Charlie Rogers' familiar face deorated the police court docket this morning. Charlie was charged with stealing a fur cape from Mrs. Sam Hicklin. The old offender, told the ourt that it wasn't his fault that he was there. He got on a train and first thing he knew he was at Chatham. Judging by Charlie's condition when arrested by P. C. Dodson he spoke truly. The prisoner was remanded to give the Crown an opportunity to get evidence.

A LIFE SAVED

A certain undertaker, who is always alert for business and who also, sometimes, exhibits kind heartedness, was startled the other day while passing down Charteris street, to hear feminine screams. On going closer to where the sound came from he heard a woman hollering for help as if some one was in the cistern. The undertaker man became excited. He ran to his stable, which was not far away, and secured his grappling irons, returning at a 2.10 clip. On investigation to the chagrin of the many spectators who had gathered, after some difficulty, "Bobs," Archie Park's thoroughbred cocker spaniel was brought forth.

EDITOR RESIGNS

Toronto, Nov. 28. - J. S. Willson, ditor of The Globe, has resigned. His resignation will take effect at the end of the week, and full details of his mové will be made public within a few days. On the street it has been rumored for some time that he contemplated this step, though the public innouncement comes as a surprise to citizens who have so long identified him with the direction of the senior Liberal organ in Canada.

NOVEL BANQUET

About twenty-five of the oil men who are prospecting in Raleigh, were entertained to a banquet in the Rankin House last evening. The feast was held in honor of St. Andrew's Day. A concert was held in Petrolea last evening and as the men from that place who were in the city were unable to attend, they decided that they would have their "time" just the same. Mine Host Peck was notified to have "the best of the land" arrayed on the tables, which was done, and a very enjoyable and lively time was spent until the wee, sma' 'ours of the morning.

An artist was at work on the toast ist, and the following was given :-Toast Master, Gusher Gurd. Song-When Willie Strikes Oil, by Willie McRae. Stump Speech, by Woodward, oil driller and contractor, of Oil Springs. Double Song and Dance, by Frank McKenzie and brother.

Highland Fling, by Jim Kittermas-Bag Pipe Solo, by Mr. McMillan. Champion Scotch Reel, by Will Mc Rae, McKenzie, Gurd and Vantyle. Oil of Gladness, special walk around, y Mr. Woodward.

Grand Finale, by the Company, by special request, "A Rush for Raleigh." The speeches were all very heartily given, and vigorously and enthusiastically encored and applauded. O. L. Lewis was among the guests of the
