

THE TORONTO WORLD
WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 21, 1887.

THE MAYORALTY.

your Vote and Influence

Are Respectfully Solicited for
ALD. BERGE
AS MAYOR FOR 1888.

Mr. Wiman with the Mask Off.
When Mr. Wiman happens on the side of the border he is all for promoting Canadian interests, and talks about this and that, but when he is all for promoting American interests, he is all for promoting American interests.

Mr. George Laidlaw said the writer of the article in the Mail of Saturday, the subject is Commercial Union, which Mr. Laidlaw, like a true friend of the country, vigorously opposes. The Mail took a column and a half to refute what it calls "the loyal argument," as if there were only one that Mr. Laidlaw had in his mind.

the multiplying of competing roads, but through the monopoly of one, tempered with at least enough Government control to secure the good of the country. Railway monopoly, World Government control.

The City Council did a wise thing on Monday night in accepting Ald. Dodds' resolution, by an almost unanimous vote, not to close any contract with the Great Pacific and Pacific Manufacturing Company of Toronto.

Commercial Union and the Farmers.
The Editor of the Mail writes that Mr. Laidlaw has a polished expression and reasoning in favor of Commercial Union, which is a "hoop" of the most brilliant kind.
