BEST OF MORNING

Grand Form in Trial at Woodbine.

REPLY TO THE CHURCHES PLATERS RUN POORLY

Promoters Will Begin Preparations Both Frolic and Parade Negotiats Disappointing Trials-Looks Very Bright For Seagram.

Toronto, May 20 .- The Star says: If ward the Jeffries and Johnson fight was definitely settled today by District Attorney Flekert, who declared that there was no legal grounds for interference.

"If the contestants comply with the provisions of the code and the ordinance, he said, "It is not within my power, the said, "It is not within my power, the sheriff, to prohibit the fight. I have read the articles of agreement between Jefries and Johnson, and they are in all respects within the statutes.

Which is it?

It is impossible for me to produce the said and work counts for anything, two King's work counts for anything, two King's Platers were thrown into the discard this morning at the Woodbine.

They were Robert Davies' Frolic and W. Meagher's Parade.
Frolic came down from Thorncliffe with the reputation of being a real good filly. So good did the stable handlers think of her that Chaparrai, the other entry, was held for next year's event and thrown out of training.

Frolic was worked with Fair Annie, and was sent a mile and an eighth. The ries and Johnson, and they are in all respects within the statutes.

Which is it?

It is impossible for me to pre-determine whether there will be a violation of the statute. If, during the fight, the printipular or their representatives violate the law, they will be punished. As has been stated by the courts, both in this country and in England, it is a question for a jury to determine whether such a contest is a sparring match, or a prize fight.

"If a majority of the people of the state of California are against professional sparring exhibitions, the remedy lies with the legislature."

The provided and they are in all respects out of training.

Frolic was worked with Fair Annie, and was sent a mile and an eighth. The pair were full of running the first portion of the journey, but right early started to stop. They ran the mile in 1:50, and went the mile and an eighth in 2:04. An ordinary horse could have worked a lot faster without trying very much. It does not look as if Frolic has a look-in in the big event on opening day.

Parade a Disappointment.

And then there was Parade. When he was brought to the Woodbine course a couple of weeks ago he opened the eyes of the railbirds, and all of them gave him a possible chance in the plate. This a possible chance in the plate. This morning, however, he worked with Lyndhurst, and although urged at all portions of the journey worked rather disappointingly. The pair worked the six decision of the district attorney. He expressed himself as delighted, and said the promoters would begin detailed preparation for the contest immediately. The decision was in a reply to the church federation that the district attorney take steps to prepart the first.

necessary in a long race.

It is the general opinion of everybody now that neither Frolic nor Parade will prove to be a factor in the King's Plate. TO STOP FAKED FIGHTS

Tomorrow morning the Seagram and Valley Farm nominations will do their final work, and it looks from other states. trailey Farm nominations will do their final work, and it looks from either of these stables, with the opinions of the experts favoring the Seagram entrants. In fact, so pronounced is it that it would not be surprising if the black and gold would run one, two.

Detective a Good Horse.

Frame-Ups.

Detective a Good Horse.

There is going to be on real good horse ready when the barrier is sprung. There is going to take a hand in regulating prize fights in San Francisco. He declares he will stop any fight in which the contestants are of unequal skill, and when there is any sign of faking.

"I am convinced the Moran-McCarthy and Papke-Thomas fights should never have been held," said he.

"It was almost as bad as sending a professional against an amateur."

Would run one, two.

Detective a Good Horse.

There is going to be on real good horse ready when the barrier is sprung. And that is Detective. Trainer Boyle has made a lot of use of the good son of Meddler and Admiration, but this morning he was razor edge, so to speak. He was full of running, and although under restraint for the first portion of his trial, was simply flying at the end. Just breezing the first part, he worked in a half-mile in: 52 3-5, and then went on without trouble, running like a whirl-wind the latter portion of it. In the run through the stretch he opened the regulars' eyes, winding up the mile in eves, winding up the mile in regulars' eyes, winding up the mile in 1:43 2-5, the last quarter in 24 seconds

TECUMSEH PARK

While Detective's work was rather than markable, it could have been faster had the track at the Woodbine been rolled. The course is in excellent shape, but it is very slow. The horses in training should be working miles around 1:49 just about now if the track did not "cup" as

A NARROW ESCAPE Cubs' Second-Sacker in a Fatal Auto

Collision. Chicago, May 20.—John J. Evers, whom every baseball fan in the United States knows as "Johnny" Evers, second baseman of the Cubs, came near death tonight when an automobile he was driving was struck and badly wrecked by a Van Buren street car. Four passengers were in the machine, which belongs to Evers, and one of them, George A. Mc-Donald, a baseball writer, was thrown to the pavement and fatally injured. His skull was fractured and he suffered internal injuries. Evers escaped with a few scratches and bruises. The others in the auto were not hurt.

Yale Motorcycle Holds the World's Record For

Endurance The Yale team of three riders won the Chicago Motorcycle Club Endurance Contest, July 9, 10, and 11, with carburetor, vibrator, battery-box and spark-plugs sealed; 600 miles without a single adjustment, making a perfect score with every seal intact. Average speed twenty miles per hour. Conceded by all contestants to be the most severe contest ever held. What the Chicago Tribune says is: "The Yale team, composed of S. J. Chubbuck, W. W. Ingram and A. R. Oberwegner, was awarded a perfect score and declared the winner of the silver loving cup, by the technical committee in the 600-mile endurance run held under the auspices of the Chicago Motorcycle Club, which was completed on Sunday. The Excelsion team was given second place, the Harley-Davidson trio third, Pierce fourth, and the Armac team fifth. When the committee examined the machines of the winning trio it could not discover a single defect in the mechanism, while in the others penalties were levied for various reasons."
