Hands.

BY R. L. RANN.

The hand is a prehensile article which is used to impart the lodge grip, after which it is employed to touch some trustful brother for the price of a meal ticket. The correct use of the secret society clutch has enabled many a man to maintain a $5,000 front on a $700 income.

The hand is a very deceptive piece of mechanism, and can turn from peeling potatoes to slamming the door in the face of a book agent. Some hands are small and delicate and are not allowed to do anything but tickle the piano, while mother gets dinner. Others are built on the generous lines of a meat platter, and protrude nervously from the cuffs of a full dress coat.

The human hand, like the hand of the Barbadoes ape, is equipped with pink fingernails, which are re-decorated every few days by an insouciant female mechanic known as a manicure and then hung carelessly over the back of a chair. The manicure is a perfumed person in a high stock who appears quite sociable from a distance, but who treats the hand of a customer as she would any other piece of furniture.

The hand is quicker than the eye, especially at the county fair, where it is used to disconcert the open-mouthed boob with the aid of the three-shell game. It is also used with considerable success in concealing an aceful under the table.

The most restless form of hand is that of the shop-lifter, who wanders from counter to counter with submarine pockets and an innocent look. An interesting sight is an animated debate between two deaf mutes, who can talk on their hands without keeping anybody awake.

Some people have made a close study of the hand, and when entrusted with a $2 bill in advance can tell at once whether the patron is going to live a happy, care-free life or get married. For $2 additional the average palmist will fix it either way.

The old fashioned maternal hand was one which knew when it was time to substitute a sound spanking for an appeal to the affections. If there were more hands of this description there would be less whole-souled devilry in the eighth grade.

Big Fire at Jacques.

Deputy Minister of Customs LeMesurier received the accompanying message from the Sub-Collector at St. Jacques yesterday afternoon:—

"House of W. J. Burke, with surroundings, burnt to the ground last night; saved nothing; no insurance."

No word as to how the fire originated is yet to hand.

Psoriasis All Over Body

Doctors Said Incurable, But Now There is No Sign of Disease, Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. N. Massey writes:—For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me, and one of them told me anyone offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money, as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough.

The soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment is truly wonderful. Eczema, skin rheum, barber's itch, ringworm and sores of such torturing ailments are relieved at once and as certainly cured if the Ointment is used persistently. Mothers and Dr. Chase's Ointment invaluable in preventing and curing the skin troubles of babies, such as chapping, irritations of the skin and baby eczema.

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box. All dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A Narrow Escape.

A street car, No. 3, came up Water Street at a smart clip at 4.20 p.m. yesterday, not heeding the motorman's going crossed the street opposite Steer Bros., within a few feet of the car. The power was reversed and the brakes closed down instantly, but the momentum of the car took it forward and one of the men was thrown in on the fender and the other was hurled over near the sidewalk. Had not the motorman acted so promptly both might have been killed.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

TRY THE SUNLIGHT

"Please Don't"

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Magistrate Scott is out in the Sun of the 5th Inst. treating himself and Chief Justice Horwood to a little taffy.

In "summing up" at the close of the Court here the Chief Justice declared that bulls are at large in this country contrary to law, and the authorities must enforce the law and have them put in pound. We do not blame the Chief Justice, however, for if it were brought to his notice he could do no other than advise the enforcement of the law. But we do blame the long-tongued idle gossips that drew the Chief's attention to the matter.

Bulls have been at large in this community since it was first inhabited, to general profit, and not to the injury of young or old, nor to the dissolution of the moral fabric of the most straight-laced for "to the pure all things are pure," and if it should now happen that bulls have to be kept enclosed then all the fishing classes, and in fact all but a few merchants, will have to kill their cows and heifers, which will be an incalculable loss to the people of the town, and living will be made that much poorer, for many, very many, who do not keep cows find it very helpful to be able to buy milk and cream for their families. I presume over two hundred milk cows on Twillingate Islands, and I do not know of a farm, with sufficient fodder to maintain a bull, in good condition, even during the best months of summer, much less in the early spring and late autumn. There would, therefore, be less than nothing to feed any cows that may be paid to graze on the enclosure. No, if our bulls have to be pounded it simply means they will have to be fed the whole year round, and a man will have to be paid to look after them the whole year. Even then the service would be very poor and weak, if not diseased. Further, it is said that Government officials are under paid. If that is the case, then it becomes necessary to economize in every way. So the authorities should allow our harmless young bulls to promenade as usual, and not imprison them, entailing great loss to citizens, and heavy costs to the taxpayers.

Our Magistrate, in his letter to the Sun, says "Harbor Rock" is the "Freshest" thing alive. What a pity he is out of politics, for then he might be more personal. However, it is not given to all to marry into good families, and be remembered in the bequests of a large estate, nor be privileged to draw on the public exchequer. Having had only meagre opportunities, I find it hard to advance beyond the ordinary.

What a lot it must take to run a Government, when one considers the amount of necessities, for them the delicacies required for so many picnics. I see by the papers that "His people" will soon have to bow their hard-working Premier off again to Washington. Oh, my, how annoying it must be to Sir Edward to be away from home so much! I would not blame him if he'd resign. Again who can stand Washington society? What a lot
