TEA
 is in its unique flavour of rich delicacy. And it never varies. All grocers sell "Salada" in sealed metal packets only.

"SHOES"

"In shoes we laugh, in shoes we play,
 In shoes we walk about all day;
 In shoes we walk, in shoes we ride,
 And shoes we throw 'em to a bride,
 And so we say, and so we think,
 In shoes we eat, in shoes we drink,
 In shoes we run, in shoes we trade,
 And shoes are our understanding aid.
 We shoe the horse, and shoo the fly,
 And why not shoes for you and I?
 In shoes we woo, in shoes we wed,
 When shoes leave us we leave for bed,
 And hence 'tis wise to wear the best,
 For such—tax not your weary wits,
 Come straight to us, we'll give you FITS—
 And if our ad, you'll stop to read,
 You'll likely find just what you need.

WEDDINGS

MALONEY—SULLIVAN

On Tuesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church at 7 o'clock, Miss Margaret Theresa, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Sullivan of Newcastle and Patrick Joseph Maloney, of Rogersville were married by Rev. P. W. Dixon, who also celebrated the nuptial mass.

For the wedding the sanctuary was prettily decorated with flowers and colored lights.

The bride entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss H. M. Morris. The music during the mass was well rendered and during the offertory Miss May Morrison sang "Salve Regina." The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of blue tricot with moleskin collar and wore a blue hat. Her bouquet was composed of bride's roses and fern.

Miss Tessie Gallivan, of Chatham, was bridesmaid and wore a blue suit and carried a bouquet of pink roses. James Sullivan, brother of the bride, attended as best man.

Despite the early hour the church was filled with friends of the contracting parties to witness the happy event.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the parents of the bride, to which only the relatives and near friends of the happy couple were invited.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Maloney left on an auto trip to Boston, New York and Connecticut, and will be absent a month.

The collection of wedding gifts was both beautiful and valued, representing the interest of friends not only in Newcastle, but in other parts of the country and across the border.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. John Maloney, mother of the groom, and the Misses Marianne, Irene and Hazel Maloney of Rogersville.

BALDWIN—BALDWIN

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church Chatham Head on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Edith Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin, of Douglasfield was united in marriage to Mr. John Baldwin of Douglasfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archdeacon Forsythe, of Chatham, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bride wore a travelling suit of navy blue serge with marabou collar, feathered hat of blue and grey.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for Fredericton and points in Maine. On their return they will reside in Douglasfield. The bride was formerly on the teaching staff of Harkins' Academy, Newcastle.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARY C. WILLEY

The Daily Evening Item, Lynn, Mass., of September 23rd says: Mrs. Mary C. Willey, aged 73, wife of William A. Willey, former park commissioner and member of the City Council, died today at her home, 1 Bulfinch street, after an illness of two months. She was born in Dorchester, N. B., and came to Lynn more than 40 years ago. In December Mr. and Mrs. Willey were planning to celebrate their 54 wedding anniversary. Mrs. Willey was a member of the Universalist church of Lynn and leaves, besides her husband, two sisters, Mrs. A. P. Rolph of London, England, and Mrs. L. K. Fleming of Newcastle, N. B.

Mrs. Willey was the daughter of the late Amasa Weldon, the first collector of customs of Moncton, and a granddaughter of James Robertson and Mary Trites, thus being a descendent of the oldest family of Moncton.

PARTRIDGE SEASON IS EXTENDED

A delegation of local sportsmen composed of ex-Ald. Joseph Walker, H. G. Chestnut, R. T. Mack and others waited on Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines and urged that the open season for partridge be extended. They pointed out to the Minister that the open season of twenty days was too short, that the birds were plentiful but city and town sportsmen were placed at a disadvantage in comparison with rural residents. They thought that an extension of the season would place all on an even footing. The Minister after listening to the arguments advanced by the delegation agreed to extend the season until November 1st. The limitation as to the number of birds to be taken in a single day and in the season remains as previously fixed by order in council.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Charlie B. Arbeau killed in action Oct. 10th 1918, age 22

Somewhere in France you sleep
 Somewhere neath alien flowers and winds that weep
 Bravely you marched to battle
 Nobly your life laid down
 You unto death were faithful
 Yours is the Victors crown.

MAKING HISTORY AT GRAND PRÉ

At Grand Pré, Nova Scotia, the other day, three hundred members of the Acadian National Congress assembled, and kneeling reverently at the statue of Evangeline, the heroine of Longfellow's immortal poem, accepted on behalf of the Acadian race a gift of two acres of the Evangeline Memorial Park from the Dominion Atlantic Railway. There are in all about fourteen acres in Evangeline Park, and the two acres were presented to the Acadian race on the condition that they would build a church there. George E. Graham, general manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, expressed his pleasure at welcoming the delegates. With regard to the proposed church, the D. A. R. would still further beautify the grounds and would give it perfect setting. The company would open the old post road that had been closed for fifty or sixty years. He asked them to cast their minds forward the next five years when this chapel would be erected, a beautiful sanctuary in the midst of a beautiful country.

Mr. P. J. Venoit, minister of highways for New Brunswick, subscribed $100. for the erection of the new church and George E. Graham $100 and the Rev. Father Cormier addressed the people, saying that the church would be erected on the site of the old church of St. Charles. It would be a facsimile of the church of their ancestors.

Hon. D. V. Landry, Moncton, president of the Acadian Congress, formally took possession of the plot and returned thanks to the Dominion Atlantic Railway for the gift. Men and women knelt reverently on the ground, their faces streaming down their faces, murmuring blessings on the day that had restored to them the land of their ancestors. They plucked flowers and leaves and dipped their fingers into the water, all of which were more sacred in their eyes than words could tell. The pilgrimage to Grand Pré took upon itself all the characteristics of a pilgrimage to Holy Land. In the past, said Mr. Landry, the Acadians had been reproached as an inferior people. That reproach was now eliminated. The ambition of the Acadians now was to unite in work that would make not only for the returning of progress but for the advancement of all Canada. These sentiments were the sentiments of the whole race.
