INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

Jesus Dines with a Pharisee.—
Luke 14, 1-14. Read Luke 11, 37-54.

Golden Text.—He that humbly himself shall be exalted.

Jesus becomes an invited guest amidst Pharisees and lawyers, men who dine on the Sabbath at the home of one of their leading men. Under the power of the evil one they were watching to catch Him violating the Sabbath, but they little expected He was looking them through and knew their innermost thoughts. How helpless, after all, are His enemies in His presence.

They may have brought this poor dropical man there to entrap our Lord, but His question, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath or not?" so discomfited them that they were silenced. Jesus healed the poor fellow and let him go.

They indeed could save a beast on the Sabbath day from smothering in a well, but to relieve a man who was smothering from decay was a sin against God. Here is a conflict between two kinds of religion—the law kind and the love kind. Read Luke 11, 39, where Jesus declares they only cleanse the outside, but inside they were full of extortion and wickedness.

Verses 7-10—Jesus soon let them know He was watching their proud pretence as they scrambled for the best seat at the table; bad manners and bad morals go together. Take the lowly seat and let your heart be not have to rejoice you with a better man, but will call you to come up higher; self-exaltation means abasement, while humility means honor from God and men.

Evidently, from the 12th, 13th and 14th verses, the poor dropical man that Jesus healed was no more welcome than his Divine Healer; both were poor men, friends, brethren. Kinsmen and rich neighbors were welcome guests, while on record, in His humiliation, had not where to lay His head.

Note verse 14.—Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

Who are we honoring in our social intercourse?

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH THREATENED HIS LIFE.

Finds Prompt Relief In Pe-ru-na, the Reliable Catarrh Remedy.

PROF. ALBERT J. SMITH.

A PROMINENT PROFESSOR OF DANCING, WELL-KNOWN IN AUSTRALIA, LONDON AND CANADA, RELATES HIS WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE WITH THE USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Albert J. Smith, the well-known professor of dancing, formerly of Fernside Academy, Paddington, Sydney, after touring London and Canada, has now located in Carlton, Victoria, (Australia) at 436 Cardigan street.

He writes to the Peru-na Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio, (U. S. A.), regarding his use of Peru-na, as follows:

"I was troubled with catarrh of the stomach for a number of years, which finally resulted seriously."

"It was when the disease was at its worst and I could not sleep, eat nor work that I began using Peru-na and found that it was doing me good every day."

"My stomach began to feel much better, my appetite increased, and I did not feel so nauseated upon rising in the morning."

"My bowels were soon in better condition, my sleep undisturbed, and the catarrh gone."

"Peru-na is a perfectly wonderful medicine and I certainly recommend it for catarrh."

Some years ago it was thought that catarrh was confined to the head and nose. However, all the respiratory and digestive organs are lined by mucous membranes, and catarrh will attack these membranes at any point.

The most reliable remedy for catarrh, no matter where located, is Peru-na, an internal, systemic catarrh remedy. It has proven its efficacy by years of use in thousands of families.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has indigestion he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is weak the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Dr. Louis Park of Quebec writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head ached, my eyes ached, and my stomach was full of food, but I could not eat. I was told that I was suffering from indigestion, and I was prescribed for me, and although I took their medicine, I did not feel better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I began to feel better. I took the first bottle, and I began to feel better. I took the second bottle, and I began to feel better.
