abbott	D. J. Whyte
Moose Jaw City	J. Sheppard	H. Dorell
Moose Jaw City	J. R. Green	H. H. Wellington
Moose Mountain	A. Smith	O. B. Fysh (Ind.)
Moose Mtn. City	Chris. Roshor	Dr. Elliott
Pelly	J. E. Johnson	R. S. Dundas
Pipestone	— Robinson	A. B. Gillis
P. Albert County	Andrew Knox	E. A. Anderson
P. Albert City	Hon. A. Turgeon	J. A. Macdonald
Pheasant Hills	H. W. Lindsay	H. Willway
Qu'Appelle, North	W. R. Motherwell	J. A. Macdonald
Qu'Appelle, South	E. H. Williamson	Hon. F. W. G. Haultain
Regina City	Robert Sifton	Fin. O'Pate
Regina County	J. F. Bole	H. W. Miller
Redberry	G. Evans	Dr. Stewart
Swift Current	George Langley	C. P. Evans
Saskatoon City	A. E. McNabb	W. O. Smyth
Saskatoon County	W. O. Sutherland	Mayor Wilson
Souris	John Young	P. L. Schenck
Saltcoats	T. MacNutt	Archibald Riddell
Touchwood	G. M. Atkinson	J. Hollis
Vonda	A. E. Totke	Dr. McKay
Weyburn	Dr. Mitchell	Geo. Beischell
Wadena	H. G. Pierce	R. H. Nicholson
Yorkton	T. Garry	W. Dunlop

Members of the late legislature.

PREFERS LANDS

Manitoba Would Prefer Lands Instead of Money If There Were Any Lands Left—Mr. Roblin's Position.

Balkarres, July 30.—In response to a communication from Mr. J. Balfour of Balkarres, on the question of whether he would sooner accept a money grant in lieu of lands, Premier Roblin of Manitoba, has written as follows: "Dear Sir—Your letter of July 1, received. The statement made as reported in you, is in a measure correct. The province of Manitoba does not have a large area of land, timber and fisheries. The lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains as the other provinces, excepting Alberta and Saskatchewan, have been allowed to retain. We would prefer of course, to have our own lands, our timber and fisheries, and to be indemnified for the loss of them. But the fact is that the lands have been taken from her by the Dominion and to be indemnified reasonably for such appropriation of public domains