It is proposed to raise a Volunteer detachment in Toronto to serve with General Baden-Powell's Colonial Constabulary in South Africa, providing another Canadian corps is insisted upon. A number of soldiers who served with the first Contingent have signified their intention of enlisting, and there are many others who failed to get on any contingent who are anxious to go to the seat of war.

A correspondent of the Patriot writes that Mr. J. J. Beaton of East Point met with a very serious accident recently, which nearly ended fatally. He was driving across East Lake ice when right over the channel the ice broke, and both horse, sleigh and himself were precipitated into the foaming channel. For an instant everything seemed as though nothing could save either himself or horse, but after some difficulty he managed to get on the firm ice himself. The horse had broken clear of the sleigh and thus securing greater freedom in the water kept from drowning until some neighbors arrived, who as quickly as possible rescued the almost exhausted animal. Mr. Beaton experienced a somewhat bad wetting, but is none the worse of his narrow escape.

BANQUET AT TORONTO.

Col. Otter, Lieut. Col. Buchan, Lt. Col. Ryerson, Major Macdougall, Capt. Macdonald, Capt. Barker, Capt. Mason, Lieut. Temple and Wilkin, Esq. Father O'Leary and war correspondents Hamilton, Brown and Ewan were guests of honor at a public banquet held at Toronto, Thursday night attended by the governor general, Premier Ross, Postmaster General Malook and many other prominent men.

The guests of the evening were given a great ovation when their health was proposed. The governor general praised most highly the work of Col. Otter, his old comrade in arms of the Northwest rebellion, and of the Royal Canadians. Referring to the South African campaign, he reviewed the later incidents of the war, and pointed out how difficult it was to meet guerilla tactics. No European nation he said ever had such a rough nut to crack as we have had in South Africa. In closing, Lord Minto made the following significant reference to military reorganization: "Military reform is in the air throughout the empire, and with military purposes will come the opportunity for the people of Canada, as it does with the public of the old country, to say to what extent it shall go and with what honesty of purpose it shall be accomplished. Personally I should like to see far closer connection between the military forces of Canada and those of the old country. Not as all with an idea of throwing fresh obligations on Canadian troops but with the idea of throwing open to selected Canadian officers higher possibilities of imperial service." Col. Otter rose eloquent and strongly replied in response, and the banquet closed at a very late hour.
