London, June 19.—One hundred Canadian Boy Scouts arrived yesterday and attracted much attention. Frequent showers through the day did considerable damage to the street decorations. Hand Was Injured.

While working on a press at the Beck Cigar Box Factory on Saturday, Frederick Allen, one of the employees, lost his right hand caught in the machinery, badly smashing it. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. Wishart found it necessary to amputate the hand and first finger. It required many stitches to close up the wounds.

A Garden Party.

A gala time is expected at the garden party to be held tomorrow evening on the grounds at the Church of the Redeemer, corner Adelaide and Grosvenor streets. A good orchestra is to be in attendance. Possibly a number of citizens do not know that from this elevated point in our city can be obtained an excellent view of the city. The numerous trees intermingled with the many hydro-power lights, present a very beautiful and attractive picture.

A Trip to the West.

Enjoyable Outing.

The London Life Insurance Company gave their employees an outing to the shore of the exposure of food for sale bylaw, which the council has in hand, will you permit me, through the medium of your very valuable daily, to point out that, although an excellent measure, it is of little importance, compared with other matters which could with advantage be taken up by the board of health, for example, a more thorough system of inspection of meat, which supplies for the people. The present system in Ontario is only of use where meat is exported. Home consumers are left practically unprotected.

Steps should be taken to make certain that no tubercular cattle and hogs are slaughtered, and their meat placed on the market, or that milk from tubercular cows does not find its way to the baby's bottle or the dining-table.

Again, we have no system of garbage removal. Consequently, garbage, including decayed vegetable refuse, etc., is often distributed all over the city. True, the freetholders have this matter down some few years ago, but should such an urgent necessity be referred to the freetholders? There are freetholders who will turn every bylaw down which involves the expenditure of money, no matter how desirable such bylaw might be, just as they keep their houses in an insanitary condition rather than go to the expense of putting in modern conveniences, and doing urgent repairs to sewers, etc. There are houses not far from the city hall where the yards are so small that the sets are quite near the dining room windows—a most objectionable state of affairs.

A Former Londoner.

Peterboro Examiner: On Monday, June 12, Mr. L. T. H. Ardel, who was united in marriage to Miss Gooding on the 14th inst., had the occasion handsomely recognized by the manager and staff of the Dominion Bank with which he is connected. With many complimentary remarks and cordial congratulations they presented him with a handsome solid gold hunting case, containing a watch, bearing the recipient's monogram, also a fob and diamond stick pin. The watch bore the inscription: "Presented to L. T. H. Ardel by the manager and staff of the Dominion Bank June 14, 1911." Mr. Ardel was formerly a resident of London.

Church Improvements.

Important improvements, involving an expenditure of about $1,000, and including a new organ and structural changes in the interior, are planned for the interior of the Church of the Redeemer, corner Adelaide and Grosvenor streets. The work will be gone ahead with at once. It is expected that the organ will be ready by Easter next. When the alterations are completed, the church will be a lot in front of the pastor, the idea being to place them so that they will be in the line of the congregation and encourage all to sing. There will be a new entrance built to the church and new steps. The congregation has been very active in the present time looking over the specifications of three organ builders, and the contract will be awarded as soon as possible.

MASS WILL BE SUNG FOR KING GEORGE V.

In Honor of Coronation Catholics May Also Eat Meat on Friday.

The announcement was made in the Roman Catholic churches of the city yesterday that on Thursday next, Coronation Day, masses will be sung for the intentions of His Majesty King George.

It was also announced that in honor of the King, Catholics will be allowed to eat meat on Friday next.

In the Cathedral and St. Mary's Church glowing tributes were paid to His Majesty and the Empire.

"King George," said Rev. Father Tobin in St. Mary's Church, "is the first monarch in three hundred years to ascend the throne of his country, the Empire of ours without insulting his Catholic subjects by terminating their centuries old rights of worship. It is a well-known fact that the late King Edward found this oath distasteful, and very valuable for the people. In the British Empire Catholics enjoy the greatest religious and civil liberty—the greatest of any country in the world."

CORONATION IN LONDON CHURCHES

His Majesty King George Eulogized in Many Pulpits.

IT WAS FLOWER SUNDAY

Special Services in Several Edifices—Feast of Corpus Christi in the Catholic Churches.

The approaching coronation was directly or indirectly touched upon yesterday by a great many of the city pastors, and in several of the churches fine programmes of special patriotic music were rendered by the choirs.

At Dundas Centre Church Sunday night Rev. Dr. Manning preached a special sermon on the coronation. He pointed out the importance of the event to all.

"The crown," he said, "represents all our ideals of justice and mercy and law. The service is adapted so that every symbol of sacredness is used in it. The greatest of all things is religion, and the most supreme moment in a man's life is his most religious moment. So it is with a nation. We have the best of kings. He is an Englishman, who knows our laws, the English people, and is loved by them. He had an English father, and preserves the best traditions of our Empire. If we would know his merits, we have but to contrast him and his court with those of corrupt and unprincipled rulers. The court of our King is pure, and he has about him statesmen, not corrupt favorites. His authority extends beneficently to all parts of the empire, to include the Queen in all this. Every virtue and merit that King George has belongs also to his royal consort. What is honor to them is honor to us, for their decadence means our decadence."

The choir, under the direction of Mr. J. Parnell Morris, rendered the beautiful coronation anthem, "Zadok the Priest," and Mr. W. H. Skinner sang the new coronation song, "Hail, King George."

A beautiful service, and one which was enjoyed by hundreds of happy children and a large number of adults, was observed at the First Methodist Church yesterday morning in honor of Flower Sunday and Children's Sunday.

At Friday and Saturday the Sunday school pupils had been gathering wild flowers and decorating the church, preparatory for yesterday's service, and the pupils and choir left for the coronation service at the cathedral, where they were to sing the coronation anthem, "Zadok the Priest," and Mr. W. H. Skinner sang the new coronation song, "Hail, King George."

The teachers all took the following pledge:

"Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength and wisdom, I promise to study my Bible thoroughly, to endeavor to teach my scholars intelligently and faithfully, and strive to be regular and prompt in attendance, seeking by prayer and example to win my scholars for Christ."

Mr. C. W. then preached a splendid sermon, taking as his theme "The Mirror." Holding a looking-glass up to himself, he compared its similarities to life, pointing out that it was an imitator which threw back whatever was thrown at it. People, he said, get the same result in life. If we smile on the world we get smiles back, but if we frown we are frowned upon. The mirror, he said, is an imitator, and therefore very like little children, who invariably follow the examples set by older people. He cautioned grown-ups to be very careful of their behavior, as children constantly looked to them and did as they did. Like the mirror, he said, boys and girls are reflectors of what they see. They reflect either credit or discredit upon themselves and their parents. In concluding, he urged all to take Christ as the one great model and pattern their lives by Him.

Corpus Christi Sunday was observed yesterday in the Roman Catholic churches throughout the diocese. At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning after the celebration of high mass, Bishop Fallon preceded by the altar boys, carried the blessed sacrament about the grounds. Immediately behind him came Monsignor Aylward, Fathers Tierney and Odrowski, and all the members of the various church societies.

A similar procession was held at St. Mary's Church, where the blessed sacrament was carried by Father McKeown.

The Territorial Band from Toronto, made up of 25 young men, gave a concert in the Salvation Army Citadel last night which was greatly enjoyed by a very large audience. During the afternoon the band was present at a service conducted in the Y. M. C. A. by Commissioner Reeves for young people.

At St. Andrew's Church last night Rev. Dr. Ross preached upon the coronation, and the musical service was made up of special patriotic numbers, which were excellently rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles E. Wheeler.

At Talbot Street Baptist Church, Dr. Chubb's sermon was a certain and guarantee of success, and every soul was saved.
