Small-Debts Court Full of Litigants

First Session of the Court in Many Months—Cases Quickly Disposed of.

Mr. Justice Macaulay's court room was crowded this morning with barristers, litigants, witnesses and spectators, today being the first sittings of the small debts court in several months.

Following came the action of the United Typewriter Company vs Mrs. Brien. Counsel for plaintiff asked that the case stand over until the next term as his client had not been notified that the matter would come on to trial today.

Willitt vs Fulkner could not be proceeded with as the plaintiff was not on hand to prosecute her case. Her counsel was much perplexed and did not know where his client had gone to.

Myers & Co. vs Daniels was likewise continued until the next term on the payment of costs and a $5 counsel fee.

Lynch vs Willett was settled out of court. Goldstein vs Barnard was tried, plaintiff appearing as his own counsel.

In taking the oath to give his evidence Goldstein placed his hat upon his head, the custom of orthodox Jews upon such occasions. Suit was brought for $4 balance alleged to be due on a case of rubbers Goldstein had sold the defendant. Judgment was recovered in that amount.

Mattie Coburn vs M. L. Foley was dismissed, plaintiff not appearing. In the case of Menard vs Fitzgerald, Pierre Ledieu made his initial bow before the court as a barrister and had the satisfaction of winning his case.

Menard claimed to have represented a mining claim on Deigo hill in which the defendant owned a one-third interest, the work being done under contract entered into by Fitzgerald, the plaintiff and M. Pellant, the latter the owner of the other two-thirds interest in the claim.

James Oliver et al vs Peter McDonald was settled out of court. The same disposition was made with the case of C. W. Thebo vs Abe Stein. McDonald vs Thompson was a suit for 2 3/4 days board which with credits defendant was entitled to left a balance due of $44.70.

We wish to be loyal Amsterdam, Sept. 12.—The Boer Generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, accompanied by Messrs. Wolmarans, Wessels and Reitz, have arrived here from The Hague and were given a hearty welcome.

At the reception of the generals at the town hall General Dewet, in reply to the Burgonmaster's speech, said: "We have come to ask for help for the widows, orphans and other necessitous persons. Upon assistance of this kind from England the Boers cannot count."

The general also remarked: "If England wishes to have the Boer descendants of the Huguenots as 'subjects before God' I am willing to be a loyal subject before God until the day of God shall come. We wish to be loyal to the new government, hoping that the latter will carry out its engagements."

At a subsequent luncheon General Botha declared that peace, which had brought them all they had desired, was due to the mediation of the Dutch premier, Dr. —uyter, who had thus rendered service to the Boers. General Botha also thanked Holland for the manner in which it had welcomed Messrs. Kruger, Steyn and Reitz.

Gen. Botha, speaking again, said: "We have lost our independence and have endeavored to obtain compensation from the new government for our burnt farms. We have every reason to believe no compensation will be forthcoming. Help is absolutely necessary to prevent the ruin of thousands."

When he had finished and Mr. Bephele was asked if he had any questions to ask him, he said: "What did you run away for? Why didn't you stand up like a man?"
