AMERICAN RUGBY IS

Cousins Have Undergone Annual Renovation

Trying to Make U. S. College Game More Like Canadian Rugby

Touchdowns Count Six Points: End Zones Provided; Other Changes

(By Joe Price.) The American football rules are out. Maybe this does not mean any-thing to you, but if you ever lived on the other side of the line and had anything to do with Rugby, it does. The Americans every year put their football rules through a thorough renovating process. Each year they aim to make the game just a little more perfect and a little less brutal. American football tie less brutal. American football players of five years ago might go back home now and have the fun of learning a new game. About the only staple thing about American Rugby is the ball. The same kind of ball has been used ever since the game was adopted from their British cousins. The game itself is fearfully and wonderfully changed.

To those who happened to have fol become more like the Canadian game this year than ever before. The actual changes are:

A field of 100 yards instead of 110, the extra ten yards used as end zones back of each goal, where forward passes may be received.

The addition of a fourth down to gain ten yards.
The kick-off from the forty yard on kickouts the opponents will line Competed in Running Races, up on the twenty yard line instead of the twenty-five yard line. Intermissions between first and sec-ond and third and fourth periods reduced to one minute.

Forward passes may be of any length, but must be made from five yards behind the line.

The onecde kick has been discarded. The rules do away with the checker-board field, and it is again a gridiron. Touchdowns count six points.

Goals from touchdowns one point.

Goal from field four points.

Safety by opponents two points.

Hurdling in the line is defined as jumping over a man with both feet or knees foremost, within five yards of either side where the ball is put in play.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—The Toronto Althletic public was treated to a novelty at the second annual meet of the Toronto Playground Association yesterday when over one hundred grils competed, along with the boys in the longest list of events, 76, ever run off in a single afternoon in Canada. The girls competed with the checker-board field, and it is again a gridiron.

New York, Sept. 16—Chicago defeated in the running races, broad and high jumps, and in a tug-of-war. A novelty in the way of classifying boys' events was that of grouping them according to weight instead of age. Every boy was knees foremost, within five yards of either side where the ball is put in play.

Should a forward pass touch the ground in the end zones, it shall count as a touch back.

The above are the principal changes this year. There are several other of more or less importance, but if you are sufficiently interested, you may get a copy of the rules, which are just out. But when you look at the rules, you will agree with the writer in wishing the committee had drafted its views in regular English, instead of phraseology about as clear as a hypothetical quesabout as clear as a hypothetical ques-This belief is by no means strong-

WILL the Ontario Hockey association accept the application of the Hamilton Hockey club for membership? For many years the Eastern newspapers have held up the O.H.A. as a goddess of all that HAMILTON HOCKEY is good and practical in THE O.H.A. But supposing the new hockey league does organize successfully, and that the western section of the N.H.A. materializes; won't there be some pumpkins in the hockey world this winter. All told, there will be about fifteen senior teams, not counting the coast league. I will require about 150 players to give them all complete teams. About 60 senior players are available, apart from the amateurs, or a little less than half the number required.
