GERMANS FAIL

Unable To Turn British Left, Their Advance Is Checked.

[Canadian Press.] London, April 28-The German design to turn the left of the British position at Ypres and drive the Allies out of Belgium has failed, according to the Times correspondent in the north of France. He says that, while the battle still is raging furiously, the German advance has been definitely checked, a deep-laid plan to force a passage of the Yser Canal has failed, and the Allies again are firmly established on the eastern side of the canal. Large reinforcements have been brought up and the new line has been strengthened and consolidated. The correspondent declares there are signs that the German offensive already is weakening.

TRYING TO BREAK GAP. Paris, April 28.—The offensive assumed by the Germans in the Ypres region has given rise to the report that they are about to undertake another carefully planned attempt to force their way to Calais, Military authorities are cautious, however, in accepting this suggestion as an explanation for the Germans recent

The magnitude of the forces concentrated by the Germans on such a limited front cannot be explained, it is believed here, by a mere desire to keep the Allies active. The opinion is expressed that it was and perhaps still is their purpose to break a large gap in the Allies' lines, preparatory to a more important under-
