

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache. "After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Ottawa Citizen—The Germans announce that if the worst comes to the worst, they will "borrow" copper from the churches. This would seem to indicate that the Sunday collections are the same the world over.

It is not likely many Canadians know just where Denbeath is, yet though it is merely a speck on the map of England it is important. Denbeath is in Fifeshire, the constituency of Mr. Asquith; it has a total population of 2,500, and of these 1,000 have enlisted. In all Denbeath there is not now one eligible man who has not joined the colors.

The Chicago Tribune, discussing Germany's new naval war zone, says that no warring nation can afford to mistake a neutral vessel for a billigerent one and send her and crew to the bottom. "Germany," it says, "seems to be trying to establish a practical blockade by intimidation, by emphasizing the possible dangers when neutral shipping may encounter if a mistake in identification should occur."

It is not to be supposed that Patriotism and Production means increased production alone; it means also proposed production. Neither does the phrase or term mean that anybody assumes to teach anybody else how to conduct his own affairs. It is merely founded on the plain and acknowledged fact that nobody is so wise that nobody else can give him a hint or suggestion of value in some department of his business. It is always possible to be too rigidly self-contained.

Petersburg, Virginian.—We received from an unknown friend a pair of turkey feet. During the time we have been running this paper we have received many things complimentary, such as dried pumpkins, fodder beans, frozen potatoes and rabbits, but the pair of turkey feet is the limit. Darn a fellow who would eat the turkey and send the poor editor the feet.

Shipments of Canadian wheat to the British Isles for the year 1914 constituted a record. The total arrivals of Canadian wheat during that period were 41,447,090 cwt., as compared with 21,787,900 cwt. the year previous. From only one country did the imports of wheat exceed those from Canada, and that was the United States, which was credited with 34,220,166 cwt. There have, however, been decreases in the shipments of oats, barley and flour from Canada. Canadian frozen fish have now established a market in Great Britain, and a good trade has been done recently in Canadian turkeys.

Now is Canada's opportunity to make good her boast that she is the granary of the Empire. Many of her young men are displaying a martial turn and hastening to offer themselves, to sacrifice themselves, in the cause they have at heart. But there is even a deeper duty resting on this country. That duty, well fulfilled, while helping others, cannot fail to help ourselves. We shall be abundantly paid for all we do, and in doing will possess the proud sense of serving the right. To neglect the opportunity for improved production is to not only fall short of the call of patriotism, but to be guilty of a crime. We have the soil, we have the resources, we have the energy to justify our claim to be the Granary of the Empire.

The world situation of the present day is such that no liberty-loving person should count any honorable or helpful service he or she can render to the strengthening of the cause of the allied nations as unreasonable. There is no need for vituperation nor any wordy abuse of the enemy, but there is need for a steady and quiet facing to the path of duty and self-denial and, if need be, self-sacrifice. So far Canada has not felt the grizzly burden of the war as other lands have, but if necessity comes we trust and believe that we shall not fail to do all we ought to do and more. It is a sad and sorry task, but it must be put through.—The Presbyterian.

Publicity is the strength of every movement. It is characteristic of the Patriotism and Production campaign that the best is being done to shine in the glare of the big white light. All known means are being utilized to reach the people, that they may be encouraged, not so much to extend as to improve production. It is unavoidable that prices should vary. This is not entirely owing to speculation, but also due considerably to conditions of the period. Of this one great fact not only agriculturists, but all classes, may be assured, that with a large section of Europe devastated, and even shipping channels closed, the great output of Russia effectually blocked, and production minimized by reason of the demands of war upon man and beast, there must be for things Canadian an upward and a permanently upward trend. Latterly, in some things there has been a rush to market, consequent upon money tightness, which, with the curtailment of facilities for shipment across the seas, has led to a drop in price. But that can only be temporary. Demand will, must and always does come to its own.

Speaking before the Experimental Farm Superintendents recently assembled in convention at Ottawa, Mr. Geo. H. Clark, Dominion Seed Commissioner, sounded a note which is of special interest at the present crisis in Canadian agriculture. In prefacing his address he said: "Unfortunately farming during the last ten years or more has been less attractive to young men of good ability and to capital than other industries in urban centres. The problem of farm labor has been an exceedingly perplexing one and in consequence farm systems have been modified so as to require the minimum of labor for the maximum yield of net returns. City industries have completely outbid the farm in the matter of labor, and it is probably true that at least one-third of city working men have had experience in farming. I would like to say to those men now that if the opportunities in the city looked brighter during the past ten years, the next ten years, in my judgment, assuredly belong to the farm, and the sooner they realize that the better for themselves and for all concerned."

Village Money

There must be a lot of easy money loitering around the small towns of Ontario, wistfully longing to get out and experience life and adventure in the big world. The ease with which village money can be enlisted for distant adventure is pretty well shown in the evidence now being taken in a case in court. A man in his own town can go from office to office from one end of the main street to the other without being able to borrow five hundred dollars to put into his business unless he can give a first mortgage for the loan or give security far in excess of what ought to be required.

But a stranger can hop off the afternoon train, ask the bus-driver the names of those in town who are locally supposed to have money buried in their gardens, and three hours later he can leave the town with dollars in cash and with names signed up for additional thousands to undertake that have the same value as promissory notes. All the stranger needs to bring with him is blank forms, highly legal in appearance, and red seals that glitter with vast impressiveness. When the stranger arrives in town his grip sack is filled with glowing prospectus when he leaves it is filled with solid certainties.

Of course, we would not think of denying that there is big money to be made in places far away. Nor would we despise the statement that to make big money a man must take chances. But we would point out that it often happens that when a man thinks he is taking chances, he isn't getting a chance at all. We do not wish to say anything that would tend to make money timid, but what we cannot make out is why money that is always so timid around home that its very existence is unknown to the neighbors, can be persuaded to leave home on the most dare-devilish enterprises and take chances that the money at Monte Carlo would shrink from. Perhaps if small town capital would turn in and take a few chances right at home the local towns would flourish more than they do.—Toronto Star.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

An item is going the rounds of the Ontario press to the effect that Countess Zeppelin, wife of the inventor of the German aircraft, is a daughter of the late W. H. MacGarvey, formerly of Petrolia, who died recently in Austria, where he had become one of the leading oil magnates of the country. Miss MacGarvey, who was born in the Village of Wyothe in 1875, and went to Europe with her father at an early age, became the wife of Count Zeppelin's son, Lieut. Zeppelin, an officer in the German army.

Closed the Hotel

An example of the absolute which the British officers in have been given over the young American artist now aples. Two English Colonels at the Hotel de la Gare, They told some of the Art staying there they had not a bed for three weeks. The smoothed their orderly to rooms for them, and turned it dining-room. The orderly but the landlady—who has making a small fortune at war—proceeded to give the other travellers who arrived after the Colonels, and from she thought she would get money.

When the Colonels found their rooms were gone, they sued the landlady. One of them her with his monocle and a perfect French, "Your hotel is for the rest of the war." There the matter rested couple of hours, but a few Americans managed to get the straightened out by having the lady apologize, and having so give up their rooms to the C. The British power is absolute just, and quite in accord with reasonable rights of French. The British pay so well for thing that they are quite their way into the hearts of French peasants.

Potash in Agriculture

For many years the St. mines in Germany have been the sole source of the compounds used in this element on this continent. An evil effects resulting from the war, therefore, may be counted cutting off from the markets world the supply of this mineral. Dr. Shutt, dominion chemist, in this circumstance as not so as some may consider. In Canada his views before the fact placed, Dr. Shutt has issued Jar No. 7 of the Experimental "Potash in Agriculture." It up the subject under several and reaches the following conclusions:—

"It is only our light, sandy, gravelly soils that are markedly deficient in potash and this element only specially called for by potatoes, roots and leafy crops generally. There is yet some potash in the market though it will probably be purchased in the future a complete fertilizer. We have several Canadian sources of potash able to the farmer—notably manure, wood ashes and sea—materials rich in this useful constituent and which are more readily obtainable in many parts of the Dominion. And lastly the indirect potassic fertilizer which, though not adding to the total of the soil's potash, yet serve a useful purpose by liberating it in available forms and times such as the present may be to tide us over until potash pounds are once more upon the market."
